WILL ACQUIRE NEW SITE FOR BUILDING

Detailed Plans For New Cas-

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Machinery to bring about the actual appropriation of money for a new post office for New Castle was set in motion today when the house appropriations committee reported favorably to the house the second deficiency appropriation bill recommending an appropriation of $525,000 for the acquisition of a site and the construction of a new building in the city.

Hearings on the bill before the committee made public today reveal that the treasury department plans to acquire a new site in New Castle and to build a structure of two stories and basement, having a ground area of approximately 17,000 square feet. The building will be stone faced and of fire proof construction.

The new structure would provide the following space: 15,240 feet for the post office, 1,000 feet for the civil service, 400 feet for the labor department, 625 feet for the internal revenue bureau, 400 feet for the war department and 500 feet for the navy department.

May Trade Sites.
The paragraph in the appropriation bill asking a new post office for New Castle carries two proposals. One of these would provide for the acquisition of a site and the construction of a building within a limit of cost of $525,000 and the second specifies that the secretary of the treasury might exchange the present post office and site for a new site, the limit of cost of this project to be $300,000.

Under these arrangements the treasury department can either sell the present post office property and (Continued On Page Two)

Agrees To Appear

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—With Governor Gifford Pinchot having agreed to appear as a witness before the senate committee investigating the public service commission no real developments today were looked for prior to that time. The governor expects to appear next Monday. If not then, a week later.

Meanwhile, the committee which already has held two hearings to discuss the truth of the Pinchot charges can make little progress. At hearings today additional attaches of the commission will be given an opportunity to testify.

The invitation to the governor was presented personally by a delegation of the senate judiciary committee. Pinchot, in reply to an earlier written invitation, had indicated willingness to appear but had predicated such appearance on the adoption of a program which he himself outlined.

Pinchot Is Needed.
C. J. Hepburn, counsel for the committee board, at yesterday's hearing predicted that probing of all the Pinchot charges would require millions of dollars and years of time. It was Hepburn who urged the board to make every effort to get Pinchot to appear, even if they had to "plead with him".

Immediately after close of the senate hearing Senators Buckman, Rial, McClure, Weinartner and Woodward went to the executive mansion to urge the governor to appear. Instead of the refusal which they had expected, the governor seemed willing to accede to their request. The governor intends to have Judge George Woodruff special counsel for public utilities investigation, accompany him to the hearing.

The resolution authorizing the senate investigation fixed March 10 as the time for a formal report to the entire senate but the time can be extended by amendment.

Martin Battles Extradition To Cleveland Today

Habeas Corpus Hearing Set
For Pittsburgh Court
Today

COUNSEL CONTENDS CLIENT IS VICTIM

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—"Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin's last-ditch fight to avoid removal to Cleveland where he is wanted for the murder of former councilman William E. Potter reached its final today in a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Joseph Stadfeldt in common pleas court.

Samuel S. Rosenberg, head of the legal talent arrayed in Martin's behalf, was basing his argument for granting of the writ on the plea that Hymie had been arrested without sufficient evidence and, in being identified as the occupant of the apartment where Potter's body was found, Hymie was the victim of a mistaken identification.

It has been a losing battle thus far for Hymie. Following his arrest in Pittsburgh, a murder warrant was issued in Cleveland and yesterday Governor Gifford Pinchot approved Hymie's extradition to Ohio. Photographs of Martin and Mrs. Mary Outland, Akron blonde were identified yesterday by John W. Echeberry, merchant policeman, and Patrick Bottoroff, Jr., night manager of a restaurant at Kent, O., as those of a man and woman who visited the restaurant a few hours after the killing.

Police of three states, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, have been baffled in their search for Mrs. Outland.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—President Hoover today threw his influence squarely against the soldiers' loan bill. The President wrote a letter to Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, outlining his objections to the measure, and intimating that a veto awaits it when it reaches the White House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The growing tide of National sentiment in favor of the $700,000,000 soldier's bonus "loan" bill today led administration leaders to hope President Hoover will sign it after Congress enacts the measure into law.

In the face of persistent rumors that Mr. Hoover will veto the bill, it was learned his party leaders, almost without exception, are urging him to accept it. They were aided by a relief among many New York business leaders that enactment of the measure would not disturb present business conditions and would aid the situation in the future by removing a perplexing economic question from the field of politics.

Leaders In Favor
Several of the nation's outstanding banking and business kings were reported to have communicated this sentiment to the White House. It was the feeling held by most of the President's spokesmen in the Senate.

Administration leaders were partly moved by the knowledge that the bill's advocates command so overwhelming a majority in both the House and Senate, that both branches of Congress will enact it over a veto. This information has been communicated to the President and his advisers warned a veto would be a futile gesture of opposition.

This was the situation as the Senate finance committee met to pass upon the bill, but with the Senate determined to begin its consideration during the afternoon regardless of committee deliberations.

MADRID, Feb. 18.—Determined to continue his reign as absolute monarch of Spain, King Alfonso XIII today defied his implacable foes and placed the government of his country in the hands of a Royalist group headed by Admiral Juan Bautista Aznar as Premier.

Admiral Aznar's cabinet took over the reins of government from the cabinet of General D'Amasso Berenguer this afternoon, after taking the oath of allegiance to the King at the Royal Palace shortly after noon.

Thus ended, at least for the time being, the period of political uncertainty which has existed in Spain since last Saturday when General Berenguer resigned, and which led to reports of possible revolutionary movements, another military dictatorship and even abdication by the King.

Sheriff Frank N. Johnston is taking no chances on what might happen in case of an unfavorable decision by the pardon board in the cases of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, slayers of Corporal Brady Paul. He has set a watch on both prisoners, and they will be constantly under the eyes of the guard from now until a definite decision is reached with reference to their case.

Sheriff Johnston does not believe that Irene and Dague are likely to do themselves any harm, but he believes in being on the safe side and has set the watch as a precautionary measure.

Anxiety over what the pardon board will do with her case, and pleasure over the many presents she received on the occasion of her 22nd birthday yesterday, were the mingled emotions of Irene Schroeder today as she awaited a decision of the pardon board on her appeal from the death penalty imposed for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul.

Irene's good fortune on her birthday was greater than she expected. In addition to many post cards and flowers she received a black silk dress, new hat, silk stockings and several Bibles and Testaments.

James S. Benn To Be Called By Senate Probers

Member Of P. S. C. Will Get Summons To Appear
Next Monday

SENATOR WOODWARD TODAY'S WITNESS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 18. — James S. Benn, member of the Public Service Commission, will be subpoenaed to appear next Monday before the senate committee investigating the Public Service Commission.

Along with Benn the committee also will request the appearance of General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, Harry A. Mackey, Mayor of Philadelphia, Edwin R. Cox, president of county council, and three attorneys who represent the Mitten interests in Philadelphia.

Decision to issue the subpoenas followed statements made by Senator Woodward, Philadelphia, a member of the investigating board, who charged Benn with unethical conduct for a commissioner.

The testimony of those subpoenaed today will be taken in case Governor Gifford Pinchot does not appear before the committee. So far the governor has not said definitely when he will appear.

In the event of the governor's appearance the testimony of those subpoenaed will be taken later.

Woodward Witness.
At the opening of today's session Senator Woodward signified his intention of becoming the first witness of the day. Taking the floor he reviewed the fight which preceded passage of the Dalk bill which permitted the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company to condemn the underlying companies.

Woodward charged that Commissioner Benn had come to his office during the session of the legislature four years ago with a bill prepared to permit the condemnation proceeding and asked him to sponsor it in the legislature. Refusing flatly to accept Benn's suggestion Woodward said he told him at the time that he believed it was unethical for a member of the commission to peddle bills in the interest of public utility companies.

A. Jinkman and Brothers, retail clothing merchants, bought a bill of goods from a certain manufacturer. The purchase was entered on a regular order blank of the manufacturer's, a blank containing the name of the firm at the top and space for the lot and quantity of goods bought, the price and terms. The Jinkman concern bought for the spring trade, but as the season still was far off, the date for delivery was not specified in the order. When the season drew near and the quota had not yet arrived, the elder Mr. Jinkman became apprehensive. He wired the manufacturer, and after some delay received the reply that prices had been going up lately and the manufacturer, feeling the prospect of an immediate profit, had sold the goods to another customer.

The Jinkman brothers were wroth over this and sued. At the trial the manufacturer argued that the memorandum of the order wasn't valid anyway, since it did not contain his signature.

"George Washington—the Man" was the theme Julius Bloom, Senior High school student, took for his 15-minute address before the Kiwanis club of the city at its Elks club meeting early this afternoon. He paid a ringing tribute to the Father of His Country.

Musical entertainment also featured the program, with three special whistling numbers being contributed by a Greenville Kiwanian, George Lawrence, guest of the club today. Kiwanian G. C. McElhenny of Youngstown was another visitor. The membership completed arrangements for the formation of a club boxing team. Fifteen candidates for team positions will meet at a downtown recreational parlor on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. L. H. Patterson will captain the group.

Final plans were also laid for attending the inter-club dinner of the Coraopolis Kiwanis club, in the Coraopolis Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening, February 24. The club will send a large delegation, it is believed.

The speaker of the day, Mr. Bloom, was introduced by the Rev. C. G. Farr, chairman of the club's program committee.

Influenza Shows Slight Increase

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Reports checked today by Dr. J. Moore Campbell, chief of the bureau of communicable diseases, which had been received recently from more than two-thirds of the county medical directors in Pennsylvania show that the eastern section of the State is suffering from a small increase of diseases of the influenza type. Reports from the western and northern sections of the Commonwealth indicate no more than a usual incidence in diseases of this character.

Commenting on the situation, Dr. Campbell said: "There is every reason to believe that there will be a slow and comparatively unmarked increase in influenza diseases throughout the more populous and as yet unaffected sections of Pennsylvania."

"The majority of the cases appear to be mild, but it will be advisable for everyone to build up resistance, avoid contact with sufferers as much as possible and to be extremely careful so as not to make themselves receptive to the germ by indulging in enervating habits," concluded Doctor Campbell.

Paul Jones, negro letter carrier of Hempstead, L. I., who asked for a bodyguard to protect him from his wife, says that he does not care so much about himself but he hates to have the mail in danger.

STAR LORE HISTORIC ORIGIN OF THE REFLECTING TELESCOPE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
In the year 1670 Sir Isaac Newton made the discovery of the decomposition of light into the colors of the rainbow. This discovery immediately explained the great difficulty experienced with refracting telescopes known as chromatic (color) aberration (turning aside). For in all refractors there appeared color bands of blue and violet, yellow and red. The blue and violet rays come to a focus more quickly than the yellow and red, so blue and violet and yellow and red circles in the refracting instrument gave much trouble in seeing. This great difficulty led to the invention of the reflecting telescope that is entirely free from chromatic aberration.

The hat is the gift of her father, Joseph Crawford.

Several pretty bouquets were received from local people and others came from out of town. Some birthday cards came in the morning mail, but the greater part of them were received in the afternoon mail and in the morning's mail.

Bibles Sent
Several of the Bibles received had inscriptions marked. One which attracted attention was drawn is found in the 23rd Psalm. It reads:

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want
"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

"Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

Irene was visited in the county jail by her father and sisters again today. They are remaining in New Castle until after a decision is received from the pardon board.

Glenn Dague was visited again today by Rev. H. O. Teagarden of Sewallsville, O., former pastor of the Methodist church at Elm Grove, W. Va. They had a long over-reverent, expressed hopes for the future. Rev. Teagarden, in his prayers for Dague, asked for Divine guidance for the pardon board in reaching a decision.

Blaze Causes Break In Power

Faulty Lightning Arrest In Cedar Street Sub-Station Blamed For Damage

Electric power in the Seventh Ward district was shut off nearly a half hour early this morning after fire, believed caused by a faulty high power lightning arrester, burned out a 66,000 volt circuit breaker and control equipment in the yard of the Cedar street power transmission sub-station of the Pennsylvania Power Company.

Frank Wert of Youngstown, public relations head of the power company said the loss would probably be more than $3,000.

The giant circuit breaker, connected to the WCKV line which serves the power from Lowellville to Ellwood City and is a unit of the 132,000 volt power circuit from the hydroelectric plant in Toronto, Ohio, was aflame at about 6:45 a. m. today.

The fire was precipitated by the sudden destruction of one of four lightning arresters. Wert believes the arrester became faulty due to persistent bad weather during the last few days.

Streaks of artificial lightning 20 ft. in height and over, lit the sub-station district, and took on the aspect of a moving picture battle scene.

The Seventh Ward fire department was called, but firemen could do nothing until power had been shut off. Chemical extinguishers were employed and the burning of the equipment ended.

TAKE FAVORABLE ACTION ON BILL FOR POST OFFICE

Old Site Too Small.
Hearings on the deficiency bill made public today also indicate that Representative J. Howard Swick appeared before the appropriations committee to urge the desirability of locating the new post office on the site of the present building. He read a letter from a responsible resident of New Castle pointing out that the present site is best located for the mass of the city's population.

The congressman said he wanted the bill amended so that land adjoining the present site could be purchased and the buildings erected there instead of at another point.

L. C. Martin, chairman of the joint building committee of the treasury and post office departments, pointed out to Mr. Swick that the new building will be about 100 by 170 feet and will require a larger site that could be provided by the present site extended. The new building, he said will require a site about 150 by 250 feet. Agents of the treasury department have reported that the present site could not be enlarged within the limit of cost.

PLANTING TREES IN MEMORY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

THE happiest suggestion we have seen for the observance in 1932 of the bicentennial of the birth of George Washington comes from the American Tree Association. It proposes an ever-living, ever-growing monument to the father of our country—or, rather, ten million such monuments, planted by patriotic hands from ocean to ocean and perpetuating through beauty and service the loyalty of as many hearts. In this memorial all the people can participate. Every commonwealth, county and town, every neighborhood, school and home, as well as numberless individuals, can have a creative part. And when the gracious labor is finished, America will be nearer what Washington would wish it to be.

He was a lover of trees and an authority on their values. So we are reminded by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association.

The entire forestry world and the United States in particular are indebted to Mr. Pack for many admirable ideas and endeavors, but for none that chimes more aptly with the need and the sentiment of the day. Already his suggestion is being widely adopted, with the warm approval of the National Commission for the Celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington. Town forests, memory groves and roadways, and many thousands of individual trees have been planted or planned in anticipation of the 1932 bicentennial, when they will all be dedicated. To encourage the work of the American Tree Association, whose headquarters are at Washington, D. C., 1214 Sixteenth street, N. W., generously offers to send free of charge to those interested valuable information on what, when and how to plant. It announces, moreover, that it "will register on the National Honor Roll every individual or group thus planting, and will give for each planting a special George Washington Bicentennial certificate."

Pennsylvanians, no doubt, will join wholeheartedly in this patriotic program. Their Arbor Day will afford two special occasions between now and 1932; and their state is wondrously rich in native varieties of trees whose majesty or beauty makes them peculiarly appropriate as memorials to Washington.

LAME DUCKS AND PROPOSED CHANGES

Because of the pressure of other business, a lack of time and other reasons, the present session of congress is not likely to abolish lame-duck sessions, but, according to all the signs, new congresses within a few years will be convening within two months after their election and presidents will no longer be kept waiting at the white house door for five months after their election.

Amendment of the constitution is necessary to advance the congressional and presidential inaugural dates, and before the amendment can be submitted to the states for ratification congress must pass a resolution submitting the proposal. Moreover, the two branches of congress must agree on the change to be made.

Agreement has been impossible up to this time. The senate has passed five resolutions and the house none, and now the house is considering a plan differing from that given senate approval. The senate resolution would have both executive and congress begin to function early in the January following election, while the house resolution would have congress convene about January 4 and the president take office three weeks later.

Should house and senate decide a change is imperative but deadlock on what that change shall be, the prestige of neither will be increased.

SECOND SEMESTER SEASON

This is the second semester season. Represented in art the figure might appropriately show a man taking a hitch in his belt, or a runner coming into his second wind, if art is capable of depicting the latter event.

The first semester takes all the initial enthusiasm out of a student—those urges born of novelty, vanity, pride and the starting pistol. By February the young person knows what work is, and all fever and excitement have passed away.

How many of us have experienced second semester reactions in the school of life? Behind us, too, is a deal of foolishness, which came to naught, and certain solid achievements to cheer us onward into the remainder of the session.

Every frank person knows "studies" in which he has more or less failed. Perhaps the failure may have been along the line of civic opportunity, or in unwillingness to take advantage of cultural openings. The first semester may be clouded by neglect of a friend, and such things may be compensated for in the second shift.

The second semester is a time for capitalizing on past gains. Every bit of work well done, every successful experience of the earlier days, is a potential aid in solving the problems of the final lap.

What goes for school and life might also fit the present depression. For some 16 months a measure of business gloom has been upon the land. The average length of an American sag is 18 months. It begins to look as though we ought to be well along in the second semester.

RUBBER OUTLOOK

Rumors that Henry Ford was to abandon rubber planting operations on his 6,000,000-acre concession in Brazil brought speedy and emphatic denial, followed by formal announcement of a plan for reorganizing those operations on a still larger scale.

Consummation of the Ford scheme means much to both Brazil and the United States. It will bring wealth to Brazil and open up a new source of crude rubber for the United States. The stupendous American rubber industry now depends upon Asiatic and African crude rubber, which might be cut off by blockade at any time in the event of war, a disturbing threat for the world's largest single consumer of rubber.

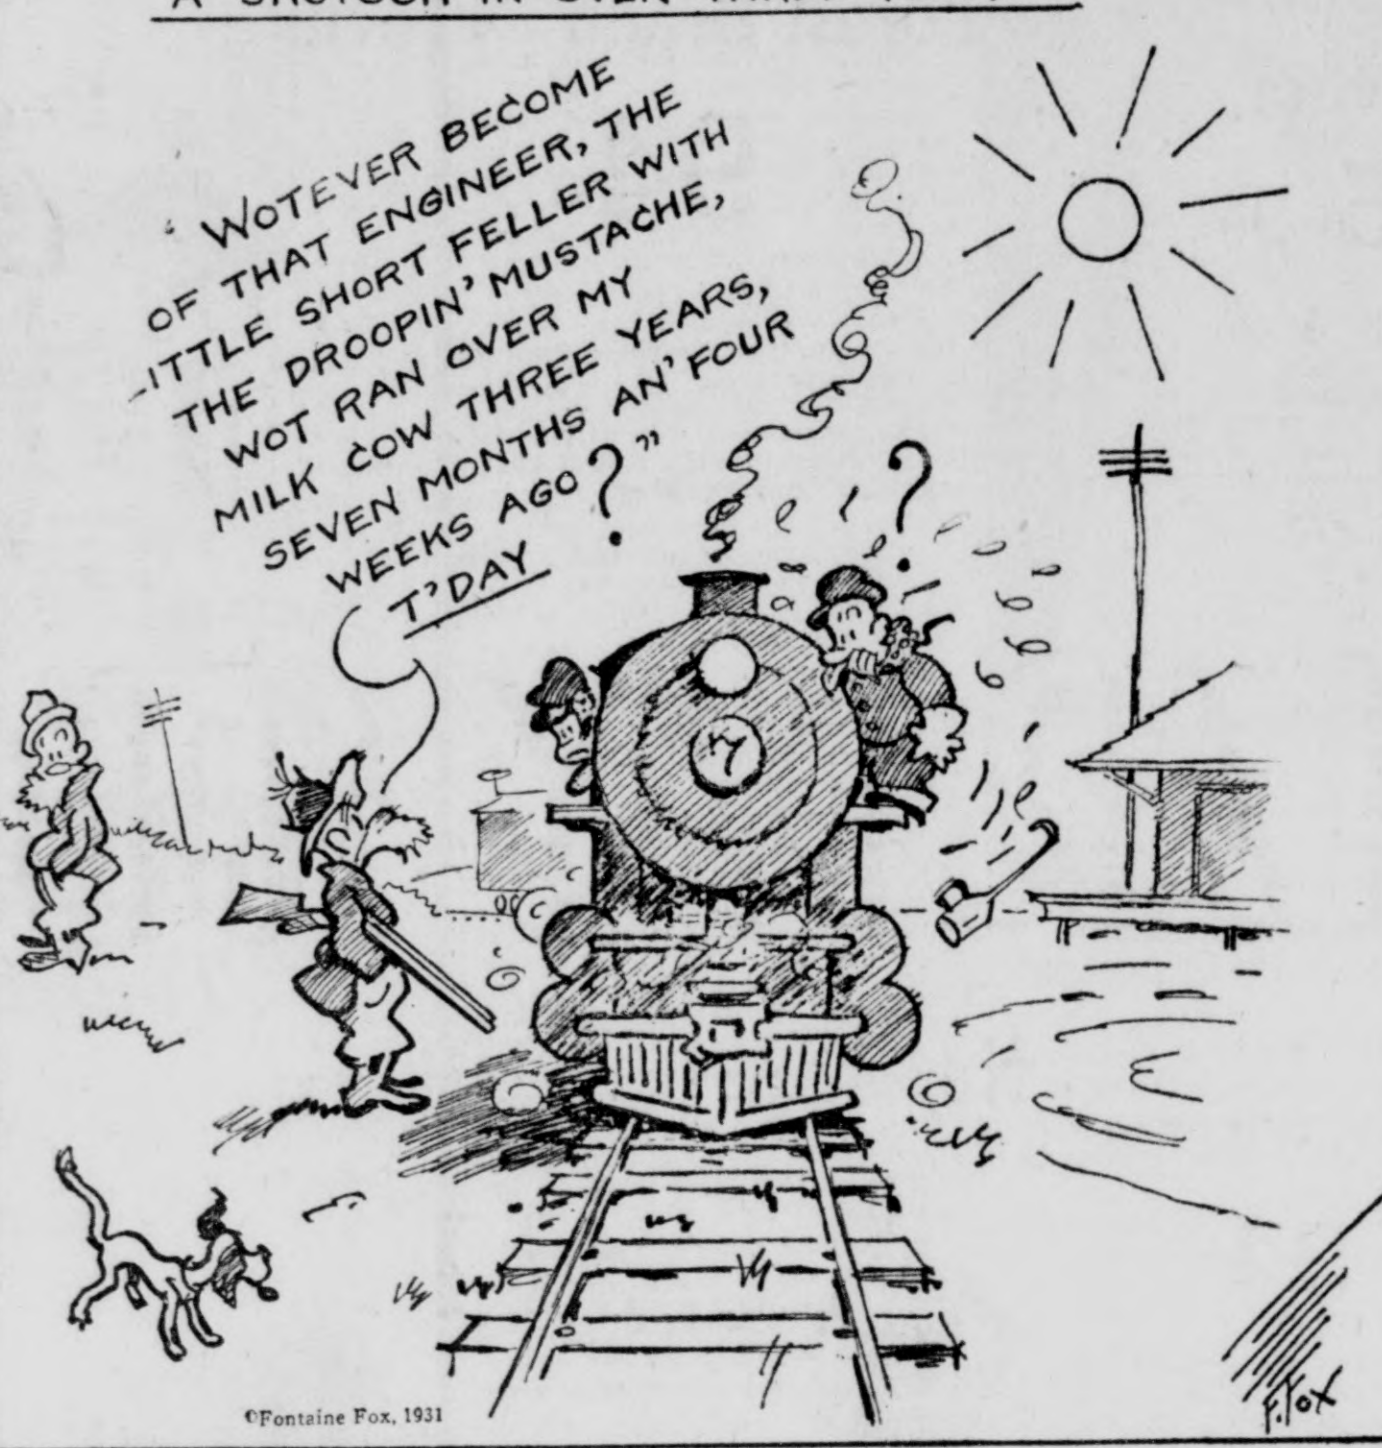

The rubber industry has in sight two other new sources of raw material. The Firestone plantations in Liberia are soon to come into active production on a commercial scale, and rubber is being produced from experimental plantings of quail in California. Something may also come of the Edison experiments in Florida.

All of these lines of action hold forth prospects of an unlimited supply of rubber and cheaper rubber. With crude rubber entering into the manufacture of hundreds of materials and articles the promise of cheap rubber concerns others besides buyers of automobile tires. There is in it the possibility of whole new industries and revolutionary changes in operations of others.

The Chance He Overlooked.
A congressman from a backwoods district was a guest at an official dinner in Washington. Telling of the occasion, he said:

"The table and the fixin's was fine but they brought us nothin' but soup. Thinks I, soup is a mighty poor dinner to go with such fixin's, but it was good and I had three plates.
"I'd no sooner done with the third than the waiters come in with the finest dinner you ever see. And that I was, chuck full of soup!"

It's A GREAT QUESTION
The middle class is the one that is able to live in public as the rich do by living in private as the poor do.

Story of a Child Mother.
If some one should have asked me yesterday whether I choose marriage or a career for my daughter, I would have said a career, as no man in the world is good enough for her. But today I would answer "marriage and children."

Why did I change my mind? An old ragged, dirty doll did. I was getting ready to take a ride. I had put on my little girl's coat, and was surprised to see her taking it off. "Don't you want to go with mother and daddy?" I asked. "Yes, mother, but we won't get cold; I's goin' to put my coat on dolly." I argued with her, trying to tell her dolls did not get cold, but when I said, "Mother, dolly'll freeze," I gave in and wrapped them both in a warm blanket and as I saw her kissing that old dirty doll, I thought "You selfish mother, would you be cruel enough to train your daughter that men are a curse, that married life is a sin, and know that she, a natural born mother, was to miss the thrill of courtship, to miss the thrill of proposal, and to miss the greatest thrill in all the world—the thrill of motherhood?" No, I wouldn't.

I shall not preach marriage, but when it comes to rob me of my only child I shall not oppose. I intend to educate my daughter and to talk to her and teach her the wrong of childhood marriage, and the trials and hardships of uneducated mothers. I shall point out that two-thirds of the little orphans in the world belong to mothers under 20 who passionately wed and all too soon to find out it was a mistake. I hope my daughter waits until she is old enough to select a husband who will be a worthy father, one who is her equal, and she won't have a past career to tell her children about, but an education to help her rear them. Now, this is exactly what I shall teach the dearest thing in this world to me—my daughter. And I want her to have that same priceless possession—a daughter of her very own.

and musician. He plays several instruments. Ames has a horse which he harnesses and drives himself. BEAUTY ISN'T PRETTY

Beauty is no valentine. Beauty isn't something pretty, something cute, something to decorate a wall and amuse you for a moment. Beauty's no butterfly. Beauty's no delicate sheen on the life we see around us. Beauty's quite different.

Men clutch at Beauty and run far across the world in its pursuit and hold at last in their hands what they thought was Beauty and see it fade even while they imprison it triumphantly. But it was not Beauty that they sought and lost. Beauty's not like that. Beauty's nothing so trivial, nothing so fleeting. Beauty is a far more massive thing.

Then what is Beauty? I'm not sure. I'm not so confident that I can put it into words, but I can try. Beauty may be homely, on the outside, it may be hard and lean and grim and outwardly repellent. It may be torturing, it may be agony, and it may be hard to recognize at first. But you always know Beauty at last. You find it at the center of the fragrant peach, you come upon it at the very kernel of life.

There is Beauty in a raging storm, and there's Beauty in the great rock that stands strongly against the destroying forces. There's Beauty in the man who grows as his heart is troubled and Beauty in the woman who faces grief and does not let it crush her to earth.

The sleepless mother bending over her poor sick child, the patient father sticking to the task he has chosen, the little ship leaving its course to rescue a foundered crew at sea, a hurt youngster keeping his pain to himself—these are the servants of Beauty.

Beauty is not something we see and desire for ourselves. Beauty is the thing we do, the way we live. And though we may be bruised and battered by life we may find it beautiful at last and far more lovely than anything we have foolishly called Beauty. Than any of those things that were pretty to the eye or soft to the touch, but had no power at all to ease any deeper pain of living.

DO YOU THINK YOU KNOW IT ALL?

A little knowledge often makes the possessor disagreeable to have around.

One of the most irritating persons is the one who frequently corrects others in trivial matters.

Usually the one most likely to offer advice in details is one who has only surface knowledge.

Little trifactions draw comment from him.

His study has been rather elementary and things of small importance appear large to him. He is not student enough to delve deeply into matters requiring real thought and concentration.

Seeking and finding small flaws is an easy undertaking.

When one is willing to spend his time debating inconsequential things he overlooks the more important matters.

The well posted on matters of importance pay little attention to those who are not in this class.

The self-appointed critic of those about him is quite likely to be one of few attainments and little knowledge but with a desire for publicity.

CHILD AND GOSSIP
If to Janet you should go
Pouring gossip in her ear:
Hinting of the debts I owe,
Still she'd call me: "Daddy, dear."

If you mentioned that my hat
Is a faded thing and old
She could not be changed by that.
Still she'd run my hand to hold.

If you told her deeds of shame,
Which from gossips you had heard
Janet would remain the same.
She would not believe a word.

Say to her my money's gone
Cry that loss has stripped me bare
Still her love would carry on:
Little Janet wouldn't care.

When such lies or truths are told:
So against the world I ask,
Little Janet's love I hold.

Symposium of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nations on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

Repeal Of "Press Gag Law" In Minnesota Commended

Measure Intended To Curb Objectionable Newspapers Is Declared To Have Been In Effect Curtailment Of Freedom Of The Press

Repeal of Minnesota's "press gag law," while its constitutionality was still pending before the United States Supreme Court, is hailed by the country as a victory for freedom of the press. A measure originally intended to eliminate scandal sheets was declared to have been made a weapon to prevent criticism of political corruption.

"Contributing to its viciousness," says the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION, "was the fact that a judge could be the sole arbiter as to an offense, since the question was not required to go to a jury. The Union adds that 'the Constitution guarantees the freedom of the press, and there are few newspapers that would abuse that right. The few exceptions,' continues that paper, 'do not justify such un-American and undemocratic restrictions as the suppression of the press anywhere on the say-so of a single judge.'

"A most malicious piece of legislation has been relegated to its proper place," declares the WALLA WALLA BULLETIN, with the explanation: "The law was worded to provide for suppression by court injunction of newspapers which were found by a court to be publishing regularly 'malicious, scandalous or defamatory matter.' On the surface such a principle may sound worthy of support, but like many measures, the title is not exactly correct. It appears that considerable leeway was left open in interpreting what could be termed 'malicious, scandalous or defamatory,' and many newspapers were shadowed by the big stick of suppression if they exercised even normal functions permitted in the constitutional right of a free press in this nation."

"It seems obvious," declares the ST. PAUL DISPATCH, "that there can not be any real freedom of speech or press when a newspaper may be suspended without trial whenever a court is of the opinion that its contents are 'malicious or defamatory.' The PIONEER PRESS of that city states that 'repeal became advisable from the viewpoint of sound public policy,' and that 'the law was being condemned as unwise and dangerous, a continuing invitation to official abuse of power in the suppression of legitimate opinion. That paper adds: 'Moreover, the specific 'scandal sheets' for which legislators were gunning in 1925 have since disappeared. Strangely enough the two newspapers that were actually suppressed under this law were not the ones the Legislature had in mind in 1925. This is what is meant when the 'gag' law is said to have served its purpose. The righteous indignation of legislators has no more 'scandal sheets' on which to feed."

It is agreed by the SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS that "the law was aimed at so-called 'scandal sheets,' which every good newspaper man abhors, but it was so worded that a judge could put a newspaper out of business without much trouble if he just happened to be mad at it because of its political opposition to him." The News concludes that "it won no respect for law."

Attention is given to statements by Justice Brandeis at the time of the hearing of the case before the United States Supreme Court. The statement had been made by counsel that the newspaper which had been suppressed had attacked what it termed a combination between public officials and criminals," as quoted by the ALBANY EVENING NEWS, and that paper continues: "Justice Brandeis interrupted to say that existence of combinations of this sort is well known. 'What these men did seems like an effort to expose such a combination,' said Justice Brandeis. 'How else can a community secure protection against that sort of thing if people are not allowed to engage in free discussion of such matters?' * * * You cannot disclose evil without naming the doers of evil. It is difficult to see how one can have a free press and the protection it affords in the democratic community without the privilege this act seems to limit."

The Albany paper continues in its statement: "There is a question that can be answered only in one way. A newspaper is doing its duty when it brings such things to public attention."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MORE AMUNITION
Destruction of war material is still costing Germany large sums of money, twelve years after the close of the World War. In the Reich's budget for 1930, increased appropriations are made for demilitarization purposes, on the assumption that many hidden ammunition dumps will need to be disposed of in the occupied territories which were recently evacuated.

Scheduled for early destruction are buried stores of deadly "blue cross" poison near Cologne; ammunition dumps in Westphalia; dumps of land grenades and gas material near Coblenz; of gas material and phosgen projectors near Greunmach; and a quantity of ammunition buried in a moat of the fortress of Kuestrin.

"He did, did he?" snapped the manager. "We'll fire him without ceremony. Let's see, he's been with us for five months. What business has he done in that time?"

"A thousand dollars the first month," said the secretary, reading from a book, "three thousand the next month, five thousand the next, and ten thousand the next."

"H'm," murmured the manager, thoughtfully. "I often think I ought to take a little more exercise and I dare say the caretaker will give you a frying pan."

Score Arrested In Mine Rioting Near Greensburg

As Rioting Between Miners
Breaks Out

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—
Rioting in which one man was injured broke out today when striking miners of the Edna No. 2 mine of the Hillman Coal company, near Adamsburg, clashed with employed miners of the Edna No. 1 mine of the Carr Coal company.

George Sheller, 50, of Greensburg, employed at Edna No. 1 mine was struck on the head with a stone when the rioting began.

State police were rushed to the scene and dispersed the crowd with difficulty. More than a score of arrests were made.

First reports were that 26 men and four women had been taken into custody.

Miss Dorothy Altman, 14, daughter of a miner employed at Edna
No. 1 was attacked by a party of several men and women. She was beaten and thrown into a roadside ditch.

The riot climaxed determined efforts by the striking coal workers to prevent employed men from entering the workings of Edna No. 1. As the force attempted to move into the workings, more than 100 strikers rushed them.

Stones, sticks and other missiles flew freely.

About 65 of the 150 miners employed at Edna No. 1 entered the mine after state police had dispersed the rioters. Edna No. 1 resumed operations Monday after a shutdown several days ago when a walkout in sympathy with the strikers at Edna
No. 2 occurred.

Says Members Of Church Smoked With Hats On

Nick Mashchak Loses Out In
His Fight To Retain Pulpit
Bible And Other Articles

When members of a church smoke and keep their hats on during a business meeting, Nick Mashchak, former president of the Holy Trinity Russian Orthodox church, does not like it. He told a jury in a trial before Judge Chambers yesterday that his objections to members smoking with their hats on was one of the causes of trouble between him and other members of the congregation.

Mashchak's testimony was given during the trial of the church against him in which a replevin writ had been issued for a pulpit Bible and other articles. Mashchak's contention was that the Bible belonged to him and that he was custodian of the other articles.

After hearing the evidence the jury found a verdict in favor of the church for one pulpit Bible valued at $90, one seal valued at $3, two collection books valued at 75 cents each and one key, valued at 25 cents, or a total of $100.

Physicans Not As Bad As Painted, Doctor Says

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

There certainly are a great many complaints about doctors nowadays. Every month one or two magazines have articles in which the doctors are given a piece of the patients' minds.

I read all of them, although it makes me pretty melancholy. My judgment is that most of them are unjust and ill-informed.

For instance, in one article the writer says that a doctor who wants a place on the attending staff of a New York hospital has to pay for $3,000 to $5,000 for it. And that even when he gets on the staff the older men usurp so many privileges that the young doctor's patients do not get a square deal. He instances the case of a young doctor who had an emergency surgical case—an intestinal obstruction. But he could not operate promptly because an older man had engaged the operating room for three hours for three patients who were not desperately sick.

All this sounds very fishy to me. But I pass by what seems the fishiest—the money said to be paid for admission to the staffs of hospitals, and the charge that any surgeon of standing would refuse a colleague the courtesy of his time in the operating room for a desperate and emergency case. I pass on to a point I could not help asking myself—why didn't the young doctor operate on his patient in the patient's room with the patient staying in his own bed? Not only is this a recognized way of doing emergency operations constantly practiced by the best surgeons, but is really the safest thing for a very sick patient. It saves the shock of being moved to the operating room and then moved back; the anesthetic can be given just as well and the operative details arranged just as well in the patient's room.

Instead of railing against the rest of the world, the doctor might better have blamed himself for lack of ingenuity and resourcefulness.

Another article relates the story of a young man who woke up in the middle of the night with acute appendicitis and of his difficulties in getting a doctor. He had recently moved to the city as a new place of residence and had not had time to look up a doctor. The medical profession is bitterly blamed for not having a doctor convenient for him. What I want to know about this story is why he did not look up a doctor when he first came to a new city? He looked up a bank, and a boarding house, and how to get to the baseball park, and a movie theater—why wouldn't he look up a doctor? Sickness and the need for a doctor are certainly more than possibilities—they are almost inevitabilities. Why hasn't the public some responsibilities and blame for the present discontent about doctors?

EDITOR'S NOTE Five pamphlets and four articles by Dr. Clendinging can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendinging, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diarrhea" and "Feminine Hygiene." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Tuberculosis" and "The Abdominal Wall."

Raising Of Fur Is Profitable

(International News Service) ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Raising of fur bearing animals is fast becoming a profitable industry in New York state.

At present there are 378 licensed fur farms in the State, the Conservation Commission revealed.

Under the State laws, mink, skunk muskrat, raccoon, beaver, and sable may be raised in captivity for their furs.

Animals whose pelts are to be sold as fur must be killed during the season fixed in the conservation law for their taking, the Conservation Commission said.

From the sale of licenses to operate farms to raise protected furbearers the State last year received $1,890.

Peter's Adventures

ALL IN A DAY'S ADVENTURES
"Heigh, ho! How tired I am!" Peter yawned. When I come to think about all I've been through this day, it is no wonder I feel like resting. Let me see, now! I've watched a battle going on, been taken prisoner, came near to being mixed up in a revolution, escaped from the Redskins—all in less than 24 hours. Guess I'll take a nap! Peter stretched out on the leaf and squinted at the sun. Suddenly it seemed to him that he was somewhere he's never been before. Great trees towered above him. But how could they be trees? There was only two trees that he knew of, one an apple tree and one an oak, and they were on opposite sides of the meadow. Suddenly Peter giggled.

"A good joke on me," said the boy, aloud. "Imagine my thinking I'm lost in a forest! The truth is I'd forgotten how small I am! I'm only lost in the bushes. The great thing I thought was a tree trunk is only the stalk of a goldenrod. How fresh it smells. I guess I'll climb up the stem and take a nap up where the breeze can find me. When I wake up I'll turn boy-size again and hurry home for supper."

No sooner said than done. Peter started to climb up the goldenrod stem. Besides wishing to be fanned by the breeze, Peter had an idea that the further from the ground he went for his nap the safer he would be from any Red Ants which might take it into their heads to pursue him. For Peter was sure the Redskins were not the insects to give up easily and he suspected that as soon as they discovered their two prize captives had escaped they would send out their scouts with orders to bring him and Busy the Black Ant back to the hill.

"But they'll have to catch us first!" chuckled the boy. "Busy is wise enough to keep out of their clutches. And I'm taking no chances!"

Run Over By Train Yet Youth Is Unhurt
(International News Service) FORT WORTH, Texas, Feb. 18.—Being run over by the locomotive and every car in a half-mile long freight train but living to tell the tale is an experience of which few people can boast. Charles Willis, 19, of Petersburg, Tex., is one of them.

Riding on the cowcatcher of a Texas & Pacific locomotive, Willis lost his hold and fell on the tracks squarely in front of the engine, which was pulling a long string of cars. He felt the moment would be his last.

Fortunately, Willis fell face downward and had the presence of mind to lie flat. As a consequence, the entire train passed over him and the worst that happened to him was that his clothes were torn off by the rods passing over his back.

Willis got a scratch or two, but in view of his experience he declared they didn't even count.

Guests At 25th Wedding Anniversary Wear Clothes In Style In 1906

Quaint Party Held In Washington By America's Former Princess

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the President, and this country's "Princess" in 1906, was back in her picture frame today.

She had re-appeared with her striking pompadour and wedding jewels, representing gifts from many European monarchs, and looked as attractive as she did 25 years ago when her distinguished father escorted her down the White House stairs and before a minister placed her hand in that of Nicholas Longworth.

The Longworths set the time back a quarter century just for a night—their silver wedding anniversary—and all their guests were told to wear costumes in fashion in 1906 if these were not available, to wear shirtwaists, skirts and sailor hats.

And they did to the bewilderment of Pauline Longworth who celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary Valentine's day.

"Princess" Alice appeared before her guests in a gown of old gold satin and wore above her pompadour a contemporary diamond tiara held in place in the back by a barrette of 1906 fashion. This gown was a part of her trousseau.

Only a few of those who took part in the brilliant White House wedding 25 years ago were here to take part in last night's frolic but all have remarked to Mrs. Longworth how they remember her "as Princess Alice of the Pompadour."

Arrived Real Early The guests recalled how "Nick" arrived "real early" for the ceremony and appeared as carefree as ever as the inspected the floral decorations and gave early arrivals a good look at his Prince Albert outfit.

Rulers and heads of governments of all over the world showered Miss Roosevelt with wedding gifts just as if she were a "real" princess.

The Republic of Cuba gave her a string of 63 matched pearls with a diamond clasp; a dower chest of silks, rare fabrics and ivory carvings from the empress dowager of China; tapestry, the president of France; embroideries and two silver vases, emperor of Japan; a diamond and pearl pendant, emperor of Austria; a mosaic table, the King of Italy; a mosaic from a Vatican painting, the Pope and antique jewelry, the King of Spain, and a rare bracelet from the exiled German Kaiser. The citizens of Cincinnati gave the famed newlyweds a $15,000 team of horses which have passed away.

A new assortment of gifts were on display at the home today, but this time all were made of silver.

New Castle Lodge Holds Big Meeting

Indoor Football Game Features The Gathering Held Last Night

New Castle lodge No. 195, I. O. O. F., held a regular meeting last night in the hall of the order on East Washington street, with Roy Reiber, the noble grand, presiding. After the usual business meeting an indoor football game was played.

The teams were designated as Pitt and Washington and Jefferson. L. A. Campbell was captain of the Pitt team and Elder McCormick of the W. & J. team. Floyd Houk was referee and C. H. Buell scorekeeper.

The ladies and friends were invited to witness the contest and there was a good turnout of spectators. After four regular quarters were played the W. & J. team was declared the winner, having 79 points to 54 points for the Pitt team. F. L. Norris and J. R. Hodge, with an assisting committee, made the arrangements for the evening. During the game the usual cheers and songs were indulged in by the ladies. Pitt made the most scores in the first half, but their defense went to pieces in the second half, W. & J. team putting on an offensive which won the game for them.

Thursday evening a large delegation of members of New Castle lodge will leave the hall at seven p. m. to meet with Plain Grove lodge where another pleasant evening is planned for those who attend. Automobiles will be provided for all who wish to make the trip.

Hundreds Pledged To Attend Banquet

National Commander's Banquet Of Legion Assured Of Big Crowd

As the visitation committee of the Legion's national commander's banquet, which will be an event of March 11 in the Cathedral, continues making its rounds, the number of visitors pledged for the event is growing by the hundreds and there is every indication that the quota of approximately two thousand will be more than reached. For this reason, the persons getting their tickets now will be assured of a place at the banquet table.

The visitation committee more than 20 strong left this city last night in spite of the unfavorable foggy weather and visited Mercer post. The Mercer post turned out in large numbers to greet the local visitors and promised at least a hundred persons for the banquet.

Franklin, although it has not been visited by the committee, is planning to bring a delegation about a hundred strong. Other posts in the surrounding districts are also planning to bring equally large groups and the success of the event is now assured.

Workers Meet Tuesday At Y

Staff Secretaries, Committees Of Y. W. C. A. Have Luncheon Together

REPORTS GIVEN OF Y PROGRESS

Seventy-five staff secretaries and committee members of the local Young Women's Christian association gathered for luncheon, social period and program, Tuesday afternoon, in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A. building.

The program consisted mainly of reports of the various departments of the association, committees, etc., but everyone who attended were unanimous in agreeing that never has there been a more interesting and more enlightening program presented. The reports were given in an interesting manner and figures were submitted to illustrate the splendid work being done by the Y. W. C. A. department.

Heads of the departments and committees or one of their committee members, gave the reports.

Mrs. Howard Gregg told of the Camp East Brook activities of last summer and the many years preceding; Miss Caroline Streeter, explained the work of the health education department and told of the interest taken by the class members;

Miss Grace K. Lowers gave a report of the Girl Reserve club work; Mrs. Raymond Williams, of the Elm Street Y. W. C. A. gave a resume of that department; Mrs. Howard Kirk spoke for the International Institute for Foreign Women; Miss Ethel Moore gave the cafeteria report; Mrs. W. R. Hanna, report of membership department; Miss Frances Carey explained the work of the religious education committee; and Mrs. C. W. Duff spoke of the building administration department.

This meeting was an innovation at the local association. Never before have the paid employees and volunteer workers enjoyed such a meeting together. All feel that they have a clearer insight into each other's work as a result of the gathering.

There were a number of members of the Ellwood City Health Education class members present.

Mrs. T. F. Stryker was a special guest.

Members of the board of directors who were not represented on the program of reports were introduced by Mrs. John Elliott, president of the board. Mrs. Elliott presided at the meeting.

Announcements included mention of the World's day of prayer to be held Friday at the First Baptist church, and the charter members luncheon that will take place at the Y. W. C. A. March 4.

Miss Cassandra Aiken was in charge of the decorations in the Green room. The luncheon was served by the Blue Triangle club, assisted by several members of the secretarial staff.

School Bells Ring While Pa And Ma Enact Pupil's Role At Union Building

It was "School Day," but not the good old golden rule day for the three-score Union township mothers and dads who took their sons and daughters places in the classrooms at Union High for probably an hour or more last night.

The setting for school was perfect, but the strict classroom rules had been set aside for it was Parent-Teachers night. Fathers and mothers, carrying the class schedules which Johnny and Mary follow out each day, made the rounds and heard from the regular teachers the ultimate objectives of the subjects they teach.

Before the "model school" began, the customary monthly business meeting of the chapter occurred in the school auditorium. President Morris Cox presided.

Starts At 9 P. M. Promptly at 9 o'clock, especially prepared program cards were given to the parents, who filed out one by one to the "home rooms" in which their own boy and girl are enrolled. Here they take attendance at morning and at noon, and last night the roll was called just as if it were regular school.

A few minutes after 9 and another bell sounded, giving the parents the required two minutes to change to their first period class. Six minutes later and that class ended, and again more bells signaled the two-minute interval which gave them a chance to move to their second class.

Six class periods, the regular daily schedule at Union, were observed. Each teacher, stationed at the desk where they conduct their lessons daily, would explain the subject at hand giving the "special student" a deeper insight into the attractive points of history, science or math.

Ended Too Soon One hour after school began, found the parents congregated together after the dismissal bell, regretting the fact that the classes ended so soon.

Co-operating to make the evening an enjoyable one, educational as well as entertaining, were Principal Roy F. Conway and his force of competent teachers. Assisting them were leaders of the P. T. A.

The "model school" idea probably marks the inauguration of something new here in this respect since no other schools or P. T. A. organizations have as yet sponsored a similar event.

Principal Conway indicated today that the membership of the Parent-Teacher group favors a repetition of last night's program sometime during the spring.

"School" was held last night only for those parents whose boys and girls are enrolled from the seventh grade to the senior rank in the high school.

THE STORY

The king of America's leading shirt makers also make their own shirt cloth. Tomorrow we offer the very cloths that America's leading shirt maker sells at $2.50 to $3.00 for $1.00.

Council Discusses Police Situation

Probability Exists That Council Will Reach Decision Soon

It is reported that members of city council today informally discussed the appointment of an eligible policeman to the department of city police but as yet have not reached an understanding as to who will be selected. The mayor has the appointive power.

There is one vacancy on the force caused by the death of the late Fred Schuller.

An eligible list was presented by the civil service board Monday but an appointment was held over until Friday.

At that time several councilmen expressed the opinion that two from the same family should not be assigned to positions.

Mayor Gillespie pointed out that while eligible had brothers on the force the eligible supported separate families.

It is probable councilmen will reach an understanding before the time for appointment arrives Friday.

Cooper will be given a hearing today by Alderman William E. Marshall.

To this the federal department has added all the remaining townships in Northampton county not regulated before, the townships of Hanover, North Whitehall, Salisbury, South Whitehall, Upper Saucon, Washington and Whitehall, the city of Allentown and the borough of Emaus in Lehigh county, and the borough of Riegelsville in Bucks county. No important changes in details of the regulations as heretofore enforced, have been made, officials stated.

The Visitor From Mars

A Tale Of Two Worlds
By S. S. MYERS

CHAPTER II

For a time I stared at him in the darkness then—"Do you mean to tell me that you came here from Mars?"

But he did not understand my question. On re-entering the cabin I studied him for a long time without saying anything. The thing seemed incredible. Yet I realized that there was a mysterious something about him—something that made him different from any one I had ever known.

When it came time to retire he made me understand that he would spend the night in his ship, to which I did not object as there was only one bunk in the cabin and it was scarcely wide enough to accommodate the two of us.

He came up to the cabin the next morning while I was preparing breakfast. I had oranges, bread and butter, fried potatoes, fried bacon, cheese, dry cereal and coffee. He partook of everything except the bacon. The reason for this I was to learn later.

When we finished our breakfast I said: "We will go and inspect the ship." He repeated the sentence and I started for the door and motioned him to follow. We made our way to his machine and I looked it over curiously. It was about sixty feet long and perhaps half as wide except at the ends, and constructed of a metal entirely unknown to me. Finally he touched a spring in the door which immediately swung open and we entered.

It would be futile to attempt to describe the interior of that ship which contained a mass of complicated machinery resembling wireless telegraphy equipment and radio installation. The entire walls were lined with a material which resembled glass, and there were windows of the same which were clearer than the finest of glass. I could see that the thing was airtight, and I judged that the various compartments in the rear contained artificial air and perhaps a food supply. I realized that this was an entirely new sort of flying machine, and there was much I wanted to know, but knew it would be useless to question my visitor with his present limited knowledge of my language.

We continued our lessons day after day with surprising results, and in less than a month we could converse quite freely. Our conversation frequently took the form of questions and answers somewhat as follows. I shall not attempt to give the exact verbatim he used in answering my questions, but will endeavor to express his meaning:

"Are there many inhabitants on Mars?"
"A great many—about one hundred millions as you express numbers."

"Are they all of one lineage, or are there different races?"

"The Great Spirit, who created all things, took a portion of the sun and with it formed our planet and developed it and brought forth our first parents from whom we all descended."

"What is your form of government?"

"The laws given to our first parents by the Creator with the command that they teach their descendants to cultivate and beautify the planet which would prepare them for future life in a more beautiful realm."

"How are your laws administered? Do you have judges and courts of justice?"

"There is no need for such."

"What do you do with those who violate the laws? Haven't you any jails?"

"Jails?"

"Places of imprisonment for those who transgress the laws?"

"No one would think of transgressing the laws. They promote our own individual good and insure happiness. To violate them would destroy our happiness and invite death!"

"Isn't there any death on Mars?"

"Only old animals die when no longer useful to us."

"But what becomes of our people? Do they live forever?"

"Yes. When an individual has finished his work, or when his descendants have become prepared to carry it on, the Creator sends his emissaries who transport him or her to the realms of bliss—a world where there is perpetual day—where crystal lakes abound and streams of living water flow through boundless flowery parks, and where choicest fruits are ever ripening. It is a land of perpetual youth where all mysteries that puzzle us now are revealed."

"How long do you people remain on Mars before being transported to the other world?"

"That depends on how long it takes him to prepare for the other world. The average is about one hundred of our years."

"That would be nearly two hundred of our years. How old are you?"

"Thirty five years."

"Which would make you almost seventy by our years. You don't look it."

"The people of Mars do not grow old and die like animals or trees."

"Are there no diseases, or sickness among your people?"

"There is no need for that. Our laws teach us health and happiness."

This set me to thinking seriously. It would seem, from what my visitor said, that Mars was a sort of Paradise where sickness, sorrow and physical death are unknown. Why this great contrast between two planets of the same system? (To be continued tomorrow.)

NOTES OF TROOP "F"

103RD CAVALRY OF NEW CASTLE

Troop officers will make an attempt to have two more horses. "Darkey" a black gelding and "Babe" a bay mare condemned by the government. Both are federal horses. Old age is the cause.

There will not be any more drills until Friday, February 27th at 7:30 p. m. Inspection Monday evening took the place of the regular drill this week.

Officers believe the rating for the inspection will be higher than the "satisfactory" received last year. Capt. Tallant said that "there is no need to worry" about the rating this year.

A huge troop zone map with a number for each guardsman showing the location of individual residences throughout the city is now hung in the commander's office. It was obtained from the city engineer and the location of each guardsman's home was drawn by Sgt. Joseph L. Vonderaue.

The troop mobilization plans compiled by the troop clerk have been approved by the squadron commander. The purpose of this plan is to have a ready reference of each member in case of the necessity of mobilization.

Sgt. Stewart's crew has completed work at the stables. During their employment the guardsmen prepared the equipment at the stables for the inspection and in other ways improved the appearance of the property.

A new stitching tree for the purpose of sewing leather at the stables will be made today.

The enlistment of Pvt. Gilbert J. Bartberger expires on February 23. That will make three vacancies in the troop roster.

JUDGE WINS TITLE, "GREAT RECONCILER"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 18.—Thirty one years on a superior court bench have given Judge Thomas F. Graham ample time to look into the matter of divorce. He believes in it, where there is no chance of agreement.

On the other hand, Judge Graham, who recently celebrated his 31st anniversary as a jurist in San Francisco, is convinced that reconciliations should always be attempted where there are children in the home. For this belief Judge Graham is known here as the "Great Reconciler" because of his attempts to bring peace and better understanding into unhappy homes.

During his long years on the bench, Judge Graham admitted that he had been forced to reconstruct his original belief that all marriages were for the best.

"I still believe they are," he explains, "but when two people can't agree on anything, the quicker they are separated the better."

Corrects Date On Season For Trout

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Due to a printer's error one-sixth of the summaries of the fish law which have been sent to county treasurers show incorrect dates for the season on trout. The incorrect summary shows the season as opening on July 1 and closing on November 30. Unless the Legislature changes the season limits it will as before, open on April 15 and close July 31. Printed slips explaining the error and giving the correct season limits have been forwarded to county treasurers. In a number of counties, however, the incorrect summaries had been distributed to fishermen who made early application for their licenses.

New Appears At Senate Inquiry To Defend Self

Former Postmaster General
Harry S. New, Probe
Witness Today

POSTAL LEASING FACTS REVEALED

By PIERCE MILLER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Former Postmaster General Harry S. New appeared today before the Blaine Senate Post Office Lease Investigation committee to defend himself against charges of responsibility for the department's leasing policy made before the committee by John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general in the new regime.

Bartlett, former governor of New Hampshire, long identified with the Old Guard Republicans, testified "reluctantly," he said, and only because he was tired of taking blame for the leasing policy in connection with that for the commercial station at St. Paul.

New was prepared to bring the dispute over the department's leasing policy further into the open in his purpose to refute Bartlett's charge he had in effect stopped a grand jury investigation into the St. Paul lease.

Bartlett among other things charged that responsibility for a new lease negotiated and signed whereby a cancellation clause in the old lease had been eliminated, lay at New's door.

He declared New had taken personal charge of the St. Paul matter, and had ordered Bartlett's name signed to the acceptance of the terms while the latter was away from the department. The order came the same day that the late James W. Good, secretary of War in the Hoover cabinet, had paid New a visit at the department in 1925.

PARDON BOARD HEARS APPEAL FOR GUN-WOMAN

twelve Lawrence county men and women said they must suffer.

Rose Makes Plea
Backed by the wealth of Mrs. Ella Mountz of Clearfield, Percy Allen Rose of Johnstown, famous for his participation in the capital graft cases in 1907, made the appeal for Irene.

Brought into the case after the trial he displayed some ignorance of the actual facts when early in his argument he stated to the board that the bandits had held up Ray Horton and stole his car before the shooting of Brady Paul.

Skiffish as he is, Rose attempted to read into the conduct of the case by Judge Hildebrand a charge that part of the courts charge was made binding against Irene.

"She Is A Woman"
His chief argument was that Irene should be spared because she is a woman. "No matter what else she is, Irene Schroeder is a woman," said he. "No woman who has passed through the valley of the shadow to bear a child should never be subjected to such a death. No woman in Pennsylvania has ever felt the wrath of the electric chair executioner. We are the sons of mercy. Christ himself granted mercy. Can we then refuse that mercy to this woman?" As he finished his seventy five minute plea Attorney General Schnader asked Rose if he had been in the trial. Answered in the negative Schnader said, "The jury did not fix this penalty, the jury did. If then this jury who you did not see arrived at this verdict after their deliberations, how then can you say they were unfair and impartial; you laid this matter before the Supreme court and they decided the case was fairly tried. Are we then to overrule our Supreme court."

Jarrett Follows
Attorney Ben Jarrett of Farrell followed Rose and opened the argument for commutation of Dague. "In all my experience," Jarrett said, "I never found people so anxious to serve on a jury as they did in these cases. Practically all of the jurors had formed an opinion and I am here to state that in my opinion Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague did not get the kind of a trial they deserved. I want to renew my objection to the line of conduct of Mr. Margiotti pursued in the case. He is one of the best lawyers in the state but in this case he overdid the job. Jarrett criticized the attitude of the jurors during his arguments to the jury. He did not review the case as did Rose but confined his argument to an emotional plea to the board for mercy he said to the board that only Tuesday night Irene and Dague had insisted to him and Dickey that they did not shoot Brady Paul. He attempted to throw a cloak of doubt over the testimony of Mrs. Eva Baldwin as to what she saw on the Butler road. Using a chair to illustrate an automobile Jarrett described the scene to the Pardon board.

Closing his argument Jarrett said, "We did not receive a fair and impartial trial. If they could be tried today they might be acquitted. We do not ask for pardon, they have done enough to keep them in jail the rest of their lives. We do not want them executed. We ask that they be locked up for the rest of their lives. Irene and Dague await your answer. We are here at the seat of mercy as near as we can get to the great mercy seat. It is my hope that God will guide you and spare the lives of these two."

Claims Prejudice
Secretary of the Commonwealth Beamish asked if a change of venue was asked.

"No," replied Jarrett, "We had more faith in Lawrence county than the people would be fair, but we could not detrone the prejudice that had inflamed the people. Jarrett apparently forgot Dague in his plea and Beamish asked what Dague's defense was.

"That he did not fire the shot," said Jarrett.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey stressed the fact that 109 jurors were called but said he "I think Irene and Dague were convicted before the jury was called."

Attorney General Schnader interrupted and asked Dickey to produce the jury list to find out what type of men and women comprised the jury. Dickey read the list of jurors with their occupations.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey said to the board that one prospective juror was asked to serve and said "Don't take me, take my wife, she will put her on the hot seat." This was a rumor Dickey said he had received in the past 48 hours. The woman served on the jury.

"Have you an affidavit to that effect," asked Schnader.

"No," replied Dickey.

He then produced a statement from Dague in which he said "We never took human life. We never shot Brady Paul." Irene's statement was this, "I have done many things, punish me for all of them but do not punish me for a crime I never did. Ernest Moore shot Brady Paul. Spare our lives and some day Moore will tell the truth."

"How much money was raised for the defense," asked Beamish.

"I have never told this in public," said Dickey. "Jarrett and I have never received one dime for this case. We received $171 from a story of Irene's life which was printed. We never took a cent of that money. We got a hold of a hot one and couldn't let go and we are sticking to the last. We owe $472 to the printer which we will pay ourselves."

District Attorney John Powers opened for the Commonwealth at twelve forty. He discussed the examination of jurors. He argued that the defense could have asked for a change of venue, and that the jury was fair. As to the argument that a woman should not be executed, Powers said, "There is no distinction as to sex. A man is just as dead when shot by a woman as by a man." He then went into the legal elements of the pleas for new trial and commutation. Powers took but six minutes for his argument.

"As district attorney did you consider a change of venue," asked Beamish. "No, I did not," said Powers. "Should you initiate such a move if you considered a fair trial could not be had?" "I would," said Powers.

Margiotti Starts
Attorney Charles J. Margiotti opened his argument at twelve fifty-five.

"I thought the defendants would bring in something new in their pleas for commutation," said he. "Everything they have brought in, save for one small detail, was given to the jury at the time for the trial. He denied that the jury was unfair, or that he had said anything prejudicial to defendants in his address to the jury."

Margiotti then read an affidavit he filed concerning some. He reviewed Irene's life up to the time of the murder. Told of the minor thefts Irene testified to. He showed the orderly procedure with which Irene and Dague conducted their career of crime, this to show that there was no insanity present.

Step by step Margiotti followed the trip of Irene and Dague that led to the murder.

At one forty five Margiotti was still dwelling on the details of the many robberies in which Irene and Dague participated. Apparently he intended to spend at least forty five minutes more to discuss the plea for leniency on the grounds of mercy.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Imposition of the death penalty in this case was the result of the public clamor for revenge on one who had allegedly shot and killed a peace officer within the precincts of Lawrence county."

With this opening shot before the Pennsylvania State Pardon Board, Percy Allen Rose, noted Pennsylvania Attorney, today flung himself into the thick of the fight to save Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague from the death chair.

Both will be executed at Rockview Penitentiary next Monday unless the Pardon Board or Governor Gifford Pinchot intervenes. They are now in the county jail at New Castle, four days away from the "little gray" door in the penitentiary.

Rose was accompanied by Thomas Dickey, chief of Irene's legal staff. He opened his plea for mercy with a summary of the events leading up to the death of Corporal Brady Paul, following a gun battle with the trigger-woman and the paramour on the New Castle-Butler road on December 17, 1929.

"I am not one of those who subscribes to the idea that there must be a victim for every infraction of the law," Rose declared. "I have, too often, seen innocent persons become the victims of undeserved punishment by reason of the public clamor for someone to be punished."

Rose's plea for clemency was one of the most stirring ever to resound through the Supreme Court room in the Capitol. He spoke in a carefully modulated voice that reached every listener at the hearing.

He was retained to aid in Irene's fight by Mrs. Ella Mountz, wealthy coal operator of Clearfield county.

Harks Away Back
Rose harked back to the so-called "Capitol Graft" cases in Harrisburg which rocked the state to its political foundations a score of years ago. J. W. Shumaker, then State Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, who was sentenced to prison for participation in the graft scandals of Gov. Pennypacker's administration, was convicted on evidence later shown to have been forged.

Other cases were cited by Rose as he claimed those convicted and sentenced to have been "victims of hysteria and a clamor for revenge."

Rose ripped into the Commonwealth for its conduct of the "trigger-woman's" trial and denounced the action of the prosecution in introducing "expert testimony" from psychiatrists tending to show that Irene was an "habitual criminal" while Irene, because of poverty, was unable to present evidence corroborative of the "irresistible impulse" which the defense claimed was the actuating motive in the slaying of the Highway Patrolman.

The charge of the jury of Judge,

R. Lawrence Hildebrand, presiding jurist at the trial, was attacked by Rose as having swept aside the basis of the defendant's case.

When Judge Hildebrand told the jurors that "the defendant does not ask you to acquit her on grounds of insanity," he delivered an unfair charge and mitigated against the return of a fair and impartial verdict in the case.

A "calamitous" incident occurred at the trial, Rose claimed, when the court failed to inform the jury that the defense of "irresistible impulse" was not acceptable in Pennsylvania.

Rose quoted from the opinion of the state supreme court in the appeal of Irene's case, in which the high court stated the trial judge should have so informed the jury.

NAVY'S NEW SECRET PLANE—FASTEST AIR FIGHTER

This tiny single-seated biplane, carrying the insignia of the U. S. navy on its fuselage, has been put through secret tests at Mitchell Field, L. I. It is believed to be the fastest fighting plane ever built and is designed to attain a speed of 300 miles an hour, while cruising.

ried therefrom, is easily attributable.

Plea For Woman.
Throwing his all into a final peroration, Rose reminded the board that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for nearly half a century, has not exacted the life of a woman for the crime of murder.

"We are the sons of mercy," pleaded Rose. "It is man's highest prerogative, as beneficiary of the mercy of the son of God, to exercise that divine attribute."

"I do not believe," said he, "that any woman who has passed through the travail and the shadow of death to bear a son, as Irene Schroeder has done, will kill a man born of woman, deliberately and coolly. We do not admit that Irene fired the shot which killed Brady Paul. She denied it. But she is under sentence of death for killing Brady Paul."

"Victim as she was of the hysteria for revenge and the clamor for a victim, unable to obtain a fair and unprejudiced trial, this woman does not deserve the fate decreed for her."

"We hope and plead this board, sitting as the 'almshouses of the King's mercy' sat as of old, will exercise the divine prerogative of mercy for this unfortunate girl."

Dickey's Plea.
"Don't punish me for the killing of Brady Paul."

"I didn't do that."

With this final plea from the lips of Irene Schroeder, blonde gun girl sentenced to death for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul, of the State Highway Patrol, ringing in their ears, members of the state pardon board this afternoon turned to commonwealth representatives who appeared to contest the plea of Irene and Glenn Dague, her paramour sentenced to death with her, for a commutation of the death sentence imposed on them in the Lawrence county courts.

The statement from the blonde trigger-woman, who is sentenced to walk through the "little gray door" at Rockview penitentiary at Bellefonte next Monday morning and die at the hand of a state executioner unless the pardon board intervenes, was brought before the board by Thomas Dickey, chief of staff of the legal forces which carried the battle of Irene and her doomed "boy friend" through the courts of the state in an effort to avert the death penalty.

"I have died many wrong things," the youthful gun-woman statement said. "Punish me for these, but don't punish me for the killing of Brady Paul. I didn't do that. The truth will come out some day from Mr. Moore. Why doesn't he speak?"

Refer to Moore.
Irene's reference to "Mr. Moore" was believed an aftermath of a dramatic moment during her trial when Dickey charged that Paul's death might have been due to a shot fired

Even the birds get drunk in Hungary. A villager from the hamlet of Falva, near Budapest, found more than 100 crows asleep in a field. First the villager thought they were dead and, surprised at their number, he went to investigate. Some of them woke up, flapping vigorously. Soon all recovered. They flew upside down, tippy-turvy or just stumbled along on the ground. The completely pie-eyed, the villager, then found along the road a broken jug of sweet Hungarian wine; it had fallen, presumably off a truck. (Any way, this is how the story goes)

Scrutinize All Applications By Utilities

No Charters Have Been Issued To Utilities Since Pinchot Took Office

CEREAL BEVERAGE COMPANIES ALSO EYED

HARRISBURG, Feb. 17.—Close examination is being made of all applications for the incorporation of proposed new public utility companies. Since the Pinchot administration took office on January 20 the Secretary of the Commonwealth has not issued any charters to a utility.

Not only are applications for new utilities being given close study and investigation but also those for cereal beverage companies. These companies after incorporation come under the direction of the alcohol permit board.

It was during the previous Pinchot administration that the governor refused to approve a number of charters for utilities. During the closing months of his term he declined to attach his name to the charters incorporating the subsidiary bus companies of both the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads. Both subsequently were re-approved by the Public Service Commission and signed during the early part of the last administration.

When Mr. Pinchot was governor before he also declined to sign charters for light companies and other public utilities. What course he proposes to follow this time of course remains to be seen.

In the previous administration charters for cereal beverage companies were not signed because they might divert alcohol to illegal channels or produce "high powered" beer.

Many Teachers Are Grove City Grads

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

"FLORIDA WEATHER"

Editor, New Castle News, New Castle, Pa.,
Dear Sir:

The weather in Florida this winter is "very unusual," as usual. Once in a while it is refreshing to think about something besides "Hard times," the weather, for example.

Everyone that has read Florida literature and letters from tourists is familiar with the Florida climate; very little is ever said about Florida weather. There is quite a difference. Climate is the general average climatic conditions prevailing over the whole state from year to year, while the weather is well, it's just weather.

Florida has an excellent climate; one in which it is not only a pleasure to live, but one which also assures you of good health. To say that the weather is excellent all the time, is another matter. I have seen a great deal of weather here that would come off second best in a contest with Western Pennsylvania weather at its worst.

The Floridians, in order to have everything perfect, try to run their weather according to schedule, which no self-respecting weather was ever known to do. Each city, in trying to draw tourists, guarantees a special brand of weather. St. Petersburg, for instance guarantees 363 days of sunshine every year. On a day in which the sun fails to shine, you are given your newspaper free. The joker is that if the sun shines for 1,000 of a second, the tourists loses, even if it rains the rest of the 24 hours, and the newspaper officials hold the stop watch.

The mayor of Ft. Meyers, Fla., as a little advertising stunt, agreed to go to jail on the first day the sun failed to shine. One day last spring it did not shine, and true to his agreement he went to jail, regarding it as a good joke. The second day it did not shine, and the novelty wore off a little. The third day it did not shine, and things began to look serious. The fourth day without sunshine he applied to the governor for an executive pardon.

If the weather does not follow the schedule laid down for it by the natives, you are immediately assured that "this is very unusual." "This is very unusual" is about as common an expression is "business is getting better," and about as truthful.

During my first year here, when it came time for the dry season it really got dry, so that by mid-season everything was as dry as the Desert of Sahara. I am still wondering what it was that prevented the whole state from being blown out into the Atlantic Ocean or the Gulf of Mexico. The natives said, "This is very unusual." Last year, when the dry season should have started it began to rain, and the longer the dry season lasted, the more it rained. This also was "very unusual." This year it has been both cold and wet when it ought to have been dry and warm, more "unusual" weather. Many times this winter when the rain has been descending in torrents I have heard this announcement over the radio: "This is station WJAX, Jacksonville Florida, the land of sunshine. The announcer should have completed the picture by adding, "this is very unusual, as usual."

Few Apply For Welfare Permits

Only Few In State Take Out Licenses To Solicit Funds In Communities

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Application for certificates for the solicitation of funds for benevolent and charitable purposes, which must be granted annually by the State Department of Welfare, indicates that persons, agencies and societies which heretofore operated with certificates are either out of business this year, have not yet solicited funds in 1931, or are soliciting funds in violation of the law, John J. Hanna, State Secretary of Welfare said today.

To date fifty seven applications have been received by the Department of Welfare to grant certificates for 1931 solicitation of funds. Hanna cited the act of 1925 regulating the solicitation of funds for charitable and benevolent purposes and issued a warning that persons or organizations soliciting without a certificate granted by the State Department of Welfare are subject to the penalties attached to the act.

The law passed in 1925 authorizes the Department of Welfare to receive applications and issue certificates for the solicitation of funds in states that anyone soliciting funds without holding such a certificate is in violation of the act and subject to a fine of not less than $100 or more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year or both penalties may be imposed.

Holder Of Air Speed-Record Hero To Both Wife And World

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The old adage, "A hero is not a hero to his wife" was refuted here by Mrs. Frank Hawks, whose husband holds the transcontinental non-stop aviation record and is one of the world's most noted flyers.

"Frank smiles to the world, but he also smiles to me," Mrs. Hawks said and thereupon revealed the details of her romance with the flyer, a romance which she insists is as alive today as it was when they first met five years ago in the picturesque Tampico, Mexico.

In those days Hawks was a lonely American employee of a Mexican aviation company. Sympathizing

When a Child is FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract. When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all

It was in 1929 that Hawks flew to Los Angeles in a Lockheed monoplane to prepare for his record-making cross-country hop and his wife went to New York to make a home ready for him. Hawks negotiated the non-stop Los Angeles to New York trip in 19 hours, ten minutes and 28 seconds, his first flight record.

Mrs. Hawks herself has spent 350 hours in the air, holding the woman's passenger record of 55,000 miles. She says she has always retained tears when her husband is about to begin a new and perilous aerial venture. She must always show as much courage as her intrepid husband, even though she feels afraid, she said.

Kingsford-Smith To Take No More Risks

(International News Service)
MELBOURNE, Feb. 18.—Wing-Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous trans-Pacific and trans-Atlantic flyer, has decided to make no more risky flights. His recent marriage to Mary Powell, beautiful Australian girl, is the reason.

Returning from his honeymoon trip to Tasmania, "Smithy" said he did not consider it fair to undertake further hazardous flights now that he was married.

"I shall fly, of course, and I hope to devote my energy to helping the cause of Australian aviation generally," he said.

"My living lies in the air and I foresee a great future for flying in Australia."

Kingsford-Smith will continue to pilot mail planes for the Australian National Airways when required. He will settle in Sydney.

Prince was taken home, apparently limp in death. During the night he revived, and appeared to be getting well when he "died" a natural death. The Oreskovich family went into mourning, but the next morning Prince was pawing at the cellar door.

A veterinarian has been treating the dog since and he now appears well and strong.

The Parent Problem

Child Paid By Parents To Tell On His Friends Turns Coward In School

Dr. Myers Paints Picture Of Development Of "Squealer," Maintaining Father And Mother Are At Fault

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Tom is four. He is a tattler. He gets paid for tattling. His parents pay him.

Tom and Tillie are at play. Tillie is his sister, two years older. Tom grabs a toy from Tillie and she hits him. Tom runs to tell his daddy, who arrives upon the scene, conducts a trial, accepts Tom's version literally, and punishes poor Tillie. Tom is satisfied. He tattled on his sister and got his pay check when his father punished her.

Tillie must submit, but in her heart she has resolved to get even with her little brother. She knows very well he started the quarrel and got her into trouble. If dad had been more sensible he merely would have let the children quarrel, ignoring Tillie, or he would have separated them without attempting to fix the blame.

Tom is playing with the neighbor children. Things don't go his way; he pushes one of them who doesn't see him. A fight begins. Tom gets the worst of it and goes bawling to the house to tell his mother. Out she comes to scold the other children. Soon the other children's mothers come to their defense and a general strife is on.

Anyway, Tom thinks he won. His mother came to his defense and made him feel he was right. She paid him for his tattling.

Soon his playmates hate him, and he and his mother never get along with them. He becomes a coward and a bully. About all cowards turn to bullies. By throwing down the little children, teasing them and running off with their toys and hats, the bully feels himself that he is strong and brave. He sneaks up behind the other boys of his size, pushes them, or strikes them, or he hurls sticks and stones at them, and when they attempt to punish him he runs to tell his mother.

He tempts them to do things he is forbidden to do, and then tattles on them. Sometimes he does such things himself and tells his mother that the other children did them.

Tom enters school and continues as a tattler. He picks quarrels with the children on the playground and "squeals" on them to the teacher. Every time he gets the slightest opportunity to tell on a classmate he does so. He is never happier than when he can help to get another pupil into trouble.

Forever, Tom is complaining to the teacher about the way the children treat him on his way to school, and every evening he reports a string of grievances at home. His parents always take his word and take his part. They never think that he could do a wrong. They pay him for tattling, and he goes on practicing in the ignominious art to earn more pay.

Poor Tom! Not his fault he is a tattler.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally, write me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Flaming Sword In Northeastern Sky Thrills Watchers

A thrilling spectacle of the heavens—a flaming sword—was the unusual sight members of the William McGary, Sr. living at New Wilmington R. D. 1, report as being seen last Sunday morning about 1:30.

In appearance the sword, which showed up in the northeastern sky, seemed to be about 70 feet long and 1½ feet wide. It was bright red in color and had no star at its head. Its reflection on the clouds in the sky was also red, having the appearance of a sunset or of a distant furnace light.

The sword light lasted for nearly 30 minutes, the family said.

MY FRIENDS AND I WERE SCARED

Effective Way Found To Break Up This Long-Standing Cold

"Last fall I caught a heavy cold that turned into flu and it settled on my lungs. No medicine I used seemed to help it any. I began to lose weight, and I coughed a great deal. My bowels would not work without physics. My kidneys became bad and I had severe pains in my back and shoulders. My friends and I were scared."

"One day I read of the 'World's Tonic' and I decided to try it. I took it as directed. That half bottle helped me wonderfully, and the next bottle cleared up the cough. After three bottles I began to gain weight, and all symptoms of the cold and flu disappeared. I never knew a medicine so effective."

Mrs. E. A. Kaufman, 210 Sterling Ave., Butler, Pa.

World's Tonic is not a specific for colds, but it broke up that cold in the same way it does for many ills. It helped clear away the impurities in the blood, enabled this blood to kill off the germs, and supplied what the system needed to gain strength. Because it is so helpful in chronic catarrh, in this case it was equally effective in acute catarrh.

An illness hangs on because of weakness. Correct that weakness with World's Tonic, and your strength will help greatly to overcome the trouble. World's Tonic is sold by Eckerd's, McKee's, Paisley's, Smith's and other good druggists. (A-139).

DON'T TRIFLE WITH A COLD

Break It Up In a Jiffy With Something You KNOW Does the Job

THE thing to do with a cold is to break it up in a hurry—with something you know does the job; not to trifle with a lot of trick ideas and remedies. Cold are too dangerous to experiment with.

Get a box of Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon that miserable, aching feeling begins to go. The cold breaks up. The poisons are moved from your system. The world looks like an altogether different place.

Those results come because Hill's goes back to first principles by going to the seat of the trouble. It's not a new-fangled fancy idea but a tried and proved way that's made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy.

Hill's cost only a few cents. Use it for quick relief after everything else you've tried has failed.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

Bob Hunting was a born showman and New Castle was his home.

A veteran of the civil war, he turned to the amusement business in the seventies, a few years after seeing service in the great intercontinental contest, which fortunately resulted in the preservation of the Union.

His wife was an asset to him in the business, he and his wife putting on a trapeze act, which was one of the features of the show, which in the course of the thirty years that it continued to travel here and there all over the country, became a household word as far as amusement was concerned.

As compared with the present day circus, the Hunting Show was but a modest but for real entertainment, it was one of the premier organizations of its kind in the country.

It was a one ringed affair for the greater part of its existence. It carried no menagerie for most of its existence. There was a performing horse used in the ring work, trapeze and other similar acts and clowns of course. And the show had a good band.

As this was home for the circus, which however kept going most of the time, in the north in the winter time, much talent was recruited right here.

Toward the last, the owner made an effort to grow into a bigger circus with a menagerie and other features of the present day circus, but this was not a success and was the cause of the Hunting Show passing out of the amusement picture.

While a small one ring show, it traveled a wagon.

Soon To Construct War Memorial

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—San Francisco's $5,000,000 memorial to its soldier dead, is soon to be constructed, according to the War Memorial board.

When finished the memorial, consisting of twin buildings, will take its place among the city's most impressive buildings. A memorial court will separate the two units. The north building will be the Veterans' hall, and the south the Memorial Opera house.

San Francisco will have in the Memorial Opera house an adequate place for the proper presentation of opera and musical events for the first time. The building will have a seating capacity of 3,250, and there will be 25 boxes, with two circular galleries.

In comparative size the opera house will equal the structure of the Chicago Opera association and will rank with other opera houses in the country of a similar character.

The Veterans' hall has been planned to include an auditorium seating 1,200 persons. There will be lodge rooms for veterans' organizations, libraries, kitchens and dining halls. The auditorium is arranged so that it can be converted into a ball room.

Gander Escorts Children To School

Is No Ladies Man, However, Actions Show

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 18.—Quack-quack-quack! The children are going to school.

In this manner the stentorian honk of a big white gander, "Chubby" by name, announces to the residents surrounding the John J. Vestal grade school here that nine o'clock is fast approaching and that all is well with their school-bound youngsters.

Every morning Chubby can be seen squawkingly trailing his self-appointed charges to the school portals and a jealous guardian he proves to be, especially at intersections where he defies trucks and automobiles to hurry his stately waddle.

Suspicious characters, such as dogs, cats or even human beings, who intimate they would like to share Chubby's place in the affections of the Vestal "gang" are met with a warning hiss from his outstretched neck and blows from his powerful wings.

Chubby is not a "ladies man" in fact he barely tolerates women and often chases the maids who seek to take up his time as a "batchelor" goose, adding a few pinches with his beak as a warning that he is not to be trifled with.

The boys proclaim him a "reglar fellow." He can put no end of feeling into his hearty squawk in answer to their yells at noon and recess periods. While the children are busy with their studies, Chubby scouts the neighborhood to see that all is well and explores puddles of water and mud.

Mother always knows when school is out, for his—Quack-quack-quack—down the sidewalk and across the streets. The kids are coming from school.

Quarantines 350 In Six Hospitals

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Three hundred and fifty patients are now under quarantine for venereal disease in six sequestration hospitals supervised by the Pennsylvania State Health Department, according to a report submitted to Secretary of Health Dr. Theodore B. Appel, by Dr. Edgar S. Everhart, chief of the venereal disease section.

"By far the larger portion of these patients are represented by disease spreaders who have become a menace to the community by reason of their activities which were in many instances commercially inspired," Dr. Everhart said. "However, there is a definite number belonging to the non-commercial class who because of promiscuity represented a real hazard in their respective localities. Figures just compiled for 1930 show that approximately 4,401 persons who were public health menaces because of infections of this character were placed under quarantine by the Department."

Supervisors at the local office include Assistant Postmaster J. G. Leslie, Superintendent of Mails Frank M. Wilson, Superintendent Edward McBride of the Seventh Ward branch, and Supervisor of Carriers Peter F. Stevenson.

Postal Supervisors MAY ATTEND CONFAB

Postal supervisors of the local postoffice have been extended an invitation to attend the annual conference of Pennsylvania supervisors at Lewisburg, Pa., scheduled for Monday, February 23. It is not known definitely whether they will attend.

Scientist Says Our Universe Is Exploding

Says Sun Is Rapidly Losing
Millions Of Tons Of Weight

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Sir James Jeans, the famous astronomer and physicist, has started London with the statement that the universe is being blown to bits.

In a radio broadcast to the British public, Sir James said:

"The Belgian mathematician Le-maitre has shown that Einstein's universe has properties similar to those of a soap bubble.

"As soon as the universe comes into existence it starts swelling out in size, and must go on expanding indefinitely. The results of measuring the speeds of nebulae have been sensational. The last to be investigated was found to be receding from us at the rate of 26 million miles an hour.

"Many astronomers doubt whether these speeds are true, but if they are, the whole universe must be expanding—I might almost say exploding—at a terrific rate, and judging time on the astronomers' scale, the whole universe must be far more transitory and ephemeral than was thought."

Referring to the sun, Sir James said that there was no reasonable doubt that it was rapidly losing many millions of millions tons of weight.

"That material universe," he continued, "appears to be passing away like a tale that is told, dissolving into nothingness like a vision fading before light of day."

As to the stars, Sir James declared that the average one is something like a million times as big as the earth, yet the number of stars in the universe was probably about equal to the number of drops of rain which fall on the whole of London in a day of heavy rain. He added:

"However, leave only three wasps alive in the whole of Europe, and the area of Europe will still be more crowded with wasps than space is with stars."

Great Dog Derby Test Of Strength

Two Hundred Mile Non-Stop
Trip Is Being Planned

(International News Service)

THE PAS, Manitoba, Feb. 18.—The world's greatest dog-sled derby will be held next year on March 3. It is a 200-mile non-stop race and in it the best dog mushers of Canada and the United States will take part. It starts on the Saskatchewan river at the Pas in northern Manitoba and proceeds north and west to Flin Flon, the turning point, 100 miles away. It is considered to be the greatest test of speed and strength in the world.

For several years this historic race, the hardest and longest in the world since the discontinuance of the Alaska dog derby, was won by Emil St. Godard, but last year the honors were wrested from him in a terrific driving finish by his greatest rival, Earle Brydges.

In addition to the dog race The Pas and the whole of northern Manitoba holds a carnival at the same time and goes on for three days for that purpose. The program is typical of the northern frontier.

FRATERNITY MEN TO GATHER IN Y. M. C. A.

The membership of the Phalanx, Y. M. C. A. A. fraternity, will discuss the third annual Western Pennsylvania Young Men's conference scheduled for February 20, 21 and 22 at East Liberty when it meets in the Y tonight. A dinner at 6:30 o'clock will precede the meeting.

ZOOLOGY EASY FOR CHILDREN OF SAN DIEGO

(International News Service)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 18.—Study of zoology by boys and girls of this country is made easy by the O'Rourke Zoology Institute, which was formed in 1926 to promote interest in animal life. Occupying its own building in Balboa Park, the institute has established an enviable record during the four years of its existence.

Each day, after regular school hours, classes are held at the institute building and a staff of 12 instructors, augmented by volunteer teachers, dispenses information in zoological fields. Dr. W. H. Raymond, nationally known scientist who formerly lived in Boston, is largely responsible for the remarkable record which the institute has made.

Starting in a modest way, the institute has extended the scope of its work to include drawing nature study, mineralogy, photography, music and various other branches of science. Research work is done in photographic optics, bacteriology, fresh water biology and geology.

More than 1,000 children per month attend the free classes which are held after school daily and on Saturdays. Nature walks and excursions to isolated sections of the county, to study animal life, are a regular part of the institute's program.

The institute sponsors free public lectures by eminent scientists, travelers and research workers and these lectures draw thousands of boys and girls interested in scientific research.

The institute houses several exhibits, typical of the work which is being carried on, and there is also an extensive technical library available for the use of institute members and patrons.

During the summer vacation, a course in nature lore is offered to children, upon successful completion of which diplomas and certificates are awarded.

WELL-KNOWN MAN PRAISES DIAPEPSIN FOR STOMACH ILLS

"For over two years I had heartburn and gas on my stomach," says A. L. Davidson, popular Navy Yard employee, of 815 Eye Street, S. E., Washington, D. C.

"I would belch often, leaving a sour, hot taste in my mouth. Few things agreed with me.

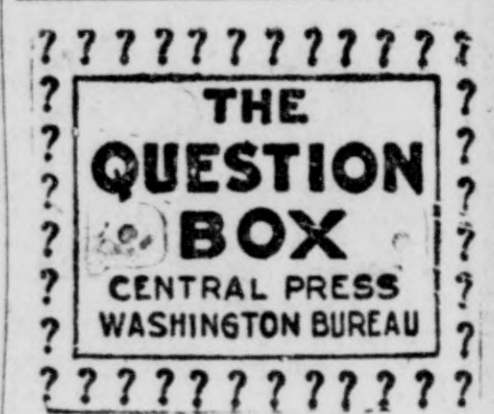

"Then I read about it and got me some Pape's Diapepsin. I had immediate relief from the first few tablets, so I kept on with it. Now I feel fine; eat all the fried foods I want without bad after-effects. I have gained eight pounds since starting on Pape's Diapepsin and my trouble is all gone. The tablets are pleasant to chew and sure get results quickly."

Pape's Diapepsin is the best thing yet discovered to end digestive worries, give tone to a disordered stomach, increase appetite, make digestion vigorous and complete. Its success in so many cases where everything else has failed, proves that.

All drugstores sell these harmless, pleasant tablets. If you prefer to try them before buying, a letter to Pape's Diapepsin, Wheeling, W. Va., will bring a sample box, FREE.

How did Nathan Hale meet his death?

Nathan Hale, a Revolutionary patriot, met his death under circumstances that have made him famous in American history. Early in September, 1776, he entered the British lines disguised as a Dutch school teacher, to obtain some much needed information for the colonists. He secured the information and was about to return when, on the night of September 21, he was recognized and captured. On the following morning he was hanged as a spy. His last words were: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

Why were the British coins guineas, so called? Are they still coined?

The guinea derived its name from the fact that the gold from which the first specimens were coined was brought from the Guinea coast in West Africa. For the same reason it originally bore the impression of an elephant. It was first coined during the reign of Charles II in 1664 and continued in common use until 1817, when it was superseded by the sovereign. It is still customary in Great Britain to estimate professional fees, honoraria of all kinds, complimentary subscriptions, prices of pictures, etc., in guineas.

Who referred to Shakespeare as "an upstart crow?"

The allusion to Shakespeare as "an upstart crow" is contained in a tract by Robert Greene (1590-92) entitled, "A Groats-Worth of Wit, Bought With a Million of Repentance," which was discovered after Greene's death. The story is in part autobiographical.

Thieves certainly are no respecters of persons. They stole a police car in Chicago and a riot gun it contained. In a neighboring state they made off with a pastor's car while he was preaching on sin.—The Rockford Register-Republic.

Bill Is Introduced Providing For Appropriation For Preliminary Plans

The first steps toward the establishment of a State Psychiatric Hospital were taken Tuesday night by Senator Frank J. Harris, Allegheny, in introducing in the Senate a Bill providing for an appropriation of $25,000 to the Department of Property and Supplies for the Department of Welfare for preliminary plans for such Psychiatric Hospital. Pennsylvania has eight state mental hospitals, but no State Psychiatric Hospital.

A Psychiatric Hospital is a special hospital for early diagnosis, treatment, research, and the training of medical personnel in the field of nervous and mental disease.

State Legislature Is In Peculiar Session

(From News Bureau)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—In the history of Pennsylvania legislatures there have been few sessions which rival in peculiar procedure the present one. As one of the rural members remarked recently, "this is the resolutionist session of the legislature ever held".

Everybody, it seems, wants to present a resolution, and then defend it with a sea of words. Figuratively speaking the chandeliers are dripping with adjectives and the desks are strewn with nouns. Speeches, arguments and debates, charges, counter charges and threats, and while all this is going on the real work of the legislature, that of grinding out legislation, is disregarded.

Thus far the house has had some 15 resolutions running the gamut from the price of wheat to a memorial to congress to outlaw war, with the utilities and the public service commission coming in for the major portion of the resolution.

When Governor Gifford Pinchot made his charges against utilities and the public service commission he opened the gate to a flood of resolutions for investigations. Senator William H. Earnest and Senator Samuel Sahn started it with resolutions for joint investigations. Then the senate changed its mind and passed a resolution for a strictly senatorial investigation.

Countering the parries of the senate the house came back with the D. Glenn Moore resolution which called for a joint resolution of the house and senate and carrying an appropriation of $100,000. This carried the house with a whoop and was quickly and efficiently picked in the senate.

Ellwood J. Turner then presented a resolution in the house which provided an appropriation for the senatorial investigation. This met a horrible death. Moore again presented a resolution calling for a strictly house of representatives investigation, which passed on Tuesday morning.

In the meantime the senatorial investigating committee got under way but now is looking for something to investigate. With no funds and no cooperation the senators are finding the sledding rather rough and now the house is ready to step in on the slightest provocation and do a little investigating on its own hook.

Old timers in the house are beginning to wonder where the ship of state is going, if any, and why. Committees are not reporting out bills the calendar is light each day, but the air is heavy with speeches.

Reprisal threats are freely heard on both sides of the legislative fence and unless conditions improve, there is a good possibility that this session will adjourn with little constructive legislation passed. And hovering in the distance is the shadow of an extra session, which the governor has intimated he will call if he finds it necessary.

When the session will adjourn nobody knows and nobody cares to hazard a guess. The past two sessions have adjourned in the middle of April but there appears to be little likelihood of this one doing so.

Annual Banquet Is Held By Y.P.C.U. Of Mercer Presbytery

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Feb. 18.—One hundred and twenty-five young people representing the Y. P. C. U. societies of Mercer Presbytery gathered in the Second U. P. Church of Mercer on Monday evening for their annual banquet with Professor W. D. Gamble of Sharon as the speaker. Much enthusiasm was shown in the group singing led by Tom Sarver, presbyterial president, and in the songs and yells of the societies present.

Mr. Clayton Swickard acted as toastmaster with a seeming inexhaustible supply of wit and humor. William Miller, president of the host society, extended a hearty welcome to the group. Mr. Gerald Spencer responded to the greeting in a challenging way. Professor Gamble, who is superintendent of the Sharon public schools, chose "At the Threshold" as the theme of his address. The speaker suggested opportunity, decision, service, and responsibility as important thresholds at which the Christian youth of today stand. In closing his timely address, Professor Gamble appealed to the young people for their wholehearted support of the highest ideals in civic and religious affairs.

Following the address, Miss Ethel Blair of Grove City College delighted her audience with two humorous readings. Rev. Henry Ostermeier, secretary of young people's work, brought the program to a close with a few well chosen remarks; and Rev. Paul dismissed the gathering with benediction.

Snowden Demands Support Of Party

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 18.—Intimation that he would resign as Chancellor of the Exchequer failed today to halt Socialist attacks on Philip Snowden, who has been under fire since his recent pessimistic review of Britain's financial outlook. At a meeting of all labor ministers, members of Parliament and peers, Snowden again expounded the financial straits of the country and demanded wholehearted support of his party. They listened in gloomy silence.

Sell Ancient Clock To Collector For $1500

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Feb. 18.—A famous English clock of the renowned London clockmaker, Daniel Quare, made in the 17th century, was sold at a recent Vienna auction for $1500. There are only four copies of this clockwork, which runs a whole year, existing in the whole world, and they are much sought after by collectors.

The one sold in Vienna belonged formerly to the famous Austrian art collector, Baron Mauthner. The price at which it was knocked down is said to be exceedingly low.

Ahepans Invite National Chiefs

A reply from national headquarters is now awaited. Members of the chapter here will convene next Sunday afternoon for a regular meeting in the Modern Woodmen of America hall, East Washington street.

RECEPTION AT STATE MANSION

(From News Bureau)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—Legislators forgot their Capitol Hill squabbles for the moment Tuesday evening and with the little wife went down to Front Street where Governor and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot received in the Mansion. As the "Squire Center Gazette" might put it, "a good time was had by all" barring a few score tramped corns and a few gowns which received a baptism of coffee when some careless elbow bumped the owner of the gown.

Each time an executive reception is held, the need of an adequate mansion is seen the more. The present mansion looks to be a relic of the Revolutionary days and is nothing nearly as elaborate as many homes in New Castle. Decades ago it was probably considered one of the show places of Harrisburg but today it is antiquated both as to size and appointment.

For the reception the weatherman turned out as mean a brand of weather as he could dig out. A cold drizzle kept up its constant down-pour on the guests as they made their way to the mansion and many a pair of light hose were stipled as the owner of them walked up the street towards the mansion.

Governor Pinchot and his wife were in the receiving line as were General Shannon and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. C. Jay Goodnough, President Pro Tem of the Senate. Augustus F. Darr, was absent. The guests walked by the receiving line, then to the refectory where a light lunch was served and for the balance of the time they were present stood around discussing politics and the chances of an early adjournment of the session.

Conspicuous by their absence were the Philadelphia members of the House and Senate. A few went down to pay their respects to the governor, but the most of them left for home on Tuesday afternoon.

Disillusioned Thief Writes Complaints

(International News Service)
EAST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 18.—A disappointed burglar who tried unsuccessfully to rob the offices of A. J. Holm, Inc., here left behind him several notes taking the owner to task for making the burglar's job so hard and fruitless. "Why don't you put your money where I can find it?" the thief asked in one note. "Then it wouldn't be necessary to muss up things." Over the wreckage of a desk was a note, "Why the deuce don't you leave this desk unlocked?"

On a sweater he had tried on the burglar pinned an abject note. "Even this sweater doesn't fit me."

flu

EVERY DAY NOW, national and local authorities are issuing urgent requests for precautionary measures against the spread of flu, colds and pneumonia.

Their advice is simple and sensible. The exact cause of flu is not definitely known. But a weakened run-down condition may expose us to greater risks of flu—just as it may expose us to greater risks of other diseases. So the wise thing is to build up our vitality and resistance. Keep free from worry. Avoid exposure and over-fatigue. Get plenty of nourishing food, sleep and exercise. And start at once to take a good, fortifying tonic.

Doctors advise Scott's Emulsion because it brings the remarkable health-building and disease-resisting vitamins of cod-liver oil—in the pleasantest way. Scott's Emulsion is emulsified. So it's free from that strong "fishy" taste. Easier to take.

Easier to digest. And more quickly absorbed into the blood stream. As a result, Scott's Emulsion benefits you almost immediately. It promptly strengthens and revitalizes weakened systems. It improves your weight and appetite. It increases your resistance against the dread attacks of pesky colds and other winter ills.

Wonderful for children! Try Scott's Emulsion for pale, thin children, too. Made of pure, tested Norwegian cod-liver oil, Scott's Emulsion is rich in vitamin A, the growth-promoting vitamin that helps guard against disease. It is rich in vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin that prevents rickets. It also contains vital mineral elements that aid in forming sound bones and teeth. And remember—Scott's Emulsion tastes good! Get a bottle at your druggist's to-day!

Few Appreciated Tip Given Out By Mellon Warning Of Big Slump

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—According to Eugene Meyer Jr., under examination by the senate committee on banking and currency, as to his suitability for the post of governor of the federal reserve board, to which President Hoover recently appointed him, the board seems to him "to have done its best to warn people against the orgy of speculation" preceding the crash of October, 1929.

"But some people," supplemented the veteran financier, "didn't want to be warned."

He might have added that some hadn't sense enough, either.

If ever anyone had a tip, concerning what was to come, handed to him from high authority, I had one handed to me, forecasting that market slump—and never realized it until long after it was all over.

Not that it made a particle of stock exchange difference to me, stocks being a commodity in which I never dabbled in my life.

But oh! what a choice bit of news I lost! through being "too damn dumb" (as Vice President Curtis expresses it, when he wants to convey his idea of the limit of stupidity) to understand what Secretary of the Treasury Mellon (no less an individual) was trying to explain to me and a few others, early in March of 1929, relative to speculative prospects.

In the light of what followed, I know now what he meant, believe me—

He was worried by what Governor Meyer of the reserve board refers to as the then "orgy of speculation," which was wildly rampant in March 1929, as most folk doubtless will remember.

Obviously, however, it cannot have been very easy for him to say so. Imagine!—if he had said so: if he had given it as his considered opinion as secretary of the treasury, that stocks were away too high: that a smash was inevitable.

Naturally the smash would have occurred—right then.

Yes, and what would business men have said about Secretary Mellon?—for precipitating it. Why, he would have been blamed for everything that has happened since then. Of course he would.

Yet he was worried. He wanted to broadcast a warning and he couldn't.

That was just the time when President Hoover was organizing his cabinet.

I, my capacity as a chronicler of Washington events, I was making the rounds of the departments, establishing news relationships with the holders of the various portfolios. In due season, Secretary Mellon's continuation in office having been announced, I thought I ought to look in and refresh my recollections of him.

Accordingly I applied to his chief assistant, John Kieley, for an audience.

"All right," said Kieley, "here are two or three of the newspaper boys waiting to see him now. Go ahead with the rest of them." And in we went, without further formality.

The venerable multi-millionaire was sitting at his desk, smoking a cigarette and looking as subdued and neutral as usual. There appeared to be no information of consequence to give out, and the affair passed off with half a dozen commonplace questions and answers.

It was as we started to file out that the secretary raised a detaining hand, with the air of a man who has been struck by an unimportant afterthought, and we paused inquiringly.

"You m-m-might say," he observed indifferently (he stutters a little) "that I th-th-think this is a g-g-good t-t-t-time to b-b-buy b-b-bonds."

That was all there was to it.

We newspaper chaps consulted outside for a minute, as to whether the bond suggestion amounted to anything. We decided in the negative. A couple of the others did include it in their "stories" but only perfunctorily. For myself I disregarded it entirely, not having been looking for news, anyway, but merely for a "personality" impression. Not knowing the least thing about stocks and bonds, either one, the hint meant nothing in my young life.

In fact, hardly anyone paid a bit of attention to it—only, as I subsequently learned, the merest handful of singularly perspicacious individuals.

I chanced to meet one of them at the club not long ago—a friend of mine, who has a little money—not much, as fortunes count nowadays, but a quarter of a million, maybe.

Although quite active in the market during the early boom period his astuteness in getting out of it unscathed has often been remarked on. He was telling me about it.

"Perhaps, you remember," he said (not knowing of course anything of my call on the treasury secretary) "that 18 months or so ago Andy Mellon advised everybody to buy bonds. Somehow I got a notion that he meant to say, not so much that bonds were especially promising but that he didn't think a great deal of stocks any longer. So I closed out right away. A man who isn't wide awake to such inklings has no business playing the market."

And, at these words, did I, indeed recollect that remark that Secretary Mellon stuttered? Migosh, it was as if a brick house had fallen on me.

Trips To Store Are Educating

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 18.—Sending a child to the grocery store has valuable educational possibilities, according to Dr. Edgar Dale of the bureau of educational research, Ohio State University.

Too often, however, parents regard it only as "running errands" and do not take advantage of the opportunity for practical education.

An investigator stationed at a grocery store, Dr. Dale writes in the Educational Research Bulletin, published by the university, noted the articles purchased by the children. He also estimated each child's age, took down the children's conversation in shorthand, noted their general attitude, the amount of the purchase, whether change was secured and whether it was counted.

Of 106 children observed, 54 were boys and 52 were girls. They ranged in age from four to fifteen years. The four-year old was a girl.

Of 36 children who received change, 25 counted it and 11 did not. In the order named, meat, vegetables, bread, fruit and milk were the most frequent purchases.

Dr. Dale urges sending a child to the store as a means of "fruitful training," especially in the meaning of money and credit, economic indications of varying prices, acquaintance with numbers, and insight into the need for "cooperative effort in our highly independent society."

Sportsmen Aid Rabbit Trapping

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Game Commission officials today cited the efforts of sportsmen in eastern counties who trapped game from an island in the Schuylkill river and then released it as an example which could be followed profitably in many other parts of the State. The trapping was done under the direction of employees of the Commission.

The trappers secured 122 rabbits and seven ring-neck pheasants. All were released in places more easily available to hunters.

Large uninhabited islands make ideal game sanctuaries for game, officials said, but unless trapped or controlled often becomes too plentiful.

Airport To Have Weather Station

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—A weather station, operating on a 24-hour a day basis, will be opened at the Greensburg airport in the near future, it was announced by W. S. Brotzman, U. S. weather observer here.

Brotzman has made arrangements for installation of the station, which will be equipped with forecasting instruments and a teletype system for transmission of weather reports.

Juniata Debate Team Meets Westminster Tonight At Home

Platform Teams To Argue On Unemployment Question

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—Westminster college's varsity debate team opens the season tonight in the Little Theater of the college when it meets a team from Juniata college. The question, Resolved: That the states should pass laws providing for unemployment insurance, will be argued along the Oregon plan of debate.

This system calls for only two speakers on each team. Westminster's representatives will be David Hunter, Bellevue, and Frank Douds Beaver. The first speaker for each side, under the Oregon plan, makes a constructive speech 15 minutes long. The second speaker has but 10 minutes, this time being for cross-examination of the first speaker of the opposing team.

WELLESLEY STUDENTS PREPARE FOR FIRE

(International News Service)

WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 18.—Wellesley college students are not going to be caught napping if the fire menace should threaten their dormitories.

Monthly fire drills held in the early morning or during the evening when all the girls are indoors are now in order under plans announced by Miss Virginia Macomber, a senior from Providence, who has been named fire chief at the college.

Fire captains in the various dormitories will supervise all drills, checking up on the time required to clear the halls, and overseeing the duty it will be to see that every room is emptied.

These precautions are being taken in spite of the fact that all the college buildings are fireproof. The famous college hall fire of 1914 was the last serious blaze there.

It is said that the first American novel was published in 1789 and written by Sarah W. Morton under the title of "Power of Sympathy."

STOMACH ILLS

A Medical Opinion
 "The ideal corrective for 'sour stomach' is calcium carbonate—a powerful anti-acid, incapable of disturbing the normal action of the bowels and bladder, impossible of over-dosage and perfectly safe to use."
 —Your own doctor will endorse this contention from medical authorities.

A Powerful Anti-acid—yet Safe
 Old-fashioned folks, not abreast with medical science, still take burning soda. Occasional doses may do no harm. But Calcium Carbonate, in proper form, is the modern anti-acid: 2½ times as effective as soda, and is safe in its action and gentle in its relief. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the ideal form of Calcium Carbonate combined with other valuable healing ingredients. Medical authorities commend Stuart's formula as the only kind for use with children and best for men and women.

Make This Test!
 Purchase a 25c, handy pocket tin of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from your druggist, use after meals and be convinced that it is not necessary to suffer the distresses of indigestion. At All Drug Stores: 25c and 60c

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

There is no danger of the supply of young singers, actors and dancers running low, for there is enough talent in the juvenile, department of St. Margaret's church to keep the footlights of New Castle's stages burning for a long time.

They staged a production at Lyceum hall, corner of Second and Clayton streets, Tuesday evening, and it was a fine sample of the splendid ability of these youngsters.

Joseph Diffley was the announcer of the evening. He presented each number in a clever manner strictly his own. Music throughout the performance was furnished by Tom Flanagan, violinist and Miss Alice Diffley at the piano.

At the conclusion of the exercises Rev. Fr. A. P. Scholz addressed the audience in a few words thanking them for their attendance in spite of the unfavorable weather. He praised the children for their excellent performance, and referred to the generous applause given the various acts.

Following is the program and cast of characters:
 Two American Bums—John Reimer, Raymond Carlin.
 The Cabin in the Hills—Miss Mary Jones, Miss Henrietta Roman.

Toe dance—Miss Helen Daly, accompanied by Miss Helen Messner. Here comes the Sun—Miss Rita Reichert, Miss Helen Stritzinger. Dolly has the flu—Russell and Phyllis Basterfield.

Tap dance—Miss Mary Ellen Reimer.

Moonlight on the Colorado—Raymond Carlin, John Reimer.

The Stars and Stripes—A tribute to the symbol of our Liberty enacted in aesthetic movements, by the following children: Phyllis Basterfield, Jane Martin, Catherine Clark, Helen Stritzinger, Betty O'Donnell, Betty Sullivan, Mary Jones, Anna Mae Aquara, Henrietta Roman, Margaret Reichert, Laura Mae Martin, Eleanor Mrozek, Della Gallagher.

The audience joined in the finale "The Star Spangled Banner" and upon leaving, all agreed that the children carried off the performance with professional style. The main reason the program was given, as Father Scholz explained, was to give the youngsters a chance to appear in front of an audience so that they may become more confident of their abilities, etc.

Mrs. Mary Jones directed "Happy Days" and R. C. Gallagher produced it.

Formal Installation To Take Place Over Week-End

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—Two local sororities at Westminster college will become chapters of national sororities with formal installation of chapters over the coming week-end. These two sororities are Pi Rho Phi and Phi Delta Chi.

Pi Rho Phi, the oldest women's organization at Westminster, was organized in 1905. It has the largest group of alumnae of any of the seven sororities on the campus. This local group will become Upsilon chapter of the Theta Upsilon sorority.

Phi Delta Chi sorority, organized at Westminster in 1926, will become Alpha Phi chapter in Beta province of Kappa Delta sorority.

Initiation and installation of these two local groups into the respective national organizations will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

For the most part, Thursday will be taken up with formal initiation of active members. Friday with initiation of alumnae and conferring of second degrees, Saturday afternoon with installation and conferring of third degrees, and Saturday evening with banquets.

Pi Rho Phi, which becomes Theta Upsilon, will hold its banquet in formal fashion Saturday night at the Castleton hotel, New Castle. Phi Delta Chi, which becomes Kappa Delta, will climax its installation and initiation with a banquet at the Field club, New Castle, on Saturday evening.

National officers and province executives of the two national groups will be guests of the sororities and will have charge of installing the chapters.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them, 15c, 30c, 60c.

Mother of Four Babies

"Although I am only 22 years old, I have four babies to care for. Before my first baby was born my mother urged me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was so terribly weak. Road Building Declared Most Vital To Mexico

International Highway West Coast Is Planned

By RICHARD C. WILSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18.—Road building is more important to Mexico at this time than the agriculture and public education problems is the expressed belief of President Ortiz Rubio.

Closing a series of conferences in which governors of states and other officials participated, the presidents urged united cooperation to bring about completion of the Pacific international highway, down the west coast of Mexico to Mexico City.

This highway, it is planned, will eventually join Alaska with Argentina by way of the west coast of the United States. Present plans of Mexican officials call for completion of the unit across Mexico within two years.

"While agriculture and public education are important issues in Mexico," the president told the conference "roads should be given preference because they will automatically settle agricultural and educational problems."

"Highways will permit more extensive cultivation of lands and will open new markets for agricultural products. Past experience has demonstrated that the Mexican Indians don't wait for schools to be taken to them when means of communication are offered. They send their children to school when the means of travel is provided."

The conference held here was a prolongation of the conference held in Los Angeles several weeks ago. Colonel Filiberto Gomez, governor of the state of Mexico and one of the most enthusiastic officials, presided over the conference.

"Highways will be the salvation of Mexico," Governor Gomez, who has spent considerable time studying highway construction in the United States, told International News Service.

"They will promote the standard of living by aiding the development of agriculture and industry. In addition they will bring thousands of tourists to Mexico, especially from the United States, and we are already making plans to accommodate the tourists."

He said the government has already made provision to regulate all tourists camps built along Mexican highways. The government will require that all tourist camps and other structure erected along national highways be of typical Mexican architecture. This move is aimed to prevent the highways from becoming infested with "eye sores" and billboards he said.

Trade Seeds With Japan For Tests On Forest Land

Harrisburg, Feb. 18.—The Pennsylvania Forest Research Institute, maintained by the State Department of Forests and Waters at Mont Alto, Franklin county, has shipped fifteen pounds of native Pennsylvania white ash, black walnut, and honey locust seeds to the Forest Experiment Station at Keijo, Korea, where the Japanese government maintains a nursery for experimenting with foreign tree species to determine their suitability for timber production under the conditions of soil and climate found there.

In return the Forest Research Institute has received from the Japanese Forest Experiment Station seeds of pine, juniper, beech, alder, maple, and other Asiatic and Siberian tree species. Seedlings from these foreign tree seeds will be raised in the Mont Alto State Forest Tree Nursery.

Experimental plantings have shown that many foreign tree species are adapted to the soil and climatic conditions of Pennsylvania. The Forest Research Institute maintains complete records of the growth and establishment of plantations of such exotic species as Japanese larch, European larch, Norway spruce, Scotch pine, Japanese ree pine, Japanese black pine, Austrian pine, Hinoki cedar, Swara cedar and Chinese chestnut in addition to extensive plantations of native species.

Gandhi-Lord Irwin Resume Conference Looking To Peace

Atmosphere of Extreme Cordiality As Viceroy Interviews "Holy Man"

Britain Willing To Grant Demand If Campaign Is Brought To Halt

(International News Service)
BOMBAY, Feb. 18.—Favored with an atmosphere of extreme cordiality suffused by the first "man to man" conference on mutual Indian problems, Mahatma M. K. Gandhi and Lord Irwin, Viceroy, will continue at New Delhi today in a more or less personal manner to survey the road to peace in India.

The shrewd, nutbrown, "Holy Man" symbolizing the country's swarming millions and who remains the heart and soul of the independence movement, was closeted for more than four hours with Lord Irwin, representative of Britain's might. He left the vice-regal palace at sundown, his toothless smile indicating better than spoken comment that the day's heart-to-heart talk had proved more than satisfactory.

Gandhi Quaintly Attired
Emancipated Gandhi, attired in the traditional loincloth and horn-shaped cap, shook hands with the Viceroy before hurrying away to his quarters for evening prayers. He was driven off in a small American automobile.

Gandhi journeyed to New Delhi at the Viceroy's invitation, and after requesting the opportunity to meet him for a "man to man" chat. While both men insisted there was no particular significance attached to such a meeting, official circles felt that the get-together, which will last several more days, may eventually lead to abandonment of the Nationalists' civil disobedience campaign and a definite settlement of Indian trouble.

Before going to New Delhi, Gandhi conferred at length with India's representatives to the recent London roundtable conference, where Premier MacDonald proposed a future qualified dominion status for the country. He availed himself of first hand information on all developments and attitudes there.

Await Decision
It was known here that Lord Irwin already has informed Gandhi that Britain is willing to grant most of his demands in return for cessation of the civil disobedience and cooperation in the drafting of a constitution for India in accordance with the roundtable agreement.

The next few days will probably bring a definite decision on Gandhi's part.

At the start of today's conference Gandhi arranged for termination of the meeting before sundown in order not to miss his evening meal. Yesterday he left the Viceroy after darkness had fallen, which compelled him to abide by his vow not to eat after sunset.

Plenty Of Books But No Bible In Co. Law Library

Discovery Is Made By Court Crier E. H. Grace When He Asks For Bible

Although there are hundreds of books in the Lawrence county law library, it was discovered this morning that there is no Bible. The discovery was made by E. H. Grace, court crier, who came in to look at a Bible. He wanted to settle an argument he was having with one of the tipstaves. He was astonished to find that there was no Bible in the library. Several attorneys present had heard of such a book, but never remembered having occasion to use it—in the law library.

The nearest Bible to the law library is found in the desk of Promotory R. M. Campbell in court room No. 1. At long intervals it is used in administering an oath to a witness, who objects to being sworn in the regular way. The custom is for the witness to place his hands on the Bible.

"Pay-Roll Racketeering" In Washington Revealed

Rep. U. S. Stone, Oklahoma, Will Demand Hearing On His Bill

Would Prevent Congressmen And Senators From Hiring Wives-Daughters

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Declaring he has ample evidence of congressional "pay-roll racketeering," Rep. U. S. Stone (R) of Oklahoma today requested the expenditures committee for a hearing on his bill to bar relatives of members from the pay roll, and abolish the "cut" of members in employees' salaries.

The Oklahoma congressman, who previously had aroused the ire of many members by denouncing drinking by dry-voting members, declared that would "shock the nation" if given a hearing.

His request for action was addressed to Rep. Williamson (R) of South Dakota, chairman of the expenditures committee, which is charged with the duty of effecting economies in the government.

Has Evidence.
Stone's bill is directed chiefly at the practice of members of putting their wives, daughters or others on their pay rolls as clerks, when they do no work.

It also is intended to stop a practice of some members of requiring employees, relatives or others, to return their checks to the members, who cash them.

"I've got letters from all over the country praising this bill," said Stone. "I've got a lot of information in the letters, too, which would shock the country."

Stone said one southwestern senator has his wife and sister-in-law on the pay roll for a total of $6,300. Neither does any work, he says.

Daughter-Son Paid.
"A member of the house who said he was with me pointed to another member, said he was worth a million dollars and yet he had a daughter in school at Vassar drawing a pay check from the government and a son at West Point doing the same thing," said Stone.

The bill to end "pay roll racketeering" hasn't been received very kindly in Washington, Stone said. He declared that there was an apparent effort to block some of his appointments as a result. He exhibited many letters received since he introduced his bill.

One letter from a girl said: "I worked several years in Washington as a stenographer and secretary on the house and also on the senate side, and in both cases some one was drawing part of the salary, doing nothing, while I was doing the work."

Paid While Touring.
Another letter, enclosing a clipping of a congressman's daughter's return from Europe said she received $3,100 from the government while touring Europe and that other employes who did her work got nothing extra.

Still another letter from a girl said she was engaged as secretary to a member of the house at $2,760 a year. After she took the job she was required to give the member $105 a month for five months. He then reduced his "cut" to $80 a month, and later, during the summer vacation, reduced her to $20 a month to receive mail. She quit.

Stone declares that members who receive $10,000 a year, free office rent and liberal mileage, have no moral right to retain part of their clerk hire and other allowances, especially in times of unemployment.

Pennsylvania Manufacturers Are Victimized

Department Of Labor And Industry Exposes New "Racket" System

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—If you are a Pennsylvania manufacturer and happen to be visited by a couple of solicitors who represent themselves as State factory inspectors and try to persuade you to contribute to an "Inspectors Association," intimating that your generosity will induce "the boys" to be easier on you—call the police. This is the advice of Dr. A. M. Northrup, Secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry. Through long and persistent effort on the part of Harry D. Immel, director of the bureau of inspection, Department of Labor and Industry, two men have been committed to jail in Reading accused of being operators of this alleged "racket" which has given much concern to State officials and has cost industry many dollars in the last few years.

The accused gave their names as John P. Luxem and P. G. McKee. They were charged with false pretense by Supervising Inspector Buckingham of the bureau of inspection, who with the assistance of the State Police, arrested the men while they were alleged to be operating in Berks county. They were held for court by Alderman Castner. A number of Reading Manufacturers attended the hearing to exhibit receipts for sums from $25 upwards which they contributed this year or last.

Both the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce and the National Business Bureau, Incorporated, have issued warnings to their memberships concerning the practices of men representing themselves as agents of a so-called "Building, Factory and Mining Inspectors Association." In Reading the pressure of the accused men exerted on manufacturers brought protests sufficiently vigorous to attract the attention of Gus A. Rogers, the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Representative.

Declares Cities Should Operate Own Airports

By JAMES E. HILEMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 18.—Airports of the nation should be publicly owned and operated.

This was the opinion expressed by Colonel Richard B. Barnitz, director of airports for Los Angeles, in a recent report to the Department of Commerce Division of Aeronautics.

Colonel Barnitz believes airport development and operation should be municipally controlled "because the purpose of the airfields is to serve the public."

A report of the Department of Commerce Division of Aeronautics for 1930 revealed that commercially owned airports exceeded by only 40 per cent those conducted municipally, he said.

In his report to the Aeronautics Division, Colonel Barnitz compared airports with other public utilities. "Generally speaking, airport development is a municipal undertaking," he said. "Only through public ownership and operation can the permanence of airport development be assured. Airports are aircraft what docks and harbors are to ships; rights-of-way and terminals are to trains, what streets and highways are to motor cars. These modes of transportation would be seriously hampered if they were not assured of the permanence of their facilities on which they depend for operation," Barnitz said.

His report stated further that airports of the future will be conducted under rigid rules. Stunt flying now is a thing of the past he said. More and more airport officials are stressing the necessity that extreme precautions be taken by their pilots in order to insure the largest margin of safety for their passengers.

"The modern airport administrator is as averse to stunt flying as a marine harbor executive would be to stunt navigation," Barnitz stated. "Airports can attract large crowds by staging stunt programs. People like to see how near a pilot can come to killing himself. But it is the worst possible advertisement for the furthering of aviation," he said.

The Los Angeles airport, of which Colonel Barnitz is chief executive is an example of a well managed and safely conducted airport. It is municipally controlled and considered one of the finest in the nation, being situated in ideal meteorological conditions which insure safety during landings and take-offs.

BIBLE CLASSES ATTEND SERVICE

Large Delegation Hears Dr. Peacock On Tuesday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 18.—A fine representation of the Bible classes of the local church present last night as Rev. Dr. Luther K. Peacock, evangelist called the roll at the revival service. The auditorium of the U. P. church was comfortably filled.

A special musical number entitled "Beulah Land" by a double male quartet from the Baptist Church was well rendered and graciously received by the congregation. Dr. Peacock based his message on the subject of Courage and Will Power, which was obtained from the text. The speaker asserted that promises made to God by many people have been forgotten. The people lack the courage to follow Jesus through. These are weighed in the balance and found wanting. He warned, that unless the people of Ellwood City follow Christ by prayer, personal work, self-sacrifice, Jesus will pass by and leave them to work out their own salvation. Multitudes of people have courage to face the duties of this world, but no courage to do the will of God.

It takes will power to do the will of God. Now is the time to dedicate your life to God. Excuses will only rob you of eternal life. The doctor then gave an invitation to all those that wished to re-dedicate their lives to God to step on to the platform and the response was far greater than expected. Nearly 100 souls stepped forward and pledged their lives a-new to God.

Rev. J. A. King was the presiding minister and the scripture was read by Rev. Victor Harsany and a prayer led by Rev. W. E. Minter.

Services will be continued every night this week at 7:30 and all indications show that it will be a banner night every day.

S. Army. General Edwards spent ten months on front-line duty in the World War.

(From News Bureau)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—

Political appointment and ability often go hand in hand. Not always, of course, for political expediency sometimes overrides ability, to the detriment of the office and the people. In the choice of Lewis Staley as Secretary of Forests and Waters, Governor Pinchot has selected a man whose life for the past quarter of a century and more has been bound up with the great outdoors.

When the appointment of Mr. Staley was announced his address was given as South Carolina where he was State Forester. Many who did not know him thought that the governor of Pennsylvania had gone far afield in choosing a cabinet member. Actually he was merely bringing Mr. Staley back home for he is a Pennsylvanian.

For twenty three years prior to 1927 he was in the Department of Forests and Waters, serving as Deputy Secretary. In 1927 the State of South Carolina, sensing the need of a thoroughly organized department of forests, asked Mr. Staley to come down and organize and direct their work. He went, and in a short time had an organization functioning that produced results in record time. His work in South Carolina elicited the praise of many universities and it seemed that Pennsylvania had lost a valuable man.

Shortly before he took office Governor Pinchot announced that he had asked Mr. Staley to come back home and head the department with which he had been associated for so many years. He accepted and in the next four years Pennsylvania will have a man who knows his work, whose very life is wrapped up in conversation of the forests and waters, heading this interesting phase of state government.

Mr. Staley has one hobby, and that is to cover as much barren acreage in Pennsylvania as he can, with trees. "It is a vital question, this one of reforestation," said he. "Too long have we been destroying forests and making no very considerable headway in replacing the trees with new ones. During my administration I hope to be able to see hundreds of thousands of trees planted on the mountain sides and in the waste timber land. It will pay us big dividends in future years. We are planting today for our children, and our children's children. The money we spend today will come back to them many times over."

State parks are another hobby of Mr. Staley's. It is his belief that the state must provide breathing spots for the people of the crowded cities, and were it possible immediately, he would have the state take over beauty spots in various parts of the state for that purpose. Such a work would require too much money to be done immediately, but it is an idea that will grow as time goes on.

His attention was drawn to some of the natural wonders of Lawrence County, the possibilities of some of the sections along the Slippery Rock as a state park and he expressed an interest in seeing for himself what Lawrence County has. Some day, perhaps next summer, Mr. Staley has promised to come out to Lawrence County and see for himself the beauties of Kennedy's Mill, McConnell's Mills, Hell's Hollow and the many other natural beauties which abound in Lawrence County.

His immediate job is to get his own department functioning better than ever has, to make as he expressed it the state "tree and plant conscious" and to do his utmost to give back to Pennsylvania the trees which have gone to build homes and factories.

You can't expect to have a good clear fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows sallow and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a teaspoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again see how much keener your appetite is—watch how quickly skin begins to grow free of disfiguring eruptions. The cost of Tanlac is less than 2c a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

It Doesn't Pay to take chances on inferior grades to save a few pennies.

Bankers Honor Chief Of Police Who Got Bandits

Hugh Harper Gains Nation
Wide Fame Through Capture

PAY OFF MORTGAGE
ON CHIEF'S HOME

By RICHARD RANDOLPH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Feb. 18.—The long trail of the wily bandit chief, William H. (Little Jake) Fleagle, which led to his being shot down and killed in a train at Branson, Mo., last October, had a happy ending for Chief of Police Hugh D. Harper, of Colorado Springs, who earned nation wide fame through his efforts in bringing the desperado to justice.

A group of bankers and business men in Harper's home town and throughout the state of Colorado recently presented him with a paid-up mortgage to his home here, said to be worth $4,000. Brothers in his lodge also presented him with a valuable platinum ring and designated him as one of the most valuable citizens in the state.

Chief Harper for more than two years camped on the trail of Fleagle and finally cornered him in Missouri where the bandit was shot and killed by members of the group of postal inspectors and detectives who were working with Harper.

Fleagle, his brother Ralph, George Abshier and Howard Royston held up and robbed a bank at Lamar, Colorado, in May, 1923, killing four people. Although the crime was not committed in this city, Harper received the financial backing of Colorado bankers and set out to make the state safe for bankers.

The story of the tracking down of the notorious gang, the hanging of Fleagle's three companions, and the eventual killing of Fleagle himself is one of the most thrilling tales of crime detection in the history of the west. The Federal Government, because of Fleagle's participation in postal robberies, joined in the hunt and threw its nationwide resources into the search for the "master criminal."

As it had captured the imagination of the entire nation, Harper's exploit made an especially strong appeal to Colorado bankers, who feel that their business has been made safer as a result.

A movement was started among Colorado bankers to reward Harper for his work. At first carried on secretly, news of the movement to raise funds to reward Chief Harper spread throughout the state, and other bankers asked to be allowed to contribute.

In accepting the ring from the lodge brothers Harper expressed appreciation for the aid given him by United States postal authorities, saying the cooperation of the government operatives and of peace officers in various parts of the country had made possible the 100 per cent extermination of the Fleagle gang. Ralph Fleagle, Royston and Abshier were hanged at the Colorado penitentiary last July for their part in the Lamar robbery and killings.

Farmers Request 22,265 Bulletins

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Farmers and others interested in agriculture in Pennsylvania requested 22,265 bulletins of the state department of agriculture during 1936, records indicate. This number is in addition to approximately 35,000 copies of publications which were distributed to persons on the regular mailing lists of the department.

The monthly records kept by the departments mailing room show that farmers request more information during the late fall and winter months, than during the spring and summer period when field work is in progress. Approximately 1500 more bulletins are mailed each month from October to March than from March to October.

Among the most popular publications of the department judging from the 1936 requests are: No. 342, Insect Pests of the Household; No. 448, Pennsylvania Weeds; No. 453, Poultry Diseases; No. 454, Direct Marketing of Farm Products in Pennsylvania; No. 469, European Corn Borer in Pennsylvania; No. 471, Seed Potato Certification in Pennsylvania; No. 473, The Japanese Beetle in Pennsylvania; No. 185, Food Standards and Definitions; No. 489, The Mexican Bean Beetle.

Explorer Praises Arctic Tribesmen

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—A tribe of people who in many respects are far superior to other races which live in more temperate portions of the world, lives peacefully deep in the snow of the Arctic circle, according to Capt. Donald B. MacMillan, noted explorer who recently visited her.

Capt. MacMillan, a college professor and a sailor on the northern seas for 23 years, declares this tribe to be physically keener and with minds above the average man.

This Smith Sound tribe of Northern Greenland lives entirely on meat," he said. "The people have discovered that the vitamin necessary to prevent scurvy is in raw meat."

"They intermarry within their immediate families without any of the dire results, such as insanity or malformed children prophesied by our scientists."

Their ears and eyes and other senses are more keen than any domesticated dog's and their minds are grapple with problems that have never been solved by our thinkers."

Spring Hats To Have One Brim Of Importance

New Head Gear Is Said To
Be Much One Sided

By ALICE LANGLEIER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Spring hats are going to be brim full of chic, but this means one side only. One-sided brims are the rule for first early bonnets now appearing, or at any rate, one brim must be longer and more important than the other.

Gaby Monod, one of Paris' smartest modistes, is showing a new model in white yedda with the brim turned off the face and trimmed with grosgrain ribbon in two shades of blue. An ocean-blue pilot straw hat has a speckled pheasant quill laid across the upturned front of the brim which is much longer on the right side.

Patou makes a one-sided shape in linen blue sisol with novel trimming of pink and blue galalith buttons and the edge overturned in pink thread.

Dressier brimmed hats will have tricky effects, as for instance brims quite long in front or in back but not in both places.

Cloches will have three or four inch brims this spring and most of them have their crowns so shallow that the brim, often wired, stands up from the forehead in bonnet effect.

There will also be many draped, knotted and pinched brims, in fact, every kind of brim that Madame wants. Very popular is the brim with the length at back of the neck and lifted to simulate a bandeau in front. It is not wide at the sides.

In Paris the chic Parisienne is wearing: Little toques of black, gray or brown astrakhan in shaded tones, slightly lifted at the sides and poised on the back of the head showing only a bid of very carefully waved hair.

An original toque of wool encrusted with astrakhan, recalls the toreador's cap. The clip is posed on the hair and holds the little veil of large mesh.

Silk stockings in sombre tones, brown and smoke-gray, of very fine mesh and without side "clocks." Up to the present season, the Parisienne has always stuck to her "grisottes."

Soft black suede gloves, very supple and wide at the wrist, folded back to show a white lining.

Afternoon frocks of crepe de chine in two contrasting tones, blue and white, black and white, rose and black, brown and champagne, the lighter tone forming a kind of yoke-piece and the sleeves.

The diamond clip holds the delicate draped over the lingerie corsage for afternoon gowns and on evening gowns is worn in the center of the back.

A great deal of brown antelope bag and shoes matching the fur of the coat or its trimmings.

Held as Slayer

"Let me alone or I'll drill you!" These are the words which witnesses told a Los Angeles court Julia Tapia (above), a native of Spain, uttered, when it is alleged she fired a bullet through the breast of Manuel Quintana as he clung to the running board of her auto. She has been held on a charge of first degree murder.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

1. Benedict Arnold—Arnold And Montgomery Before Quebec

NOVEMBER 13, 1775, BENEDICT ARNOLD ARRIVED AT THE BANK OF THE ST. LAWRENCE OPPOSITE QUEBEC. MONTGOMERY HAD NOT YET ARRIVED, AND ARNOLD FOUND HIS OWN LITTLE ARMY OF 700 OPPOSED BY NEARLY TWICE AS MANY BRITISH TROOPS IN THE CITY.

THE GARRISON OF QUEBEC WAS GREATLY STRENGTHENED WHEN GOVERNOR CARLETON, WITH A BRITISH FORCE, ELUDED MONTGOMERY AND RETREATED INTO THE CITY.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

EVEN WHEN MONTGOMERY FINALLY JOINED ARNOLD BEFORE QUEBEC THE MOTLEY AMERICAN ARMY BARELY EQUALLED THE NUMERICAL STRENGTH OF THE BRITISH FORCES IN THE CITY, WHICH HAD THE ADVANTAGES OF A STRONG NATURAL POSITION, HEAVIER ARTILLERY, ABUNDANT SUPPLIES AND A FLEET.

ILL-PREPARED TO LAY SIEGE TO THE ENEMY'S STRONGHOLD, AND WITH THE ENLISTMENTS OF A LARGE PORTION OF THEIR ARMY ABOUT TO EXPIRE, MONTGOMERY AND ARNOLD RESOLVED TO ATTACK QUEBEC AT ONCE AND ATTEMPT TO TAKE THE CITY BY STORM.

New Castle Defeats Ellwood City, 23-11

Locals Look Impressive In Defeating Blue And White Quint Tuesday

Uram Brothers Star For New Castle; Victory Is Sixteenth Straight

Before one of the largest crowds of the season the New Castle high school undefeated quintet registered its 16th straight victory on Tuesday night at the local W. P. I. A. L. contenders handed Ellwood City high a 23-11 setback in a Section Three contest. Having topped this threatening hurdle, New Castle will now prepare for its hardest battle of the season on Friday night with Butler.

The large crowd which jammed its way to the local court to watch the contest was given a real basketball treat in the first period when the Tube City cagers opened up with a puzzling attack that had the local boys guessing for a while. Ellwood City played a sweet brand of ball in the opening canto, holding the Coach Bridenbaugh boys to a 5-2 score.

After two minutes of play N. Uram sank a pretty shot from near mid-floor. This same Uram made two fouls to give the locals a five-point lead. Latiano sank a foul for the visiting team. Kennedy made one of two fouls as the quarter ended, 5-2, New Castle leading.

In the second quarter Ellwood City continued to play the same kind of basketball it had demonstrated in the initial session until the latter part of the quarter when the local passers sank in two field goals in rapid order. The first half ended 11-2 with the locals still holding the top berth. N. Uram made one out of two fouls in this quarter while Lasky registered a pretty shot from the foul line. Reiber, New Castle's new guard, dribbled the length of the floor for his goal in this period and also sank a foul.

Ellwood City failed to account for any markers in this quarter. In the third quarter the senior high boys came back strong, scoring 10 more points which gave the Tin City a healthy lead as the third period ended 21-2. The Tube City boys were held scoreless in this chapter also. In this quarter Jimmy Uram made two spectacular shots from the side. Andy Lasky accounted for another goal and a foul. J. Shaffer made a double decker under the basket for New Castle's other two points. The score at the end of the third quarter favored New Castle 21-2.

Ellwood City Scores.
The Ellwood City boys tried desperately to score on the New Castle boys and finally came through with their first field goal in the fourth quarter when Rossman made a goal on a follow up shot. Cloak soon followed suit with a goal from the center of the court. Dudick sank in two pretty shots from near the center of the court as the contest ended 23-11 with New Castle the winner. N. Uram scored the local team's two points on a shot near the foul line. Coach Bridenbaugh was pleased with the exhibition his boys gave last night. So were the fans who watched the contest. Ellwood City played a good game but was pitted against a better quintet. The victory Tuesday night was an important one for New Castle.

The contest insured the senior high cagers a deadlock in Section Three should Butler turn the locals down next Friday night at Butler. Coach Bridenbaugh with two boys left to drill his boys in preparation for the important tilt Friday, will give his team careful consideration. A victory over Butler will mean the Section Three title and the 17th straight victory of the present season.

New Castle Maidens Tumble Ellwood City

Senior High Sextets Look Good In 31-18 Victory Over Ellwood City

Taking an early lead and holding it throughout the contest, an impressive New Castle high school girls floor team defeated the fast Ellwood City maidens by a 31-18 score in the preliminary game to the New Castle-Ellwood City contest at Senior high floor on Tuesday evening.

In the first period the Coach Sal McGoun team piled up a 11-4 lead and at the half were on top by a 21-10 score. Miss Byers at the forward post for New Castle played a whale of a game caging eight baskets while Miss Confer connected for three goals and another overhead shot which counted for one point.

Miss Keek at the guard position played well for the locals. For Ellwood City the playing of Sibole and Jordan was the best for the defeated Ellwood maidens. The New Castle girls evened up for a defeat at the hands of the Tube City combination earlier in the season.

The summary follows:
New Castle 31 Ellwood City 18
Confer F 10

Cangey Eligible For State Bouts

Hysteria Often Hits Fighters After They Participate In Battles

KILBANE CLAIMS HE IS EXCITABLE

Principle means a lot regardless of what business or sport a man may be pursuing, but Paris Kid Cangey demonstrated principle when he fought Mickey Duris Monday night. Paris may have lost the award but the fight fans who know him best are of the opinion that it may not be long until he will again meet Duris and they would not be surprised were he to reverse the verdict.

Cangey has been out of ring service for some time and while his physical condition was tip-top his timing was bad and we believe that had he carried the fight to Duris instead of waiting to counter on the Johnsonville butler he would have fared much better. In other words, Cangey should have crowded Duris and by so doing would probably have got a chance to use his hooks at close range.

Paris had failed to comply with some of the regulations of the state athletic commission and was suspended. Ed Fritz discussed the ban with Cangey and Jimmy Dime and Paris agreed to do anything Fritz asked and he was told to meet the requirements of the commission, which he did. He promised to do so and the ban was lifted.

While the crowd of 1000 was trekking into the bowl Cangey arrived and noted the bowl was not packed. "I don't care. I'm here to fight and to go through with whatever I promised. I'm going to do my best." There is no doubt he did and with plenty of future boxing he can do much better.

After the fight Cangey paid his fine, which amounted to $50, to the deputy boxing commissioner and as a result of his keeping his word he is now eligible to appear anywhere in the states of Pennsylvania and New York and it looks as though Jimmy Dime will book him in nearby cities. When he gets going right he will tackle Duris again in hopes of reversing the decision.

Talking about reaction, take the case of Johnny Banko, the up and coming Slavish lad, who turned in a one-round knockout over Billy Frenkel. Very few fans anticipated a one-round victory. After the fight Johnny walked to his dressing room. A brother patted him on the shoulder. (Continued On Next Page)

Games On Friday Are Important Ones In Different Sectional Races

According to Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of the New Castle high school, the tentative date set by the W. P. I. A. Should too many deadlocks result, the committee will arrange for play-off of sectional titles on floors near the home territory of the winning teams.

Games scheduled for Friday night will have important bearings in different sections. The W. P. I. A. L. committee will hold a meeting on Saturday morning at the Fort Pitt hotel in Pittsburgh, Pa., when final plans for the tournament will be made.

Westminster Faces Thiel In Home Game Saturday Night

Lutherans Will Force Titans To Limit In Contest

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—Tired, but happy, Coach "Pop" Harrison's Westminster College basketball team returned yesterday from their brilliant conquest of Bethany at Bethany, West Virginia. Drills scheduled for tonight are necessarily light, but tomorrow night will find the Westminster squad going at top speed in preparation for the threatening invasion by Thiel here Saturday night.

The Lutherans openly boast that they plan to complete the job they started on the Titans in the Thiel gym two weeks ago when they all but nosed out the Titans. Coach Benson's team will offer a very serious threat to the Titans in their debut night for district honors, so Saturday night's game looms very important indeed.

But the Titan players are determined to keep Thiel from duplicating the humiliating thing of holding them scoreless while they chalked up 11 points in the Westminster game. Every man on the Westminster resolved that night at Greenville to play a better brand of ball against the Lutherans when they travel to New Wilmington.

With Douglas back in scoring stride, with Rice and Fisher continuing their great defensive work with Blamer a very excellent substitute guard, with Brownlee continuing to set the pace for opposing centers, and with Koehran, Hamas, Siljander, Newton, Considine, and Bobby all improving in scoring, the Titans will give Thiel plenty of competition Saturday.

Pipgras' Illness Tough Blow To Yankee Pennant Hopes

By JACK SORDS

Central Press Sports Artist
Possible loss of George Pipgras, ace Yankee hurler, until mid-season has given Manager Joe McCarthy's pennant plans a terrific blow.

McCarthy was depending on Pip. George was expected to shoulder a great part of the hurling burden this year. And it is good pitching that McCarthy needs most if he is to take his charges past Washington and the Athletics, not to mention Cleveland in the 1931 flag battle!

Now comes news that Pip will be unavailable possibly until June, surely until late May, due to an attack of appendicitis. And it is in the early spring games that McCarthy hopes to get a jump on his rivals!

Without Pip until the race nears the half-way mark McCarthy must rely on Herb Pennock, who is well on the down grade from his heights of greatness, and Charley Ruffing, Ed Wells, Roy Sherid, Henry Johnson, a quartet of fairly dependable, but not expected to set the league afire.

Of course, Jim Weaver or young McEvoy or any one of the other youngsters such as Vernon Gomez, the Coast league star, may come through in grand style and give Joe the help he expected from Pip. But that's small comfort to a manager who has just lost his ace for two months and possibly three.

Loss of Pipgras has spurred the Yankees ownership to desperate effort to obtain an experienced hurler. But as this is written they have been unsuccessful chiefly because no other American league club cares to see a rival team strengthened, especially in a tight race as the 1931 American league, gallop promises to be.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Harry Leibold who has been at the helm of Columbus, A. A. Club for several years will manage the team again this year according to Larry Macphall, new owner of the club. The team will train at Lakeland, Fla.

Erie will make an application for a franchise in the New York-Pennsylvania league.

William F. Carey, Madison Square garden, has not selected the site of the Schmeling-Stribling fight.

Rene La Coste, French tennis ace, underwent an appendix operation in Paris yesterday.

Volley Ball Team Opposes Tarentum In Match Tonight

Local Association's Game With Visiting "Y" Team To Prove Interesting

The New Castle "Y" varsity volleyball team will play a five game match with the Tarentum "Y" varsity tonight at the Y. M. C. A. gym. This is the first time New Castle has played Tarentum "Y" this season. This should be one of the best tilts. New Castle team so far this year has chalked up 28 victories against 10 losses, which in itself is a splendid record.

The New Castle Volley Ball committee is getting ready to forward literature on the Central West district championship tournament for Volley Ball to be held at the New Castle "Y" sometime in March. The game tonight is free to the public and will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Butler Defeats Mars High, 25-17

Game Friday Between New Castle And Butler Means Title And Deadlock

While the New Castle high team was handing Ellwood City a 23-11 setback, Butler high, New Castle's nearest competitor for Section Three honors was disposing of Mars by a 25-17 score in a game played at Mars. As a result of its impressive victory over Mars, Butler high has a fighting chance of getting a trip to Pitt Stadium.

The victory for the Soap Miners meant that they still trail the Castles by the small margin of one game. All eyes in this section will be focused in Butler Friday night when Coach Bridenbaugh presents his undefeated cagers against Butler. A victory for New Castle will mean the Section Three title while a defeat will result in a deadlock with Butler for the Section Three honors.

Both Butler and New Castle start practice this afternoon for this important tilt. The Butler boys have been defeated once this season, New Castle turning the trick. Butler will be out next Friday night to avenge for the setback and also to get a tie for sectional honors.

New Castle in topping Ellwood City looked good. Ellwood City presented one of the best defense seen this season at Senior high. New Castle earned every one of those 23 markers. Zellenople won its first game of the season on Tuesday night defeating Evans City. The defeat placed Evans City in the cellar berth.

JOE TRAINS FOR MAT GAME DEBUT

Tossing his gargantuan playmate, "Doc" Mulhikin, around, Joe Dempsey, former Notre Dame football star, polishes up his wrestling technique as he trains at Santa Monica, Cal., for his mat debut.

With "Mallets" Toward None

The charge of the Light Brigade could hardly have exceeded the enthusiasm of these millionaire sportmen as they charged after the ball in a friendly game at Miami Beach. Incidentally it looks as if the cameraman had a close shave from these fleet ponies.

Stove League Gossip

Mr. Rogers Hornsby, arriving on the Pacific coast to complete Cub training plans on Catalina Island, was immediately surrounded by questioning scribes. So the Rajah found a comfortable divan and did some talking.

"You know what would be a great thing?" he asked. "The Yanks and the Cubs clashing in the world series. That would be swell." The scribes agreed, remembering that Joe McCarthy, whom the Rajah succeeded as Cub boss, is now the Yankee pilot.

"The Yanks are a good team. And Joe is a smart, capable manager. Nothing would please me better than to get into the fall classic with Joe the generalissimo of the friendly enemies."

Having paid his compliments to his erstwhile chieftain, Hornsby turned to his favorite topic, his own team, the Cubs.

"Put it down in good sized type," he said, "that the Cubs are an even better ball club right now than they were last year. Our mound staff has been strengthened and I think a weakness there was the reason we didn't make it two straight flags last season."

Hornsby declared emphatically that he expected to play many games next season. "And all this bunk," he said, "about some of the Cubs being dissatisfied is just that—bunk!"

"I'm sure every man will hustle for me as he did for Joe. I think they proved that when in the final days of the season they smacked over the Reds and then knocked the White Sox for a row in the city series. Don't worry about the Cubs—just watch them!"

CANGEY ELIGIBLE FOR STATE BOUTS

der and remarked: "Good work Johnny." Instead of laughing Johnny burst into tears. He placed his head on his brother's shoulder and cried. Ed Fritz sent all but Banko from the room then closed the door and let Johnny cry it out. It was only hysteria.

A young chap, a brother so it is reported, watched Frankie Grey battle Joe Midway. On one occasion when Frankie had been knocked down the lad yelled hysterically then pleaded for Frankie to get up. Of course everyone knew he would.

Very few boxers allow brothers to act as seconds in their corners. They become too sensitive of what is going on and in trying times lose their head. That is the reason why boxers as a rule accept someone outside the family to handle them in the ring. Brotherly love sometimes costs them victories.

Jack Dempsey visited Lorrain last Saturday night and the outpouring of fans was not so good. In fact Jack refused to take the money he was to be paid. At Erie the crowd did not come up to expectations. His price for refereeing varies, but he never, it is reported, puts a promoter in a hole.

There is some talk of Johnny Kilbane joining Jack Dempsey's traveling party. Johnny and Jack are great pals. The report might be erroneous but from what has been reported Johnny would referee the semi-finals and Dempsey would handle the main attractions.

After the bout a few nights ago Johnny remarked: "I'm not going in a corner anymore. I'm too excitable. I think I'll stay out." This coming from a young man who won the featherweight championship of the world is somewhat strange.

When he referees, however, the situation is different. We have seen him in some tough spots, both as a fighter and a referee, and he has been at home. It may be that as a referee he feels confident trodding around with memories of once he was the greatest 122 pounder the world had.

Duquesne Trime Geneva 28 To 26

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—A gentleman by the name of Wilder, who up until the end of the first half of the contest between Duquesne University's quintet and Geneva College's five, was a substitute and on the bench threw a monkey wrench into the floor plans of the Genevans as he sank a field goal last night just 30 seconds before the game ended to bring victory for the Dukes 28-26.

Although the first half was all Geneva, the Dukes trailing 20-12 at the half-way mark, they combled a powerful offensive with an airtight defense in the second half to provide plenty of thrills for the crowd in evening up the score. Wilder's not so wild basket concluded the hectic evening—climaxing the Duke's comeback.

"I Hope Your Example Will Compel The Adoption Of Sanitary Methods"

Says

DR. THOS. J. McLAUGHLIN

Chairman State Board of Health, State of Rhode Island

Rhode Island Public Health Commission

THOMAS J. McLAUGHLIN, M. D.
WOONSOCKET, May 21st, 1930.

The American Cigar Company,
#111 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—

Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of "spit" or "Saliva." There are many unsanitary processes still employed in industry which are very difficult to eliminate without the aid of industry itself.

Not only the public officer charged with the responsibility of improving conditions of health generally but every one immediately recognizes that the use of "spit" in the manufacture of cigars is not only unsanitary but has latent dangers to health of great magnitude. I feel it incumbent upon myself, therefore, as a public officer charged with protecting the public health to use this means of telling you that in campaigning against such a method of manufacture you are rendering a public service.

I sincerely hope that your example and your campaign will compel the abandonment of such methods of manufacture of cigars by the industry generally and the adoption by all of the manufacturers of sanitary methods in the manufacture of cigars.

You are at liberty to use this expression of my commendation in the furtherance of your laudable campaign for better sanitation.

Yours very truly,
Thos. J. McLaughlin, M. D.
Chairman State Board of Health
State of Rhode Island.

...one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. McLaughlin's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. McLaughlin writes: "Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of 'spit'."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it...Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.

House Starts Action To Provide Money For New Postoffice

IRENE LOSES APPEAL

Take Favorable Action On Bill For Post Office

House Appropriations Committee Recommends $525,000 For Structure Here

WILL ACQUIRE NEW SITE FOR BUILDING

Detailed Plans For New Castle Structure Outlined In Committee

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Machinery to bring about the actual appropriation of money for a new post office for New Castle was set in motion today when the house appropriations committee reported favorably to the house the second deficiency appropriation bill recommending an appropriation of $525,000 for the acquisition of a site and the construction of a new building in the city.

Hearings on the bill before the committee made public today reveal that the treasury department plans to acquire a new site in New Castle and to build a structure of two stories and basement, having a ground area of approximately 17,000 square feet. The building will be stone faced and of fire proof construction.

The new structure would provide the following space: 15,240 feet for the post office, 1,000 feet for the civil service, 400 feet for the labor department, 625 feet for the internal revenue bureau, 400 feet for the war department and 500 feet for the navy department.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The street sign at the corner of South Mill street and Taylor street has fallen over, Pa New noticed Tuesday afternoon.

During the heaviest downfall of Tuesday's rain, several boys were out playing marbles on West Long avenue!

While some of the rural residents who depended on springs and wells for their water, report that they have become filled up during the past week, Pa New noticed that there was very little water flowing down the little mill which passes through Park avenue hollow this morning.

What did you see? A barber selling safety razors, down on the South side.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather bureau statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning follows:
Maximum temperature, 42.
Minimum temperature, 36.
Precipitation 27 inch.
River stage 6.3 feet, rising.

Pinchot Promises To Appear Before Senate Committee

Governor Pinchot Will Go Before P. S. C. Probers With Testimony

Judiciary Committee Surprised When Governor Agrees To Appear

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—With Governor Gifford Pinchot having agreed to appear as a witness before the senate committee investigating the public service commission no real developments today were looked for prior to that time. The governor expects to appear next Monday. If not then, a week later.

Meanwhile, the committee which already has held two hearings to discuss the truth of the Pinchot charges can make little progress. At hearings today additional attaches of the commission will be given an opportunity to testify.

The invitation to the governor was presented personally by a delegation of the senate judiciary committee. Pinchot, in reply to an earlier written invitation, had indicated willingness to appear but predicated such appearance on the adoption of a program which he himself outlined.

Pinchot is Needed.
C. J. Hepburn, counsel for the committee board, at yesterday's hearing predicted that probing of all the Pinchot charges would require millions of dollars and years of time. It was Hepburn who urged the board to make every effort to get Pinchot to appear, even if they had to "plead with him."

Immediately after close of the public hearing, Senators Buckman, Rial, McClure, Weingartner and Woodward went to the executive mansion to urge the governor to appear. Instead of the refusal which they had expected, the governor seemed willing to accede to their request. The governor intends to have Judge George Woodruff special counsel for public utilities investigation, accompany him to the hearing.

The resolution authorizing the senate investigation fixed March 10 as the time for a formal report to the entire senate but the time can be extended by amendment.

Martin Battles Extradition To Cleveland Today

Habeas Corpus Hearing Set For Pittsburgh Court Today

COUNSEL CONTENTS CLIENT IS VICTIM

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—"Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin's last-ditch fight to avoid removal to Cleveland where he is wanted for the murder of former councilman William E. Potter reached its final today in a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Joseph Stadfeldt in common pleas court.

Samuel S. Rosenberg, head of the legal talent arrayed in Martin's behalf, was basing his argument for granting of the writ on the plea that Hymie had been arrested without sufficient evidence and, in being identified as the occupant of the apartment where Potter's body was found, Hymie was the victim of a mistaken identification.

It has been a losing battle thus far for Hymie. Following his arrest in Pittsburgh, a murder warrant was issued in Cleveland and yesterday Governor Gifford Pinchot approved Hymie's extradition to Ohio.

Photographs of Martin and Mrs. Mary Outland, Akron blonde were identified yesterday by John W. Echeberry, merchant policeman, and Patrick Bottoroff, Jr., night manager of a restaurant at Kent, O., as those of a man and woman who visited the restaurant a few hours after the killing.

Police of three states, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, have been baffled in their search for Mrs. Outland.

Hoover Urged To Accept Bill For Soldiers' Bonus

Growing Tide Of National Sentiment In Favor Of Plan, Is Seen

(BULLETIN)
By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—President Hoover today threw his influence squarely against the soldiers' loan bill. The President wrote a letter to Senator Smoot (R., Utah, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, outlining his objections to the measure, and intimating that a veto awaits it when it reaches the White House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The growing tide of National sentiment in favor of the $700,000,000 soldier's bonus "loan" bill today led administration leaders to hope President Hoover will sign it after Congress enacts the measure into law.

In the face of persistent rumors that Mr. Hoover will veto the bill, it was learned his party leaders, almost without exception, are urging him to accept it. They were aided by a relief among many New York business leaders that enactment of the measure would not disturb present business conditions and would aid the situation in the future by removing a perplexing economic question from the field of politics.

Leaders In Favor
Several of the nation's outstanding banking and business kings were reported to have communicated this sentiment to the White House. It was the feeling held by most of the President's spokesmen in the Senate.

Administration leaders were partly moved by the knowledge that the bill's advocates command so overwhelming a majority in both the House and Senate, that both branches of Congress will enact it over a veto. This information has been communicated to the President and his advisers warned a veto would be a futile gesture of opposition.

This was the situation as the senate finance committee met to pass upon the bill, but with the Senate determined to begin its consideration during the afternoon regardless of committee deliberations.

King Alfonso To Continue Reign; Defies His Foes

Places Government In Hands Of Royalist Group By Action Today

ADMIRAL AZNAR NAMED PREMIER

New Cabinet Takes Over Duties Shortly After Noon Hour

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent
MADRID, Feb. 18.—Determined to continue his reign as absolute monarch of Spain, King Alfonso XIII today defied his implacable foes and placed the government of his country in the hands of a Royalist group headed by Admiral Juan Bautista Aznar as Premier.

Admiral Aznar's cabinet took over the reins of government from the cabinet of General D'Amaso Berenguer this afternoon, after taking the oath of allegiance to the King at the Royal Palace shortly after noon.

Thus ended, at least for the time being, the period of political uncertainty which has existed in Spain since last Saturday when General Berenguer resigned, and which led to reports of possible revolutionary movements, another military dictatorship and even abdication by the King.

Bibles Also Among Presents Sent Into Jail With Marked Passages

Sheriff Frank N. Johnston is taking no chances on what might happen in case of an unfavorable decision by the pardon board in the cases of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, slayers of Corporal Brady Paul. He has set a watch on both prisoners, and they will be constantly under the eyes of the guard from now until a definite decision is reached with reference to their case.

Sheriff Johnston does not believe that Irene and Dague are likely to do themselves any harm, but he believes in being on the safe side and has set the watch as a precautionary measure.

Anxiety over what the pardon board will do with her case, and pleasure over the many presents she received on the occasion of her 22nd birthday yesterday, were the mingled emotions of Irene Schroeder today as she awaited a decision of the pardon board on her appeal from the death penalty imposed for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul.

Gets Presents
Irene's good fortune on her birthday was greater than she expected. In addition to many post cards and flowers she received a black silk dress, new hat, silk stockings and several Bibles and Testaments.

She was busy today admiring her new finery and in trying on her new dress, stockings and hat. The dress was the gift of Al Gough, reporter (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The long-heralded showdown in the Democratic party over the hot issue of prohibition was brought appreciably nearer today as a result of developments during the past week.

Whether the battle will break out in the national committee meeting here two weeks from tomorrow is a matter of conjecture, but whether it does or does not there was not a party leader in Washington today who saw any chance of the controversy being compromised. As between the Southern dries and the Northern wets it is apparently to be a finish fight.

James S. Benn To Be Called By Senate Probers

Member Of P. S. C. Will Get
Summons To Appear
Next Monday

SENATOR WOODWARD
TODAY'S WITNESS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 18. — James S. Benn, member of the Public Service Commission, will be subpoenaed to appear next Monday before the senate committee investigating the Public Service Commission.

Along with Benn the committee also will request the appearance of General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, Harry A. Mackey, Mayor of Philadelphia, Edwin R. Cox, president of county council, and three attorneys who represent the Mitten interests in Philadelphia.

Decision to issue the subpoenas followed statements made by Senator Woodward, Philadelphia, a member of the investigating board, who charged Benn with unethical conduct for a commissioner.

The testimony of those subpoenaed today will be taken in case Governor Gifford Pinchot does not appear before the committee. So far the governor has not said definitely when he will appear.

In the event of the governor's appearance the testimony of those subpoenaed will be taken later.

Woodward Witness.

At the opening of today's session Senator Woodward signified his intention of becoming the first witness of the day. Taking the floor he reviewed the fight which preceded passage of the Dair bill which permitted the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company to condemn the underlying companies.

Woodward charged that Commissioner Benn had come to his office during the session of the legislature four years ago with a bill prepared to permit the condemnation proceeding and asked him to sponsor it in the legislature. Refusing flatly to accept Benn's suggestion, Woodward said he told him at the time that he believed it was unethical for a member of the commission to peddle bills in the interest of public utility companies.

A. Jinkman and Brothers, retail clothing merchants, bought a bill of goods from a certain manufacturer. The purchase was entered on a regular order blank of the manufacturer's, a blank containing the name of the firm at the top and space for the lot and quantity of goods bought, the price and terms. The Jinkman concern bought for the spring trade, but as the season still was far off, the date for delivery was not specified in the order. When the season drew near and the quota had not yet arrived, the elder Mr. Jinkman became apprehensive. He wired the manufacturer, and after some delay received the reply that prices had been going up lately and the manufacturer, feeling the prospect of an immediate profit, had sold the goods to another customer.

The Jinkman brothers were wroth over this and sued. At the trial the manufacturer argued that the memorandum of the order wasn't valid anyway, since it did not contain his signature.

Fifteen candidates for team positions will meet at a downtown recreational parlor on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. L. H. Patterson will captain the group.

Final plans were also laid for attending the inter-club dinner of the Coropolis Kiwanis club in the Coropolis Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening, February 24. The club will send a large delegation, it is believed.

The speaker of the day, Mr. Bloom, was introduced by the Rev. C. G. Farr, chairman of the club's program committee.

Influenza Shows Slight Increase

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Reports checked today by Dr. J. Moore Campbell, chief of the bureau of communicable diseases, which had been received recently from more than two-thirds of the county medical directors in Pennsylvania show that the eastern section of the State is suffering from a small increase of diseases of the influenza type. Reports from the western and northern sections of the Commonwealth indicate no more than a usual incidence in diseases of this character.

Commenting on the situation, Dr. Campbell said: "There is every reason to believe that there will be a slow and comparatively unmarked increase in influenza diseases throughout the more populous and as yet unaffected sections of Pennsylvania.

"The majority of the cases appear to be mild, but it will be advisable for everyone to build up resistance, avoid contact with sufferers as much as possible and to be extremely careful so as not to make themselves receptive to the germ by indulging in enervating habits," concluded Doctor Campbell.

Paul Jones, negro letter carrier of Hempstead, L. I., who asked for a bodyguard to protect him from his wife, says that he does not care so much about himself but he hates to have the mail in danger.

STAR LORE

HISTORIC ORIGIN OF THE REFLECTING TELESCOPE
By Arthur D. V. Carpenter

In the year 1670 Sir Isaac Newton made the discovery of the decomposition of light into the colors of the rainbow. This discovery immediately explained the great difficulty experienced with refracting telescopes known as chromatic (color) aberration (turning aside). For in all refractors there appeared color bands of blue and violet, yellow and red. The blue and violet rays come to a focus more quickly than the yellow and red, so blue and violet and yellow and red circles in the refracting instrument game much trouble in seeing. This great difficulty led to the invention of the reflecting telescope that is entirely free from chromatic aberration.

It will be worn by Irene when she is taken from the Lawrence county jail to Rockview or the Western penitentiary, as the pardon board decides.

The hat is the gift of her father, Joseph Crawford.

Several pretty bouquets were received from local people and others came from out of town. Some birthday cards came in the morning mail, but the greater part of them were received in the afternoon mail and in the morning's mail.

Bibles Sent
Several of the Bibles received had inscriptions marked. One to which attention was drawn is found in the 23rd Psalm. It reads:

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want."

"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

"Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou annointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over."

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

Irene was visited in the county jail by her father and sisters again today. They are remaining in New Castle until after a decision is received from the pardon board.

Glenn Dague was visited again today by Rev. H. O. Teggarden of Sewallsville, O., former pastor of the Methodist church at Elm Grove, W. Va. They had a long talk over religious matters. Dague, deeply penitent, expressed hopes for the future. Rev. Teggarden, in his prayers for Dague, asked for Divine guidance for the pardon board in reaching a decision.

Blaze Causes Break In Power

Faulty Lighting Arrest In
Damage

Electric power in the Seventh Ward district was shut off nearly a half hour early this morning after fire, believed caused by a faulty high power lightning arrester, burned out a 66,000 volt circuit breaker, and control equipment in the yard of the Cedar street power transmission sub-station of the Pennsylvania Power Company.

Frank Wert of Youngstown, public relations head of the power company said the loss would probably be more than $3,000.

The giant circuit breaker, connected to the 66KV line which serves the power from Lowellville to Ellwood City and is a unit of the 132,000 volt power circuit from the hydroelectric plant in Toronto, Ohio was aflame at about 6:45 a. m. today.

The fire was precipitated by the sudden destruction of one of four lightning arresters. Wert believes the arrester became faulty due to persistent bad weather during the last few days.

Streaks of artificial lightning 20 ft. in height and over, lit the sub-station district, and took on the aspect of a moving picture battle scene.

The Seventh Ward fire department was called, but firemen could do nothing until power had been shut off. Chemical extinguishers were employed and the burning of the equipment ended.

Hearings on the deficiency bill made public today also indicate that Representative J. Howard Swick appeared before the appropriations committee to urge the desirability of locating the new post office on the site of the present building. He read a letter from a responsible resident of New Castle pointing out that the present site is best located for the mass of the city's population.

The congressman said he wanted the bill amended so that land adjoining the present site could be purchased and the buildings erected there instead of at another point.

L. C. Today they had their answer in the form of a carefully prepared speech by Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, the close friend of ex-Gov. Alfred E. Smith and of Chairman Raskob. Speaking for the Northern wets, he made it plain that they will consent to no compromise and no pussy-footing on prohibition in 1932.

Leslie, principal of the school, formed the receiving line Tuesday evening at the reception and Founder's Day anniversary held in the gym of the school.

After the assemblage had met all the teachers and taken their places R. E. Johns led the pep singing, with Mrs. Jay L. Reed, president of the association, at the piano.

Edelstein, Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mrs. James Hewitt, Mrs. E. F. Henderson, Mrs. J. W. Ballentine and Mrs. Harry Stenger. The huge birthday cake, bearing 34 candles, was lighted by Mrs. E. L. Thompson.

At the conclusion of the play a period of contests was held and prizes awarded the winners. There was a vocal solo by Mrs. Charlotte Emery; a reading by Helen Kyle and a playlet "The Minister's Call" was cleverly presented by Mrs. Ruth Gibson in the part of Mrs. Swan; Laura Mooney as Mamie; Helen Kyle as Susie; Mrs. Eva Armstrong as Annie and Arthur McNicolas as Rev. Stern.

Concluding the program tea was served at prettily arranged tables, which were in the form of a "T" with baskets of poppies as the centerpiece. At each group of tables one of the L. D. K. members presided as hostess and tea was poured by Mrs. Nelson Armstrong and Jane Kyle.

Mrs. Taylor, who up until five years ago in May, could see and enjoy the many beauties of the world, captivated her audience with her pleasing personality, and further held their close attention when she spoke fluently on the work of the blind. She told of her experience which were numerous, and most awakening to those listening, and her message should be "shouted" to the world, to make them realize the help of the kind guidance of those more fortunate would be appreciated.

In summing up her message, she used a quotation of the famous Dr. Helen Keller, who recently received her degree, and made clearly that she wasn't working for any agency, but just mutual interest, and asked that we join in this effort for the blind.

Miss Lyle Kerr Wilson, chairman of the Braille Division of Pittsburgh Chapter of the American Red Cross, and secretary for the famous Torrence Home for the Blind in Pittsburgh told of the work done by the blind.

Mrs. Eugene Morgett of Pittsburgh, who has charge of the displays and sales of the Woman's Clubs for the blind, gave an account of how the home departments are kept flourishing through the funds received from the sale of articles made by the blind.

The meeting was closed by remarks made by Mrs. Mayberry in appreciation of the addresses given, in behalf of the ladies in attendance, and stated that the Current Events of '23 have ordered a large number of towels which they will get in readiness for the blind to work on, the difference of the sale, which will go to them.

PLANTING TREES IN MEMORY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

THE happiest suggestion we have seen for the observance in 1932 of the bicentennial of the birth of George Washington comes from the American Tree Association. It proposes an ever-living, ever-growing monument to the father of our country—or, rather, ten million such monuments, planted by patriotic hands from ocean to ocean and perpetuating through beauty and service the loyalty of as many hearts. In this memorial all the people can participate. Every commonwealth, county and town, every neighborhood, school and home, as well as numberless individuals, can have a creative part. And when the gracious labor is finished, America will be nearer what Washington would wish it to be.

He was a lover of trees and an authority on their values. So we are reminded by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association.

The entire forestry world and the United States in particular are indebted to Mr. Pack for many admirable ideas and endeavors, but for none that chimes more aptly with the need and the sentiment of the day. Already his suggestion is being widely adopted, with the warm approval of the National Commission for the Celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington. Town forests, memory groves and roadways, and many thousands of individual trees have been planted or planned in anticipation of the 1932 bicentennial, when they will all be dedicated. To encourage the work of the American Tree Association, whose headquarters are at Washington, D. C., 1214 Sixteenth street, N. W., generously offers to send free of charge to those interested valuable information on what, when and how to plant. It announces, moreover, that it will register on the National Honor Roll every individual or group thus planting, and will give for each planting a special George Washington Bicentennial certificate.

Pennsylvanians, no doubt, will join wholeheartedly in this patriotic program. Their Arbor Day will afford two special occasions between now and 1932; and their state is wonderfully rich in native varieties of trees whose majesty or beauty makes them peculiarly appropriate as memorials to Washington.

LAME DUCKS AND PROPOSED CHANGES

Because of the pressure of other business, a lack of time and other reasons, the present session of congress is not likely to abolish lame-duck sessions, but, according to all the signs, new congresses within a few years will be convening within two months after their election and residents will no longer be kept waiting at the white house door for five months after their election.

Amendment of the constitution is necessary to advance the congressional and presidential inaugural dates, and before the amendment can be submitted to the states for ratification congress must pass a resolution submitting the proposal. Moreover, the two branches of congress such agree on the change to be made.

Agreement has been impossible up to this time. The senate has passed five resolutions and the house none, and now the house is considering a plan differing from that given senate approval. The senate resolution would have both executive and congress begin to function early in the January following election, while the house resolution would have congress convene about January 4 and the president take office three weeks later.

Should house and senate decide a change is imperative but deadlock on what that change shall be, the prestige of neither will be increased.

SECOND SEMESTER SEASON

This is the second semester season. Represented in art the figure might appropriately show a man taking a hitch in his belt, or a runner coming into his second wind, if art is capable of depicting the latter event.

The first semester takes all the initial enthusiasm out of a student—those urges born of novelty, vanity, pride and the starting pistol. By February the young person knows what work is, and all fever and excitement have passed away.

How many of us have experienced second semester reactions in the school of life? Behind us, too, is a deal of foolishness, which came to naught, and certain solid achievements to cheer us onward into the remainder of the session.

Every frank person knows "studies" in which he has more or less failed. Perhaps the failure may have been along the line of civic opportunity, or in unwillingness to take advantage of cultural openings. The first semester may be clouded by neglect of a friend, and such things may be compensated for in the second shift.

The second semester is a time for capitalizing on past gains. Every bit of work well done, every successful experience of the earlier days, is a potential aid in solving the problems of the final lap.

What goes for school and life might also fit the present depression. For some 16 months a measure of business gloom has been upon the land. The average length of an American sag is 18 months. It begins to look as though we ought to be well along in the second semester.

RUBBER OUTLOOK

Rumors that Henry Ford was to abandon rubber planting operations on his 6,000,000-acre concession in Brazil brought speedy and emphatic denial, followed by formal announcement of a plan for reorganizing those operations on a still larger scale.

Consumption of the Ford scheme means much to both Brazil and the United States. It will bring wealth to Brazil and open up a new source of crude rubber for the United States. The stupendous American rubber industry now depends upon Asiatic and African crude rubber, which might be cut off by blockade at any time in the event of war, a disturbing threat for the world's largest single consumer of rubber.

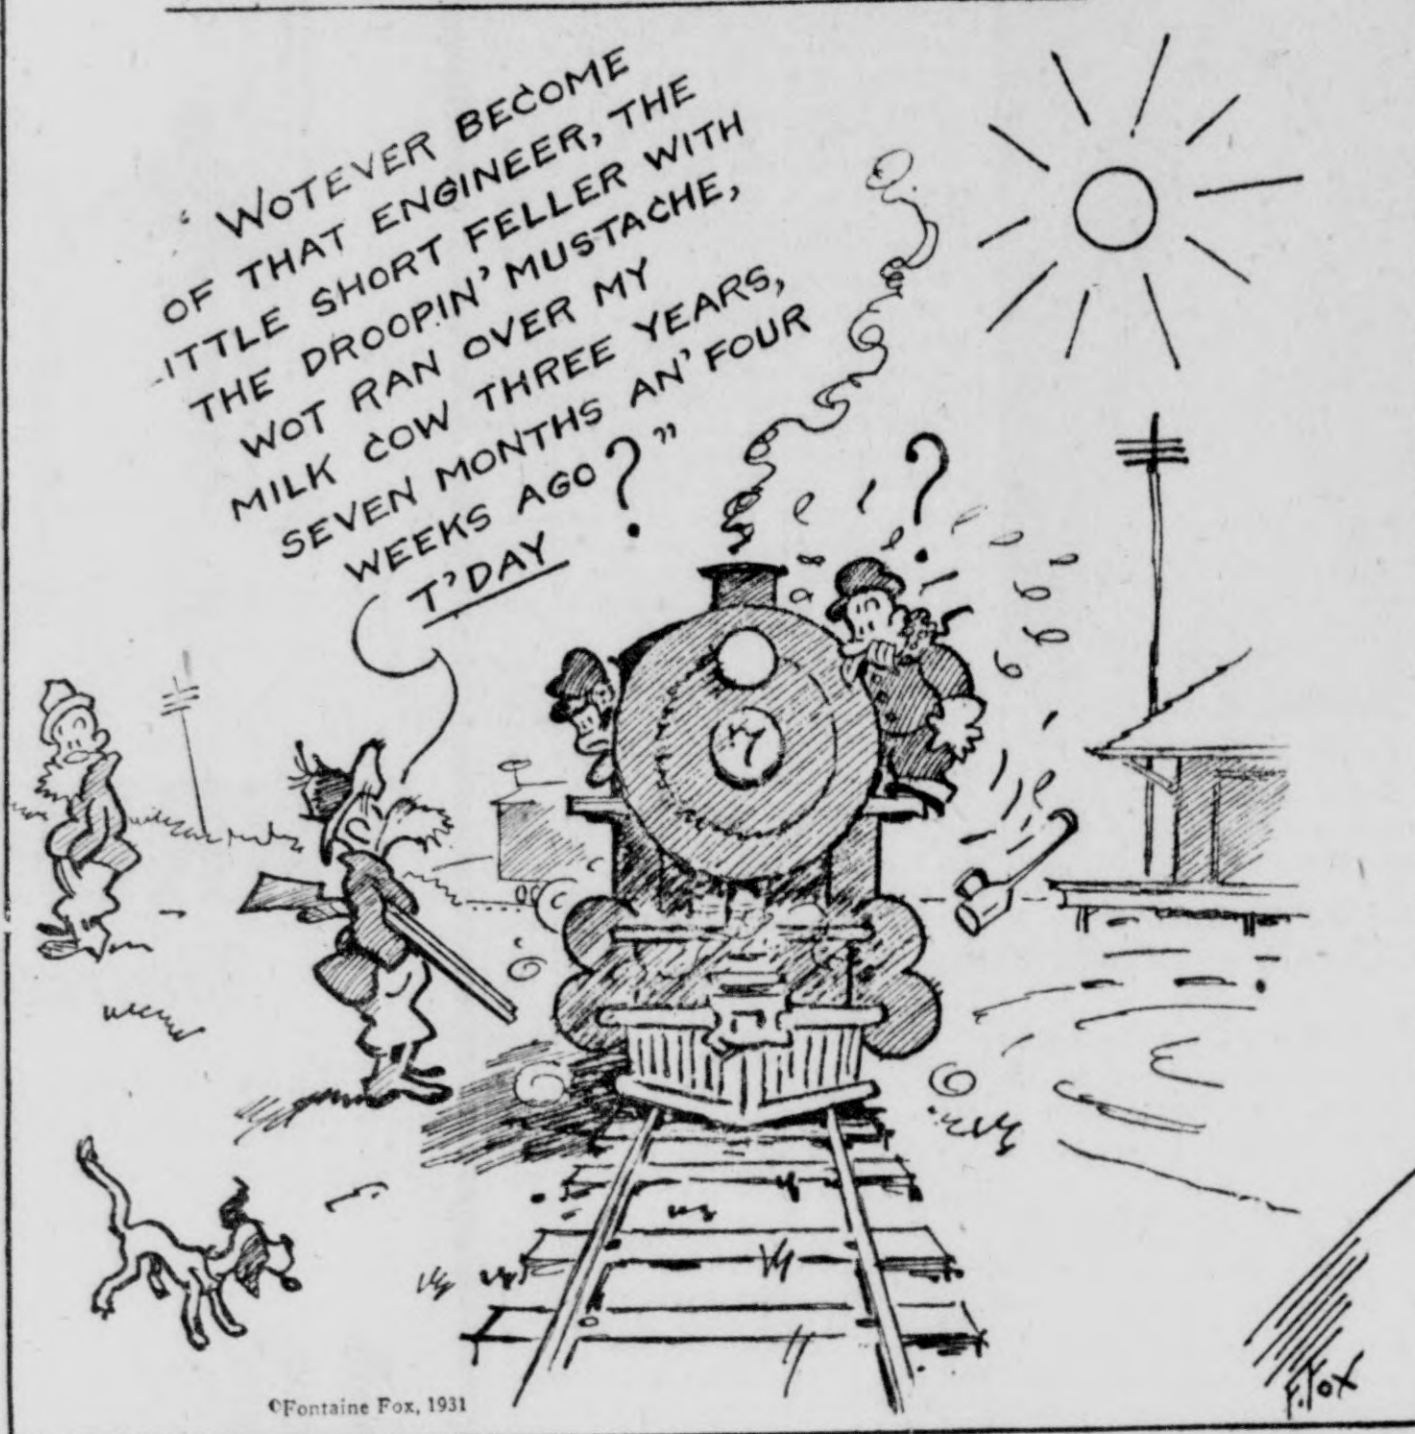

The rubber industry has in sight two other new sources of raw material. The Firestone plantations in Liberia are soon to come into active production on a commercial scale, and rubber is being produced from experimental plantings of quaque in California. Something may also come of the Edison experiments in Florida.

All of these lines of action hold forth prospects of an unlimited supply of rubber and cheaper rubber. With crude rubber entering into the manufacture of hundreds of materials and articles the promise of cheap rubber concerns others besides buyers of automobile tires. There is in it the possibility of whole new industries and revolutionary changes in operations of others.

BEAUTY ISN'T PRETTY

Beauty is no valentine. Beauty isn't something pretty, something cute, something to decorate a wall and amuse you for a moment. Beauty's no butterfly, Beauty's no delicate sheen on the life we see around us. Beauty's quite different. Men clutch at Beauty and run far across the world in its pursuit and hold at last in their hands what they thought was beauty and see it fade even while they imprison it triumphantly. But it was not Beauty that they sought and lost. Beauty's not like that. Beauty's nothing so trivial, nothing so fleeting. Beauty is a far more massive thing.

Then what is Beauty? I'm not sure, I'm not so confident that I can put it into words, but I can try. Beauty may be honesty, on the outside, it may be hard and lean and grim and outwardly repellent. It may be torturing, it may be agony, and it may be hard to recognize at first. But you always know Beauty at last. You find it at the center of the fragrant peach, you come upon it at the very kernel of life.

There is Beauty in a raging storm, and there's Beauty in the great rock that stands strongly against the destroying forces. There's Beauty in the man who grows as his heart is troubled and Beauty in the woman who faces grief and does not let it crush her to earth.

The sleepless mother bending over her poor sick child, the patient father sticking to the task he has chosen, the little ship leaving as such a hurt, younger keeping his pain to himself—these are the servants of Beauty.

Beauty is not something we see and desire for ourselves. Beauty is the thing we do, the way we live. And though we may be bruised and battered by life we may find it beautiful at last and as more lovely than anything we have foolishly called Beauty. Than any of those things that were pretty to the eye or soft to the touch, but had no power at all to ease any deeper pain of living.

DO YOU THINK YOU KNOW IT ALL?

A little knowledge often makes the possessor disagreeable to have around.

One of the most irritating persons is the one who frequently corrects others in trivial matters.

Usually the one most likely to offer advice in details is one who has only surface knowledge.

Little infractions draw comment from him.

His study has been rather elementary and things of small importance appear large to him. He is not student enough to delve deeply into matters requiring real thought and concentration.

Seeking and finding small flaws is an easy undertaking.

When one is willing to spend his time detecting inconsequential things he overlooks the more important matters.

The well posted on matters of importance pay little attention to those who are not in this class.

The self-appointed critic of those about him is quite likely to be one of few attainments and little knowledge but with a desire for publicity.

The man who knows doesn't try to advertise the fact.

CHILD AND GOSSIP

If to Janet you should go
Pouring gossip in her ear:
Hinting of the debts I owe,
Still she'd call me: "Daddy, dear."

If you mentioned that my hat
Is faded thing and old
She could not be changed by that:
Still she'd run my hand to hold.

If you told her deeds of shame,
Which from gossip you had heard
Janet would remain the same.
She would not believe a word.

Say to her my money's gone
Cry that loss has stripped me bare
Still her love would carry on:
Little Janet wouldn't care.

Only grownups turn away
When such lies or truths are told:
So against the world I say,
Little Janet's love I hold.

Measure Intended To Curb Objectionable Newspapers Is Declared To Have Been In Effect Curtailment Of Freedom Of The Press

Repeal of Minnesota's "press gag law," while its constitutionality was still pending before the United States Supreme Court, is hailed by the country as a victory for freedom of the press. A measure originally intended to eliminate scandal sheets was declared to have been made a weapon to prevent criticism of political corruption.

"Contributing to its viciousness," says the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION, "was the fact that a judge could be the sole arbiter as to an offense, since the question was not referred to a jury." The Union adds that "the Constitution guarantees the freedom of the press, and there are few newspapers that would abuse that right. The few exceptions," continues that paper, "do not justify such un-American and undemocratic restrictions as the suppression of the press anywhere on the say-so of a single judge."

"A most malicious piece of legislation has been relegated to its proper place," declares the WALLA WALLA BULLETIN, with the explanation: "The law was worded to provide for suppression by court injunction of newspapers which were found by a court to be publishing regularly 'malicious, scandalous or defamatory matter.' On the surface such a principle may sound worthy of support, but like many measures, the title is not exactly correct. It appears that considerable leeway was left open in interpreting what could be termed 'malicious, scandalous or defamatory,' and many newspapers were shadowed by the big stick of suppression if they exercised even normal functions permitted in the constitutional right of a free press in this nation."

"It seems obvious," declares the ST. PAUL DISPATCH, "that there can not be any real freedom of speech or press when a newspaper may be suspended without trial whenever a court is of the opinion that its contents are 'malicious' or 'defamatory.'"

THE PIONEER PRESS of that city states that "repeal became advisable from the viewpoint of sound public policy," and that "the law was being condemned as unwise and dangerous, a continuing invitation to official abuse of power in the suppression of legitimate opinion." That paper adds: "Moreover, the specific 'scandal sheets' for which legislators were gunning in 1925 have since disappeared. Strangely enough the two newspapers that were actually suppressed under this law were not the ones the Legislature had in mind in 1925. This is what is meant when the 'gag' law is said to have served its purpose. The righteous indignation of legislators has no more 'scandal sheets' on which to feed."

It is agreed by the SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS that "the law was aimed at so-called 'scandal sheets,' which every good newspaper man abhors, but it was so worded that a judge could put a newspaper out of business without much trouble if he just happened to be mad at it because of its political opposition to him." The News concludes that "it won no respect for law."

Attention is given to statements by Justice Brandeis at the time of the hearing of the case before the United States Supreme Court. The statement had been made by counsel that the newspaper which had been suppressed had attacked what it termed a combination between public officials and criminals," as quoted by the ALBANY EVENING NEWS, and that paper continues: "Justice Brandeis interrupted to say that existence of combinations of this sort is well known. 'What these men do seems like an effort to extort such a combination,' said Justice Brandeis. 'How else can a community secure protection against that sort of thing if people are not allowed to engage in free discussion of such matters? . . . You cannot disclose evil without naming the doers of evil. It is difficult to see how one can have a free press and the protection it affords in the democratic community without the privilege this act seems to limit.'"

The Albany paper continues in its statement: "There is a question that can be answered only in one way. A newspaper is doing its duty when it brings such things to public attention."

The secretary of a huge store, obviously upset, dashed into the manager's office.

"Good gracious man," snapped the latter, "whatever's happened?"

"The secretary calmed down somewhat."

"It's Robinson, our traveler," he explained. "Used most insulting language. Told me to try my face and he said you could go and chase yourself."

"He did, did he?" snapped the manager. "Well fire him without ceremony. Let's see, he's been with us for five months. What business has he done in that time?"

"A thousand dollars the first month," said the secretary, reading from a book, "three thousand the next month, five thousand the next, and ten thousand the next."

"Hm," murmured the manager, thoughtfully. "I often think I ought to take a little more exercise and I dare say the caretaker will give you a firing pan."

Score Arrested In Mine Rioting Near Greensburg

As Rioting Between Miners
Breaks Out

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—Rioting in which one man was injured broke out today when striking miners of the Edna No. 2 mine of the Hillman Coal company, near Greensburg, clashed with employed miners of the Edna No. 1 mine of the Carr Coal company.

George Shetler, 50, of Greensburg, employed at Edna No. 1 mine was struck on the head with a stone when the rioting began.

State police were rushed to the scene and dispersed the crowd with difficulty. More than a score of arrests were made.

First reports were that 26 men and four women had been taken into custody.

Miss Dorothy Altman, 14, daughter of a miner employed at Edna No. 1 was attacked by a party of several men and women. She was beaten and thrown into a roadside ditch.

The riot climaxed determined efforts by the striking coal workers to prevent employed men from entering the workings of Edna No. 1. As the force attempted to move into the workings, more than 100 strikers rushed them.

Stones, sticks and other missiles flew freely.

About 65 of the 150 miners employed at Edna No. 1 entered the mine after state police had dispersed the rioters. Edna No. 1 resumed operations Monday after a shutdown several days ago when a walkout in sympathy with the strikers at Edna No. 2 occurred.

Says Members Of Church Smoked With Hats On

Bible And Other Articles

When members of a church smoke and keep their hats on during a business meeting, Nick Mashchak, former president of the Holy Trinity Russian Orthodox church, does not like it. He told a jury in a trial before Judge Chambers yesterday that his objections to members smoking with their hats on was one of the causes of trouble between him and other members of the congregation.

Mashchak's testimony was given during the trial of the church against him in which a replevin writ had been issued for a pulpit Bible and other articles. Mashchak's contention was that the Bible belonged to him and that he was custodian of the other articles.

After hearing the evidence the jury found a verdict in favor of the church for one pulpit Bible valued at $90, one seal valued at $9, two collection books valued at 75 cents each and one key, valued at 25 cents, or a total of $100.

HALL BRINGS $20

BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 18.—Butler's abandoned municipal building, once known as the Schreiber hotel, famous in oil boom days, was sold today to C. A. Huselton of Butler for $20. He is required to raze the brick structure and level the site of the building.

One other bidder offered as low as $4 for the property. Another bidder received no consideration from the council when he asked to be paid $270 for removing the building. Two others did not think the salvage would pay.

Mrs. Daniel Isgrigg, 82, Cincinnati, one of three widows of veterans of the War of 1812, was 21 years old when she married Isgrigg, then 75.

Physicians Not As Bad As Painted, Doctor Says

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

There certainly are a great many complaints about doctors nowadays. Every month one or two magazines have articles in which the doctors are given a piece of the patients' minds.

I read all of them, although it makes me pretty melancholy. My judgment is that most of them are unjust and ill-informed.

For instance, in one article the writer says that a doctor who wants a place on the attending staff of a New York hospital has to pay for $3,000 to $25,000 for it. And that even when he gets on the staff the older men usurp so many privileges that the young doctor's patients do not get a square deal. He instances the case of a young doctor who had an emergency surgical case—an intestinal obstruction. But he could not operate promptly because an older man had engaged the operating room for three hours for three patients who were not desperately sick.

All this sounds very fishy to me. But I pass by what seems the fishiest—the money said to be paid for admission to the staffs of hospitals, and the charge that any surgeon of standing would refuse a colleague the courtesy of his time in the operating room for a desperate and emergency case. I pass on to a point I could not help asking myself—why didn't the young doctor operate on his patient in the patient's room with the patient staying in his own bed? Not only is this a recognized way of doing emergency operations constantly practiced by the best surgeons, but is really the safest thing for a very sick patient. It saves the shock of being moved to the operating room and then moved back; the anesthetic can be given just as well and the operative details arranged just as well in the patient's room.

Instead of railing against the rest of the world, the doctor might better have blamed himself for lack of ingenuity and resourcefulness.

Another article relates the story of a young man who woke up in the middle of the night with acute appendicitis and of his difficulties in getting a doctor. He had recently moved to the city as a new place of residence and had not had time to look up a doctor. The medical profession is bitterly blamed for not having a doctor convenient for him.

What I want to know about this story is why he did not look up a doctor when he first came to a new city? He looked up a bank, and a boarding house, and how to get to the baseball park, and a movie theater—why wouldn't he look up a doctor? Sickness and the need for a doctor are certainly more than possibilities—they are almost inevitabilities. Why hasn't the public some responsibilities and blame for the present discontent about doctors?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Five pamphlets and four articles by Dr. Clendingen can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendingen, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes" and "Femur Fracture." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Tuberculosis" and "The Atonic Abdominal Wall."

Raising Of Fur Is Profitable

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Raising of fur bearing animals is fast becoming a profitable industry in New York state.

At present there are 378 licensed fur farms in the State, the Conservation Commission revealed.

Under the State laws, mink, skunk muskrat, raccoon, beaver, and sable may be raised in captivity for their furs.

Animals whose pelts are to be sold as fur must be killed during the season fixed in the conservation law for their taking, the Conservation Commission said.

From the sale of licenses to operate farms to raise protected furbearers the State last year received $1,890.

Just A Touch Of Ice-Mint. PRESTO!

Corns Withier and Lift Out With Fingers. No Pain

Corn sufferers gather round; get right up close and listen, here's good news for you.

The real genuine "Corn Killer" is here at last. No humbug. Ice-Mint is new and is said to surely and quickly end all foot misery. Think of it: only a touch or two of this cooling, soothing Ice-Mint and real foot joy is yours. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

It just makes a pair of tired, swollen, aching, burning feet glow with cooling comfort. Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened callouses just right up and lift off so easy it's wonderful.

Every foot sufferer can appreciate a treatment like this, especially women who wear high heel shoes and men who are obliged to stand on their feet all day.

Try it. Just ask in any Drug store for Ice-Mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing like it.

Guests At 25th Wedding Anniversary Wear Clothes In Style In 1906

Quaint Party Held In Washington By America's Former Princess

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the President and this country's "Princess" in 1906, was back in her picture frame today.

She had reappeared with her striking pompadour and wedding jewels, representing gifts from many European monarchs, and looked as attractive as she did 25 years ago when her distinguished father escorted her down the White House stairs and before a minister placed her hand in that of Nicholas Longworth.

The Longworths set the time back a quarter century just for a night—their silver wedding anniversary—and all their guests were told to wear costumes in fashion in 1906 if these were not available, to wear shirtwaists, skirts and sailor hats. And they did to the bewilderment of Paulina Longworth who celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary Valentine's day.

"Princess" Alice appeared before her guests in a gown of old gold satin and wore above her pompadour a contemporary diamond tiara held in place in the back by a barrette of 1906 fashion. This gown was a part of her trousseau.

Only a few of those who took part in the brilliant White House wedding 25 years ago were here to take part in last night's frolic but all have remarked to Mrs. Longworth how they remember her "as Princess Alice of the Pompadour."

Arrived Real Early
The guests recalled how "Nick" arrived "real early" for the ceremony and appeared as carefree as ever as he inspected the floral decorations and gave each arrival a good look at his Prince Albert outfit.

Rulers and heads of governments of all over the world showered Miss Roosevelt with wedding gifts just as if she were a "real" princess.

The Republic of Cuba gave her a string of 63 matched pearls with a diamond clasp; a dower chest of silks, rare fabrics and ivory carvings from the empress dowager of China; tapestry, the president of France; embroideries and two silver vases, emperor of Japan; a diamond and pearl pendant, emperor of Austria; a mosaic table, the King of Italy; a mosaic from a Vatican painting, the Pope and antique jewelry, the King of Spain, and a rare bracelet from the exiled German Kaiser. The citizens of Cincinnati gave the famed newlyweds a $15,000 team of horses which have passed away.

A new assortment of gifts were on display at the home today, but this time all were made of silver.

New Castle Lodge Holds Big Meeting

Indoor Football Game Features The Gathering Held Last Night

New Castle lodge No. 195, I. O. O. F., held a regular meeting last night in the hall of the order on East Washington street, with Roy Reiber, the noble grand, presiding. After the usual business meeting an indoor football game was played.

The teams were designated as Pitt and Washington and Jefferson. L. A. Campbell was captain of the Pitt team and Elder McCormick of the W. & J. team. Floyd Houk was referee and C. H. Buell scorekeeper.

The ladies and friends were invited to witness the contest and there was a good turnout of spectators. After four regular quarters were played the W. & J. team was declared the winner, having 79 points to 54 points for the Pitt team.

F. L. Norris and J. R. Hodge, with an assisting committee, made the arrangements for the evening. During the game the usual cheers and songs were indulged in by the ladies. Pitt made the most scores in the first half, but their defense went to pieces in the second half, W. & J. team putting on an offensive which won the game for them.

Thursday evening a large delegation of members of New Castle lodge will leave the hall at seven p. m. to meet with Plain Grove lodge where another pleasant evening is planned for those who attend. Automobiles will be provided for all who wish to make the trip.

Workers Meet Tuesday At Y

Staff Secretaries, Committees Of Y. W. C. A. Have Luncheon Together

REPORTS GIVEN OF Y PROGRESS

Seventy-five staff secretaries and committee members of the local Young Women's Christian association gathered for luncheon, social period and program, Tuesday afternoon, in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A. building.

The program consisted mainly of reports of the various departments of the association, committees, etc., but everyone who attended were unanimous in agreeing that never has there been a more interesting and more enlightening program presented. The reports were given in an interesting manner and figures were submitted to illustrate the splendid work being done by the Y. W. C. A. department.

Heads of the departments and committees or one of their committee members, gave the reports.

Mrs. Howard Gregg told of last summer and the many years preceding; Miss Caroline Streeter, explained the work of the health education department and told of the interest taken by the class members; Miss Grace K. Lowers gave a report of the Girl Reserve club work; Mrs. Raymond Williams, of the Elm Street Y. W. C. A. gave a resume of that department; Mrs. Howard Kirk spoke for the International Institute for Foreign Women; Miss Ethel Moore gave the cafeteria report; Mrs. W. R. Hanna, report of membership department; Miss Frances Carey explained the work of the religious education committee; and Mrs. C. W. Duff spoke of the building administration department.

This meeting was an innovation at the local association. Never before have the paid employees and volunteer workers enjoyed such a meeting together. All feel that they have a clearer insight into each other's work as a result of the gathering.

There were a number of members of the Ellwood City Health Education class members present.

Mrs. T. F. Stryker was a special guest.

Members of the board of directors who were not represented on the program of reports were introduced by Mrs. John Elliott, president of the board. Mrs. Elliott presided at the meeting.

Announcements included mention of the World's day of prayer to be held Friday at the First Baptist church, and the charter members luncheon that will take place at the Y. W. C. A. March 4.

Miss Cassandra Aiken was in charge of the decorations in the Green room. The luncheon was served by the Blue Triangle club, assisted by several members of the secretarial staff.

School Bells Ring While Pa And Ma Enact Pupil's Role At Union Building

It was "School Day," but not the good old golden rule day for the three-score Union township mothers and dads who took their sons and daughters places in the classrooms at Union High for probably an hour or more last night.

The setting for school was perfect, but the strict classroom rules had been set aside for it was Parent-Teachers night. Fathers and mothers, carrying the class schedules which Johnny and Mary follow out each day, made the rounds and heard from the regular teachers the ultimate objectives of the subjects they teach.

Before the "model school" began, the customary monthly business meeting of the chapter occurred in the school auditorium. President Morris Cox presided.

Starts At 9 P. M.
Promptly at 9 o'clock, especially prepared program cards were given to the parents, who filed out one by one to the "home rooms" in which their own boy and girl are enrolled. Here they take attendance at morning and at noon, and last night the roll was called just as if it were regular school.

A few minutes after 9 and another bell sounded, giving the parents the required two minutes to change to their first period class. Six minutes later and that class ended, and again more bells signaled the two-minute interval which gave them a chance to move to their second class.

Six class periods, the regular daily schedule at Union, were observed. Each teacher, stationed at the desk where they conduct their lessons daily, would explain the subject at hand, giving the "special student" a deeper insight into the attractive points of history, science or math.

Ended Too Soon

One hour after school began, found the parents congregated together after the dismissal bell, regretting the fact that the classes ended so soon.

Co-operating to make the evening an enjoyable one, educational as well as entertaining, were Principal Roy F. Conway and his force of competent teachers. Assisting them were leaders of the P. T. A.

The "model school" idea probably marks the inauguration of something new here in this respect since no other schools or P. T. A. organizations have as yet sponsored a similar event.

Principal Conway indicated today that the membership of the Parent-Teacher group favors a repetition of last night's program sometime during the spring.

"School" was held last night only for those parents whose boys and girls are enrolled from the seventh grade to the senior rank in the high school.

Mercer County Clubs Obey Law

Doors Are Kept Open To Officers Of County At All Times

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 18.—Deportment in the social clubs of Mercer county is 100 percent so far as violation of the state liquor laws are concerned is the report of officers who make periodical check-ups on them.

Doors of the clubs are left open for admission of officers at all hours and times and the ruling or club officials that no liquor can be brought on the premises is being strictly enforced. This quiescent condition follows a hectic period during which the clubs were in and out of court until they reached a legal status where any further violation of law would mean a padlocking order.

The final legal procedure was a court order making it contempt of court to bring liquor on the premises.

SUPERVISORS AIDED
Mercer county spent $40,000. in 1930 in assisting the 32 township road supervisors improving their respective districts. About 25 miles of road was built.

With the report that the county will get 392 miles of road during the four years of the present state administration the commissioners are planning a trip to Harrisburg to confirm this statement in a conference with state highway officials.

NO INCREASE IN LIENS
Liens now being filed for sale of county property due to delinquent 1930 tax payments are not any larger than the 1930 filings during a much more prosperous period. The collectors report an unexpected tax payment taking the county as a whole. There are bad spots of course where partial payment plans of taxes is being accepted.

DEER WINTER WELL
The 200 head of deer that make their home in this county and Venango are coming through the winter in fine condition, announces Game Protector O. A. Perschka. The herd is visited by the official at periodical intervals. Plenty of foliage is available on which they are feeding, he reports.

The meeting will be attended by members of the Rodeo Association of America, who will gather here from all sections of the west for their annual convention.

The honor will be given Carr for his showing made in western rodeos during 1930.

Council Discusses Police Situation

Probability Exists That Council Will Reach Decision
Soon

It is reported that members of city council today informally discussed the appointment of an eligible policeman to the department of city police but as yet have not reached an understanding as to who will be selected. The mayor has the appointive power.

There is one vacancy on the force caused by the death of the late Fred Schuller.

An eligible list was presented by the civil service board Monday but an appointment was held over until Friday.

At that time several councilmen expressed the opinion that two from the same family should not be assigned to positions.

Mayor Gillespie pointed out that while eligibles had brothers on the force the eligible supported separate families.

It is probable councilmen will reach an understanding before the time for appointment arrives Friday.

The Visitor From Mars

A Tale Of Two Worlds
By S. S. MYERS

CHAPTER II

For a time I stared at him in the darkness then—"Do you mean to tell me that you came here from Mars?"

But he did not understand my question. On re-entering the cabin I studied him for a long time without saying anything. The thing seemed incredible. Yet I realized that there was a mysterious something about him—something in his personality that made him different from any one I had ever known.

When it came time to retire he made me understand that he would spend the night in his ship, to which I did not object as there was only one bunk in the cabin and it was scarcely wide enough to accommodate the two of us.

He came up to the cabin the next morning while I was preparing breakfast. I had oranges, bread and butter, fried potatoes, fried bacon, cheese, dry cereal and coffee. He partook of everything except the bacon. The reason for this I was to learn later.

When we finished our breakfast I said:

"We will go and inspect the ship." He repeated the sentence and I started for the door and motioned him to follow. We made our way to his machine and I looked it over curiously. It was about sixty feet long and perhaps half as wide except at the ends, and constructed of a metal entirely unknown to me. Finally he touched a spring in the door which immediately swung open and we entered.

It would be futile to attempt to describe the interior of that ship which contained a mass of complicated machinery resembling wireless telegraphy equipment and radio installation. The entire walls were lined with a material which resembled glass, and there were windows of the same which were clearer than the finest of glass. I could see that the thing was airtight, and I judged that the various compartments in the rear contained artificial air and perhaps a food supply. I realized that this was an entirely new sort of flying machine, and there was much I wanted to know, but knew it would be useless to question my visitor with his present limited knowledge of my language.

We continued our lessons day after day with surprising results, and in less than a month we could converse quite freely. Our conversation frequently took the form of questions and answers somewhat as follows. I shall not attempt to give the exact verbatim he used in answering my questions, but will endeavor to express his meaning:

"Are there many inhabitants on Mars?"

"A great many—about one hundred millions as you express numbers."

"Are they all of one lineage, or are there different races?"

"The Great Spirit, who created all things, took a portion of the sun and with it formed our planet and developed it and brought forth our first parents from whom we all descended."

"What is your form of government?"

"The laws given to our first parents by the Creator with the command that they teach their descendants to cultivate and beautify the planet which would prepare them for future life in a more beautiful realm."

"How are your laws administered? Do you have judges and courts of justice?"

"There is no need for such."

"What do you do with those who violate the laws? Haven't you any jails?"

"Jails?"

"Places of imprisonment for those who transgress the laws?"

"No one would think of transgressing the laws. They promote our own individual good and insure happiness. To violate them would destroy our happiness and invite death!"

"Isn't there any death on Mars?"

"Only old animals die when no longer useful to us."

"But what becomes of our people? Do they live forever?"

"Yes. When an individual has finished his work, or when his descendants have become prepared to carry it on, the Creator sends his emissaries who transport him or her to the realms of bliss—a world where there is perpetual day—where crystal lakes abound and streams of living water flow through boundless flowery parks, and where choicest fruits are ever ripening. It is a land of perpetual youth where all mysteries that puzzle us now are revealed."

"How long do you people remain on Mars before being transported to the other world?"

"That depends on how long it takes him to prepare for the other world. The average is about one hundred of our years."

"That would be nearly two hundred of our years. How old are you?"

"Thirty five years."

"Which would make you almost seventy by our years. You don't look it."

"The people of Mars do not grow old and die like animals or trees."

"Are there no diseases or sickness among your people?"

"There is no need for that. Our laws teach us health and happiness."

This set me to thinking seriously. It would seem, from what my visitor said, that Mars was a sort of Paradise where sickness, sorrow and physical death are unknown. Why this great contrast between two planets of the same system?

NOTES OF TROOP

OF NEW CASTLE

Troop officers will make an attempt to have two more horses. "Darkey" a black gelding and "Babe" a bay mare condemned by the government. Both are federal horses. Old age is the cause.

There will not be any more drills until Friday, February 27th at 7:30 p. m. Inspection Monday evening took the place of the regular drill this week.

Officers believe the rating for the inspection will be higher than the "satisfactory" received last year. Capt. Tallant said that "there is no need to worry" about the rating this year.

A huge troop zone map with a number for each guardsman showing the location of individual residences throughout the city is now hung in the commander's office. It was obtained from the city engineer and the location of each guardsman's home was drawn by Sgt. Joseph Vondera.

The troop mobilization plans compiled by the troop clerk have been approved by the squadron commander. The purpose of this plan is to have a ready reference of each member in case of the necessity of mobilization.

Sgt. Stewart's crew has completed work at the stables. During their employment the guardsmen prepared the equipment at the stables for the inspection and in other ways improved the appearance of the property.

A new stitching tree for the purpose of sewing leather at the stables will be made today.

The enlistment of Pvt. Gilbert J. Bartberger expires on February 23. That will make three vacancies in the troop roster.

JUDGE WINS TITLE,

"GREAT RECONCILER"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 18.—Thirty one years on a superior court bench have given Judge Thomas F. Graham ample time to look into the matter of divorce. He believes in it, where there is no chance of agreement.

On the other hand, Judge Graham, who recently celebrated his 31st anniversary as a jurist in San Francisco, is convinced that reconciliations should always be attempted where there are children in the home. For this belief Judge Graham is known here as the "Great Reconciler" because of his attempts to bring peace and better understanding into unhappy homes.

During his long years on the bench, Judge Graham admitted that he had been forced to reconstruct his original belief that all marriages were for the best.

"I still believe they are," he explains, "but when two people can't agree on anything, the quicker they are separated the better."

Corrects Date On Season For Trout

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Due to a printer's error one-sixth of the summaries of the fish law which have been sent to county treasurers show incorrect dates for the season on trout. The incorrect summary shows the season as opening on July 1 and closing on November 30. Unless the Legislature changes the season limits it will as before, open on April 15 and close July 31.

Printed slips explaining the error and giving the correct season limits have been forwarded to county treasurers. In a number of counties, however, the incorrect summaries had been distributed to fishermen who made early application for their licenses.

Report Of His Death Greatly Exaggerated

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Kan., Feb. 18.—Declared legally dead three years ago, James G. Conley appeared in the Wyandotte county district court here to claim $998 due him as World war compensation.

following his discharge from the United States navy. When his absence reached eight years his family believed him dead and his "demise" was legally recorded.

However, Conley proved to the satisfaction of his family and the court that he still was very much alive and would be much obliged for that $998.

New Appears At Senate Inquiry To Defend Self

Harry S. New, Probe
Witness Today
POSTAL LEASING
FACTS REVEALED

By PIERCE MILLER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Former Postmaster General Harry S. New appeared today before the Blaine Senate Post Office Lease Investigation committee to defend himself against charges of responsibility for the department's leasing policy made before the committee by John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general in the new regime.

Bartlett, former governor of New Hampshire, long identified with the Old Guard Republicans, testified "reluctantly," he said, and only because he was tired of taking blame for the leasing policy in connection with that for the commercial station at St. Paul.

Will Defend Self
New was prepared to bring the dispute over the department's leasing policy further into the open in his purpose to refute Bartlett's charge he had in effect stopped a grand jury investigation into the St. Paul lease.

Bartlett among other things charged that responsibility for a new lease negotiated and signed whereby a cancellation clause in the old lease had been eliminated, lay at New's door.

He declared New had taken personal charge of the St. Paul matter, and had ordered Bartlett's name signed to the acceptance of the terms while the latter was away from the department. The order came the same day that the late James W. Good, secretary of War in the Hoover cabinet, had paid New a visit at the department in 1925.

twelve Lawrence county men and women said they must suffer.

Rose Makes Plea
Backed by the wealth of Mrs. Ella Mountz of Clearfield, Percy Allen Rose of Johnstown, famous for his participation in the capital graft cases in 1907, made the appeal for Irene.

Brought into the case after the trial he displayed some ignorance of the actual facts when early in his argument he stated to the board that the bandits had held up Ray Horton and stole his car before the shooting of Brady Paul.

Skilful as he is, Rose attempted to lead into the conduct of the case by Judge Hildebrand a charge that part of the courts charge was made binding against Irene.

"She Is A Woman"
His chief argument was that Irene should be spared because she is a woman. "No matter what else she is, Irene Schroeder is a woman," said he. "No woman who has passed through the valley of the shadow to bear a child should never be subjected to such a death. No woman in Pennsylvania has ever felt the wrath of the electric chair executioner. We are the sons of mercy. Christ himself granted mercy to this woman?" As he finished his seventy five minute plea Attorney General Schnader asked Rose if he had been in the trial. Answered in the negative Schnader said, "The law did not fix this penalty, the jury did. If then this jury who you did not see arrived at this verdict after their deliberations, how then can you say they were unfair and impartial; you laid this matter before the Supreme court and they decided the case was fairly tried. Are we then to overrule our Supreme court."

Jarrett Follows
Attorney Ben Jarrett of Farrell followed Rose and opened the argument for commutation of Dague. "In all my experience," said Jarrett, "I never found people so anxious to serve on a jury as they did in these cases. Practically all of the jurors had formed an opinion and I am here to state that in my opinion Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague did not get the kind of a trial they deserved. I want to renew my objection to the line of conduct of Mr. Margiotti pursued in the case. He is one of the best lawyers in the state but in this case he overdid the job. Jarrett criticized the attitude of the jurors during his arguments to the jury. He did not review the case as did Rose but confined his argument to an emotional plea to the Pardon board for mercy he said to the board that only Tuesday night Irene and Dague had insisted to him and Dickey that they did not shoot Brady Paul. He attempted to throw a cloak of doubt over the testimony of Mrs. Eva Baldwin as to what she saw on the Butler road. Using a chair to state an automobile Jarrett described the scene to the Pardon board.

Closing his argument Jarrett said, "We did not receive a fair and impartial trial. If they could be tried today they might be acquitted. We do not ask for pardon, they have done enough to keep them in jail the rest of their lives. We do not want them executed. We ask that they be locked up for the rest of their lives. "Irene and Dague await your answer. We are here at the seat of mercy as near as we can get to the great mercy seat. It is my hope that God will guide you and spare the lives of these two."

Claims Prejudice
Secretary of the Commonwealth Beamish asked if a change of venue was asked.
"No," replied Jarrett, "We had more faith in Lawrence county than the people would be fair, but we could not detrone the prejudice that had inflamed the people." Jarrett apparently forgot Dague in his plea and Beamish asked what Dague's defense was.

"That he did not fire the shot," said Jarrett.
Attorney Thomas W. Dickey stressed the fact that 109 jurors were called but said he "I think Irene and Dague were convicted before the jury was called".

Attorney General Schnader interrupted and asked Dickey to produce the jury list to find out what type of men and women comprised the jury. Dickey read the list of jurors with their occupations.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey said to the board that one prospective juror was asked to serve and said "Don't take me, take my wife, she will put her on the hot seat." This was a rumor Dickey said he had received in the past 48 hours. The woman served on the jury.
"Have you an affidavit to that effect," asked Schnader.
"No," replied Dickey.
He then produced a statement from Dague in which he said "We never took human life. We never shot Brady Paul." Irene's statement was this. "I have done many wrongs, punish me for all of them but do not punish me for a crime I never did. Ernest Moore shot Brady Paul. Spare our lives and some day Moore will tell the truth."

"How much money was raised for the defense," asked Beamish.
"I have never told this in public," said Dickey. "Jarrett and I have never received one dime for this case. We received $171 from a story of Irene's life which was printed. We never took any part of that money. We got a hold of a hot one and couldn't let go and we are sticking to the last. We owe $472 to the printer which we will pay ourselves."

District Attorney John Powers opened for the commonwealth at twelve forty. He discussed the examination of jurors. He argued that the defense could have asked for a change of venue, and that the jury was fair. As to the argument that a woman should not be executed, Powers said, "There is no distinction as to sex. A man is just as dead when shot by a woman as by a man." He then went into the legal elements of the plea for new trial and commutation. Powers took but six minutes for his argument.

"As district attorney did you consider a change of venue," asked Beamish. "No, I did not," said Powers. "Should you initiate such a move if you considered a fair trial could not be had?" "I would," said Powers.

Margiotti Starts
Attorney Charles J. Margiotti opened his argument at twelve fifty-five.
"I thought the defendants would bring in something new in their pleas for commutation," said he. "Everything they have brought in, save for one small detail, was given to the jury at the time for the trial. He denied that the jury was unfair, or that he had said anything prejudicial to defendants in his address to the jury.

Margiotti then read an affidavit he filed concerning some. He reviewed Irene's life up to the time of the murder. Told of the minor thefts Irene testified to. He showed the orderly procedure with which Irene and Dague conducted their career of crime, this to show that there was no insanity present.

Step by step Margiotti followed the trip of Irene and Dague that led to the murder.
At one forty five Margiotti was still dwelling on the details of the many robberies in which Irene and Dague participated. Apparently he intended to spend at least forty-five minutes more to discuss the plea for leniency on the grounds of mercy.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—"Imposition of the death penalty in this case was the result of the public clamor for revenge on one who had allegedly shot and killed a peace officer within the precincts of Lawrence county."

With this opening shot before the Pennsylvania State Pardon Board, Percy Allen Rose, noted Pennsylvania Attorney, today flung himself into the thick of the fight to save Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague from the death chair.

Both will be executed at Rockview Penitentiary next Monday unless the Pardon Board or Governor Gifford Pinchot intervenes. They are now in the county jail at New Castle, four days away from the "little gray" door in the penitentiary.

Rose was accompanied by Thomas Dickey, chief of Irene's legal staff. He opened his plea for mercy with a summary of the events leading up to the death of Corporal Brady Paul, following a gun battle with the trigger-woman and the paramour on the New Castle-Butler road on December 17, 1929.

"I am not one of those who subscribe to the idea that there must be a victim for every infraction of the law," Rose declared. "I have, too often, seen innocent persons become the victims of undeserved punishment by reason of the public clamor for someone to be punished."

Rose's plea for leniency was one of the most stirring ever to resound through the Supreme Court room in the Capitol. He spoke in a carefully modulated voice that reached every listener at the hearing.

He was retained to aid in Irene's fight by Mrs. Ella Mountz, wealthy coal operator of Clearfield county.

Harks Away Back
Rose harked back to the so-called "Capital Graft" cases in Harrisburg which rocked the state to its political foundations a score of years ago. J. W. Shumaker, then State Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, who was sentenced to prison for participation in the graft scandals of Gov. Pennypacker's administration, was convicted on evidence later shown to have been forged.

Other cases were cited by Rose as he claimed those convicted and sentenced to have been "victims of hysteria and a clamor for revenge."

Rose ripped into the commonwealth for its conduct of the "trigger woman's" trial and denounced the action of the prosecution in introducing "expert testimony" from psychiatrists tending to show that Irene was an "habitual criminal" while Irene, because of poverty, was unable to present evidence corroborative of the "irresistible impulse" which the defense claimed was the actuating motive in the slaying of the Highway Patrolman.

The charge of the jury of Judge

R. Lawrence Hildebrand, presiding jurist at the trial, was attacked by Rose as having swept aside the basis of the defendant's case.

When Judge Hildebrand told the jurors that "the defendant does not ask you to acquit her on grounds of insanity," he delivered an unfair charge and mitigated against the return of a fair and impartial verdict in the case.

Claims Error
A "calamitous" incident occurred at the trial, Rose claimed, when the court failed to inform the jury that the defense of "irresistible impulse" was not accepted in Pennsylvania. Rose quoted from the opinion of the state supreme court in the appeal of Irene's case, in which the high court stated the trial judge should have so informed the jury.

"If any more calamitous occurrence could have happened in that case," he said, "I know not where it may be found."

NAVY'S NEW SECRET PLANE—FASTEST AIR FIGHTER

This tiny single-seated biplane, carrying the insignia of the U. S. navy on its fuselage, has been put through secret tests at Mitchel Field, L. I. It is believed to be the fastest fighting plane ever built and is designed to attain a speed of 300 miles an hour, while cruising.

accidentally by Paul's companion, Private Ernest Moore.

With that statement, Dickey presented one from Dague, who sits in the Lawrence county jail, morosely awaiting the verdict of the pardon's body.

Dague, too, admitted having been a wrong-doer.
But he, too, denied having fired the shot which killed the state highway patrolman in the gun fight which took place on the New Castle-Butler highway on Dec. 27, 1929.

"I called on our clients just before I came down here," Dickey told the pardon board. "I said:
"Irene, if you and Glenn could go before the pardon board, knowing it was your last opportunity for mercy and justice, what would you do?"
"Those statements are their answer."

Dickey's brief appearance before the pardon board followed that of Benjamin Jarrett, second in command of the Schroeder-Dague legal forces, and Percy Allen Rose, Johnstown attorney specially retained to present the commutation plea by Mrs. Ella Mountz, wealthy Clearfield coal operator who has interested herself in the Gun-Girl's cause.

Dickey reiterated the arguments advanced by Jarrett and Rose that the doomed pair had not been given a fair and impartial trial in the Lawrence county courts.

They were, he insisted, the victims of public hysteria and the clamor for a victim to satisfy the vengeance of the law.

"I believe," said Dickey, "that they were convicted before the jury ever entered the courthouse. I was told afterward that many of the jurors had stated, or had been reported as having stated, they entertained fixed opinions on the case."

Dickey's Plea
"Don't punish me for the killing of Brady Paul.
"I didn't do that."
With this final plea from the lips of Irene Schroeder, blonde gun girl sentenced to death for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul, of the State Highway Patrol, ringing in their ears, members of the state pardon board this afternoon turned to commonwealth representatives who appeared to contest the plea of Irene and Glenn Dague, her paramour sentenced to death with her, for a commutation of the death sentence imposed on them in the Lawrence county courts.

The statement from the blonde trigger-woman, who is sentenced to walk through the "little grey door" at Rockview penitentiary at Bellefonte next Monday morning and die at the hand of a state executioner unless the pardon board intervenes, was brought before the board by Thomas Dickey, chief of staff of the legal forces which carried the battle of Irene and her doomed "boy friend" through the courts of the state in an effort to avert the death penalty.

"I have did many wrong things," the youthful gun-woman statement said. "Punish me for these, but don't punish me for the killing of Brady Paul. I didn't do that. The truth will come out some day when Mr. Moore. Why doesn't he speak?"

Refer To Moore
Irene's reference to "Mr. Moore" was believed an aftermath of a dramatic moment during her trial when Dickey charged that Paul's death might have been due to a shot fired from therefrom, is easily attributable.

Plea For Woman
Throwing his all into a final peroration, Rose reminded the board that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for nearly half a century, has not exacted the life of a woman for the crime of murder.

"We are the sons of mercy," pleaded Rose. "It is man's highest prerogative, as beneficiary of the mercy of the son of God, to exercise that divine attribute."

"I do not believe," said he, "that any woman who has passed through the travail and the shadow of death to bear a son, as Irene Schroeder has done, will kill a man born of woman, deliberately and coolly. We do not admit that Irene fired the shot which killed Brady Paul. She denied it. But she is under sentence of death for killing Brady Paul."

"Victim as she was of the hysteria for revenge and the clamor for a victim, unable to obtain a fair and unprejudiced trial, this woman does not deserve the fate decreed for her."

"We hope and plead this board, sitting as the 'almshouses of the King's mercy' sat as of old, will exercise the divine prerogative of mercy for this unfortunate girl."

Scrutinize All Applications By Utilities

CEREAL BEVERAGE COMPANIES ALSO EYED

HARRISBURG Feb. 17.—Close examination is being made of all applications for the incorporation of proposed new public utility companies. Since the Pinchot administration took office on January 20 the Secretary of the Commonwealth has not issued any charters to a utility.

Not only are applications for new utilities being given close study and investigation but also those for cereal beverage companies. These companies after incorporation come under the direction of the alcohol permit board.

It was during the previous Pinchot administration that the governor refused to approve a number of charters for utilities. During the closing months of his term he declined to attach his name to the charters incorporating the subsidiary bus companies of both the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads. Both subsequently were re-approved by the Public Service Commission and signed during the early part of the last administration.

When Mr. Pinchot was governor before he also declined to sign charters for light companies and other public utilities. What course he proposes to follow this time of course remains to be seen.

In the previous administration charters for cereal beverage companies were not signed because they might divert alcohol to illegal channels or produce "high powered" beer.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

"FLORIDA WEATHER"

Editor, New Castle News, New Castle, Pa., Dear Sir:

The weather in Florida this winter is "very unusual," as usual.

Once in a while it is refreshing to think about something besides "Hard times," the weather, for example.

Everyone that has read Florida literature and letters from tourists is familiar with the Florida climate; very little is ever said about Florida weather. There is quite a difference. Climate is the general average climatic conditions prevailing over the whole state from year to year, while the weather is well, it's just weather.

Florida has an excellent climate; one in which it is not only a pleasure to live, but one which also assures you of good health. To say that the weather is excellent all the time, is another matter. I have seen a great deal of weather here that would come off second best in a contest with Western Pennsylvania weather at its worst.

The Floridians, in order to have everything perfect, try to run their weather according to schedule, which is no self-respecting weather was ever known to do. Each city, in trying to draw tourists, guarantees a special brand of weather. St. Petersburg, for instance guarantees 363 days of sunshine every year. On a day in which the sun fails to shine, you are given your newspaper free. The joke is that if the sun shines for 1,000 of a second, the tourists loses, even if it rains the rest of the 24 hours, and the newspaper officials hold the stop watch.

The mayor of Ft. Meyers, Fla., as a little advertising stunt, agreed to go to jail on the first day the sun failed to shine. One day last spring it did not shine, and true to his agreement he went to jail, regarding it as a good joke. The second day it did not shine, and the novelty wore off a little. The third day it did not shine, and things began to look serious. The fourth day without sunshine he applied to the governor for an executive pardon.

If the weather does not follow the schedule laid down for it by the natives, you are immediately assured that "this is very unusual." "This is very unusual" is about as common an expression is "business is getting better," and about as truthful.

During my first year here, when it came time for the dry season it really got dry, so that by mid-season everything was as dry as the Desert of Sahara. I am still wondering what it was that prevented the whole state from being blown out into the Atlantic Ocean or the Gulf of Mexico. The natives said, "This is very unusual." Last year, when the dry season should have started it began to rain, and the longer the dry season lasted, the more it rained. This also was "very unusual."

This year it has been both cold and wet when it ought to have been dry and warm, more "unusual" weather. Many times this winter when the rain has been descending in torrents I have heard this announcement over the radio: "This is station WJAX, Jacksonville Florida, 'the land of sunshine. The announcer should have completed the picture by adding, 'this is very unusual, as usual.'"

Few Apply For Welfare Permits

Only Few In State Take Out Licenses To Solicit Funds In Communities

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Application for certificates for the solicitation of funds for benevolent and charitable purposes, which must be granted annually by the State Department of Welfare, indicates that persons, agencies and societies which heretofore operated with certificates are either out of business this year, have not yet solicited funds in 1931, or are soliciting funds in violation of the law, John J. Hanna, State Secretary of Welfare said today.

To date fifty seven applications have been received by the Department of Welfare to grant certificates for 1931 solicitation of funds. Hanna cited the act of 1925 regulating the solicitation of funds for charitable and benevolent purposes and issued a warning that persons or organizations soliciting without a certificate granted by the State Department of Welfare are subject to the penalties attached to the act.

The law passed in 1925 authorizes the Department of Welfare to receive applications and issue certificates for the solicitation of funds and states that anyone soliciting funds without holding such a certificate is in violation of the act and subject to a fine of not less than $100 or more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year or both penalties may be imposed.

Holder Of Air Speed-Record Hero To Both Wife And World

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The old adage, "A hero is not a hero to his wife" was refuted here by Mrs. Frank Hawks, whose husband holds the transcontinental non-stop aviation record and is one of the world's most noted flyers.

"Frank smiles to the world, but he also smiles to me," Mrs. Hawks said and thereupon revealed the details of her romance with the flyer, a romance which she insists is as alive today as it was when they first met five years ago in the picturesque Tampico, Mexico.

In those days Hawks was a lonely American employee of a Mexican aviation company. Sympathizing with a fellow-American, the girl who was later to become his wife, invited the aviator to her home to take part in a little play.

He enacted the role of the hero, while she carried the part of his sister.

"Before rehearsals were completed," Mrs. Hawks said, "I was wishing that I had taken the part of the sweetheart instead of the sister."

Two years after the first meeting in an ancient Mexican town, the couple was married in Houston, Texas. Hawks bought his first plane, a sister ship of Colonel Lindbergh's famous Spirit of St. Louis, in which he and his bride embarked on a 56,000 mile honeymoon.

It was in 1929 that Hawks flew to Los Angeles in a Lockheed monoplane to prepare for his record-making cross-country hop and his wife went to New York to make a home ready for him. Hawks negotiated the non-stop Los Angeles to New York trip in 19 hours, ten minutes and 28 seconds, his first flight record.

Mrs. Hawks herself has spent 350 hours in the air, holding the woman's passenger record of 85,000 miles.

She says she has always retrained tears when her husband is about to begin a new and perilous aerial venture. She must always show as much courage as her intrepid husband, even though she feels afraid, she said.

Kingsford-Smith To Take No More Risks

(International News Service) MELBOURNE, Feb. 18.—Wing-Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous trans-Pacific and trans-Atlantic flyer, has decided to take no more risky flights. His recent marriage to Mary Powell, beautiful Australian girl, is the reason.

Returning from his honeymoon trip to Tasmania, "Smithy" said he did not consider it fair to undertake further hazardous flights now that he was married.

"I shall fly, of course, and I hope to devote my energy to helping the cause of Australian aviation generally," he said.

"My living lies in the air and I foresee a great future for flying in Australia."

Kingsford-Smith will continue to pilot mail planes for the Australian National Airways when required. He will settle in Sydney.

LIVES OF THIS DOG OUTRIVALS CATS

D. Oreskovich, has at least four of his own.

Two months ago Prince was struck by an automobile. He was left for dead. An hour later he got up and slowly started home. A patrolman thought he ought to put the animal out of possible pain, so he shot Prince through the neck.

Prince was taken home, apparently limp in death. During the night he revived, and appeared to be getting well when he "died" a natural death. The Oreskovich family went into mourning, but the next morning Prince was pawing at the cellar door.

A veterinarian has been treating the dog since and he now appears well and strong.

Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

The Parent Problem

Child Paid By Parents To Tell On His Friends Turns Coward In School

Dr. Myers Paints Picture Of Development Of "Squealer," Maintaining Father And Mother Are At Fault

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Tom is four. He is a tattler. He gets paid for tattling. His parents pay him.

Tom and Tillie are at play. Tillie is his sister, two years older. Tom grabs a toy from Tillie and she hits him. Tom runs to tell his daddy, who arrives upon the scene, conducts a trial, accepts Tom's version literally, and punishes poor Tillie. Tom is satisfied. He tattled on his sister and got his pay check when his father punished her.

Tillie must submit, but in her heart she has resolved to get even with her little brother. She knows very well she started the quarrel and got her into trouble. If dad had been more sensible he merely would have let the children quarrel, ignoring Tillie, or he would have separated them without attempting to fix the blame.

Tom is playing with the neighbor children. They don't go his way; he pushes one of them who doesn't see him. A fight begins. Tom goes the worst of it and goes bawling to the house to tell his mother. Out she comes to scold the other children. Soon the other children's mothers come to their defense and a general strife is on.

Anyway, Tom thinks he won. His mother came to his defense and made him feel he was right. She paid him for his tattling.

Soon his playmates hate him, and he and his mother never get along with them. He becomes a coward and a bully. About all cowards turn to bullies. By throwing down the little children, teasing them and running off with their toys and hats, the bully fools himself that he is strong and brave. He sneaks up behind the other boys of his size, pushes them, or strikes them, or he hurls sticks and stones at them, and when they attempt to punish him he runs to tell his mother.

He tempts them to do things he is forbidden to do, and then tattles on them. Sometimes he does such things himself and tells his mother that the other children did them.

Tom enters school and continues as a tattler. He picks quarrels with the children on the playground and "squeals" on them to the teacher. Every time he gets the slightest opportunity to tell on a classmate he does so. He is never happier than when he can help to get another pupil into trouble.

Forever Tom is complaining to the teacher about the way the children treat him on his way to school, and every evening he reports a string of grievances at home. His parents always take his word and take his part. They never think that he could do a wrong. They pay him for tattling, and he goes on practicing in the ignorant art to earn more pay.

Poor Tom! Not his fault he is a tattler.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally, write me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Flaming Sword In Northeastern Sky Thrills Watchers

A thrilling spectacle of the heavens—a flaming sword—was the unusual sight members of the William McGary, Sr. living at New Wilmington, R. D. 1, report as being seen last Sunday morning about 1:30.

In appearance the sword, which showed up in the northeastern sky, seemed to be about 70 feet long and 1½ feet wide. It was bright red in color and had no star at its head. Its reflection on the clouds in the sky were also red, having the appearance of a sunset or of a distant furnace light.

The sword light lasted for nearly 30 minutes, the family said.

MY FRIENDS AND I WERE SCARED

Effective Way Found To Break Up This Long-Standing Cold

"Last fall I caught a heavy cold that turned into flu and it settled on my lungs. No medicine I used seemed to help it any. I began to lose weight, and I coughed a great deal. My bowels would not work without physio. My kidneys became bad and I had severe pains in my back and shoulders. My friends and I were scared. In the old medicine brought me over a half bottle of World's Tonic. She said I needed strength to throw off the cold, and she helped me. I was 'bottled energy.' More to please her than anything else, I took it as directed. That half bottle helped me wonderfully, and the next bottle cleared up the cough. After three bottles all symptoms of the cold and flu disappeared. I never knew a medicine so effective."

Mrs. R. A. Kaufman, 210 Sterling Ave., Butler, Pa.
World's Tonic is not a specific for colds, but it broke up that cold in the same way it does for many ills. It helped clear away the impurities in the blood, enabled this blood to kill off the germs, and supplied what the system needed to gain strength. Because it is so helpful in chronic catarrh, in this case it was equally effective in acute catarrh.

An illness hangs on because of weakness. Correct that weakness with World's Tonic, and your strength will help greatly to overcome the trouble. World's Tonic is sold by Eckerd's, McKee's, Paisley's, Smith's and other good druggists. (A-139).

DON'T TRIFLE WITH A COLD

Break It Up In A Jiffy With Something You KNOW Does the Job

THE thing to do with a cold is to break it up in a hurry—with something you know does the job; not to trifle with a lot of trick ideas and remedies. Colds are too dangerous to experiment with.

Get a box of Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon that miserable, aching feeling begins to go. The cold breaks up. The poisons are moved from your system. The world looks like an altogether different place.

Those results come because Hill's goes back to first principles by going to the seat of the trouble. It's not a new-fangled fancy idea but a tried and proved way that's made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy.

Hill's costs only a few cents. Use it for quick relief after everything else you've tried has failed.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

Bob Hunting was a born showman and New Castle was his home.

A veteran of the civil war, he turned to the amusement business in the seventies, a few years after seeing service in the great intercontinental contest, which fortunately resulted in the preservation of the Union.

His wife was an asset to him in the business, he and his wife putting on a trapeze act, which was one of the features of the show, which in the course of the thirty years that it continued to travel here and there all over the country, became a household word as far as amusement was concerned.

As compared with the present day circus, the Hunting Show was but a midge but for real entertainment, it was one of the premier organizations of its kind in the country.

It was a one ringed affair for the greater part of its existence. It carried no menagerie for most of its existence. There was a performing horse used in the ring work, trapeze and other similar acts and clowns of course. And the show had a good band.

As this was home for the circus, which however kept going most of the time, in the north in the summer time and in the south in the winter time, much talent was recruited right here.

Toward the last, the owner made an effort to grow into a bigger circus with a menagerie and other features of the present day circus, but this was not a success and was the cause of the Hunting Show passing out of the amusement picture.

While a small one ring show, it traveled by wagon.

Soon To Construct War Memorial

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—San Francisco's $5,000,000 memorial to its soldier dead, is soon to be constructed, according to the War Memorial board.

When finished, the memorial, consisting of twin buildings, will take its place among the city's most impressive buildings. A memorial court will separate the two units. The north building will be the Veterans' hall, and the South the Memorial Opera house.

San Francisco will have in the Memorial Opera house an adequate place for the proper presentation of opera and musical events for the first time. The building will have a seating capacity of 3,250, and there will be 25 boxes, with two circular galleries.

In comparative size the opera house will equal the structure of the Chicago Opera association and will rank with other opera houses in the country of a similar character.

The Veterans' hall has been planned to include an auditorium seating 1,200 persons. There will be lodge rooms for veterans' organizations, libraries, kitchens and dining halls. The auditorium is arranged so that it can be converted into a ball room.

Gander Escorts Children To School

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 18.—Quack-quack-quack! The children are going to school.

In this manner the stentorian honk of a big white gander, "Chubby" by name, announces to the residents surrounding the John J. Vestal grade school here that nine o'clock is fast approaching and that all is well with their school bound youngsters.

Every morning Chubby can be seen squawkingly trailing his self-appointed charges to the school portals and a jealous guardian he proves to be, especially at intersections where he defies trucks and automobiles to hurry his stately waddle.

Suspicious characters, such as dogs, cats or even human beings, who intimidate they would like to share Chubby's place in the affection of the Vestal "gang" are met with a warning hiss from his outstretched neck and blows from his powerful wings.

Chubby is not a "ladies man" in fact he barely tolerates women and often chases the maids who seek to take up his time as a "bachelor" goose, adding a few pinches with his beak as a warning that he is not to be trifled with.

The boys proclaim him a "regular fellow." He can put no end of feeling into his hearty squawk in answer to their yells at noon and recess periods. While the children are busy with their studies, Chubby scouts the neighborhood to see that all is well and explores puddles of water and mud.

Mother always knows when school is out, for it's—Quack-quack-quack—down the sidewalk and across the streets. The kids are coming from school.

Quarantines 350 In Six Hospitals

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Three hundred and fifty patients are now under quarantine for venereal disease in six sequestration hospitals supervised by the Pennsylvania State Health Department, according to a report submitted to Secretary of Health Dr. Theodore B. Appel, by Dr. Edgar S. Everhart, chief of the venereal disease section.

"By far the larger portion of these patients are represented by disease spreaders who have become a menace to the community by reason of their activities which were in many instances commercially inspired," Dr. Everhart said. "However, there is a definite number belonging to the non-commercial class who because of promiscuity represented a real hazard in their respective localities. Figures just compiled for 1930 show that approximately 4,401 persons who were public health menaces because of infections of this character were placed under quarantine by the Department."

POSTAL SUPERVISORS MAY ATTEND CONFAB

Postal supervisors of the local postoffice have been extended an invitation to attend the annual con-

Scientist Says Our Universe Is Exploding

Millions Of Tons Of Weight

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Sir James Jeans, the famous scientist and astronomer, has startled London with the statement that the universe is being blown to bits.

In a radio broadcast to the British public, Sir James said:

"The Belgian mathematician Le-maitre has shown that Einstein's universe has properties similar to those of a soap bubble.

"As soon as the universe comes into existence it starts swelling out in size, and must go on expanding indefinitely. The results of measuring the speeds of nebulae have been sensational. The last to be investigated was found to be receding from us at the rate of 26 million miles an hour.

"Many astronomers doubt whether these speeds are true, but if they are, the whole universe must be expanding—I might almost say exploding—at a terrific rate, and judging time on the astronomer's scale, the whole universe must be far more transitory and ephemeral than was thought."

Referring to the sun, Sir James said that there was no reasonable doubt that it was rapidly losing many millions of millions tons of weight.

"That material universe," he continued, "appears to be passing away like a tale that is told, dissolving into nothingness like a vision fading before light of day."

As to the stars, Sir James declared that the average one is something like a million times as big as the earth, yet the number of stars in the universe was probably about equal to the number of drops of rain which fall on the whole of London in a day of heavy rain. He added:

"However, leave only three wasps alive in the whole of Europe, and the area of Europe will still be more crowded with wasps than space is with stars."

Great Dog Derby Test Of Strength

Two Hundred Mile Non-Stop
Trip Is Being Planned

(International News Service)

THE PAS, Manitoba, Feb. 18.—The world's greatest dog-sled derby will be held next year on March 3. It is a 200-mile non-stop race and in it the best dog mushers of Canada and the United States will take part. It starts on the Saskatchewan river at the Pas in northern Manitoba and proceeds north and west to Flin Flon, the turning point, 100 miles away. It is considered to be the greatest test of speed and strength in the world. For several years this historic race, the hardest and longest in the world since the discontinuance of the Alaska dog derby, was won by Emil St. Godard, but last year the honors were wrested from him in a terrific driving finish by his great rival, Earle Brydges.

In addition to the dog race The Pas and the whole of northern Manitoba holds a carnival at the same time and goes on for three days for that purpose. The program is typical of the northern frontier.

ZOOLOGY EASY FOR CHILDREN OF SAN DIEGO

(International News Service)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 18.—Study of zoology by boys and girls of this country is made easy by the O'Rourke Zoology Institute, which was formed in 1926 to promote interest in animal life. Occupying its own building in Balboa Park, the institute has established an enviable record during the four years of its existence.

Each day, after regular school hours, classes are held at the institute building and a staff of 12 instructors, augmented by volunteer teachers, dispenses information in zoological fields. Dr. W. H. Raymond, nationally known scientist who formerly lived in Boston, is largely responsible for the remarkable record which the institute has made.

Starting in a modest way, the institute has extended the scope of its work to include drawing nature study, mineralogy, photography, music and various other branches of science. Research work is done in photographic optics, bacteriology, fresh water biology and geology.

More than 1,000 children per month attend the free classes which are held after school daily and on Saturdays. Nature walks and excursions to isolated sections of the county, to study animal life, are a regular part of the institute's program.

The institute sponsors free public lectures by eminent scientists, travelers and research workers and these lectures draw thousands of boys and girls interested in scientific research.

The institute houses several exhibits, typical of the work which is being carried on, and there is also an extensive technical library available for the use of institute members and patrons.

During the summer vacation, a course in nature lore is offered to children, upon successful completion of which diplomas and certificates are awarded.

WELL-KNOWN MAN PRAISES DIAPEPSIN FOR STOMACH ILLS

"For over two years I had heartburn and gas on my stomach," says A. L. Davidson, popular Navy Yard employee, of 815 Eye Street, S.E., Washington, D. C.

"I would belch often, leaving a sour, hot taste in my mouth. Few things agreed with me.

"Then I read about it and got me some Pape's Diapepsin. I had immediate relief from the first few tablets, so I kept on with it. Now I feel fine; eat all the fried foods I want without bad after-effects. I have gained eight pounds since starting on Pape's Diapepsin and my trouble is all gone. The tablets are pleasant to chew and sure get results quickly."

Pape's Diapepsin is the best thing yet discovered to end digestive worries, give tone to a disordered stomach, increase appetite, make digestion vigorous and complete. Its success in so many cases where everything else has failed, proves that.

All drugstores sell these harmless, pleasant tablets. If you prefer to try them before buying, a letter to Pape's Diapepsin, Wheeling, W. Va., will bring a sample box, FREE.

How did Nathan Hale meet his death?
Nathan Hale, a Revolutionary patriot, met his death under circumstances that have made him famous in American history. Early in September, 1776, he entered the British lines disguised as a Dutch school teacher, to obtain some much needed information for the colonists. He secured the information and was about to return when, on the night of September 21, he was recognized and captured. On the following morning he was hanged as a spy. His last words were: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

Why were the British coins guineas, so called? Are they still coined?
The guinea derived its name from the fact that the gold from which the first specimens were coined was brought from the Guinea coast in West Africa. For the same reason it originally bore the impression of an elephant. It was first coined during the reign of Charles II in 1664 and continued in common use until 1817, when it was superseded by the sovereign. It is still customary in Great Britain to estimate professional fees, honoraria of all kinds, complimentary subscriptions, prices of pictures, etc., in guineas.

Who referred to Shakespeare as "an upstart crow?"
The allusion to Shakespeare as "an upstart crow" is contained in a tract by Robert Greene (1590-92) entitled, "A Groat's-Worth of Wit, Bought With a Million of Repentance," which was discovered after Greene's death. The story is in part autobiographical.

Thieves certainly are no respecters of persons. They stole a police car in Chicago and a riot gun it contained. In a neighboring state they made off with a pastor's car while he was preaching on sin.—The Rockford Register-Republic.

Asks Guidance For Purblind Children

(International News Service)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 18.—Children with defective vision need thorough vocational guidance upon graduation from "sight saving" classes to enable them to earn their livelihood. Lewis H. Carris of New York, managing director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, said in a recent address here.

"Our work for partially-sighted children must not cease with the education of a general nature given in the grade and high schools," Carris declared. "Vocational training should be started in junior high school and continued in senior high school, such vocations being chosen as will not prove injurious to sight."

"The 4,000 partially seeing students in sight saving classes throughout the United States are taught to realize their own possibilities and to select occupations in which their defective vision will not be increased."

State Legislature Is In Peculiar Session

(From News Bureau)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—In the history of Pennsylvania legislatures there have been few sessions which rival in peculiar procedure the present one. As one of the rural members remarked recently, "this is the resolutionist session of the legislature ever held."

Everybody, it seems, wants to present a resolution, and then defend it with a sea of words. Figuratively speaking the chandeliers are dripping with adjectives and the desks are strewn with nouns. Speeches, arguments and debates, charges, counter charges and threats, and while all this is going on the real work of the legislature, that of grinding out legislation, is disregarded.

Thus far the house has had some 15 resolutions running the gamut from the price of wheat to a memorial to congress to outlaw war, with the utilities and the public service commission coming in for the major portion of the resolution.

When Governor Gifford Pinchot made his charges against utilities and the public service commission he opened the gate to a flood of resolutions for investigations. Senator William H. Earnest and Senator Samuel Salus started it with resolutions for joint investigations. Then the senate changed its mind and passed a resolution for a strictly senatorial investigation.

Countering the parries of the senate the house came back with the D. Glenn Moore resolution which called for a joint resolution of the house and senate and carrying an appropriation of $100,000. This carried the house with a whoop and was quickly and efficiently picked in the senate.

Ellwood J. Turner then presented a resolution in the house which provided an appropriation for the senatorial investigation. This met a horrible death. Moore again presented a resolution calling for a strictly house of representatives investigation, which passed on Tuesday morning.

In the meantime the senatorial investigating committee got under way but now is looking for something to investigate. With no funds and no cooperation the senators are finding the sledding rather rough and now the house is ready to step in on the slightest provocation and do a little investigating on its own hook.

Old timers in the house are beginning to wonder where the ship of state is going, if any, and why. Committees are not reporting out bills, the calendar is light each day, but the air is heavy with speeches.

Reprisal threats are freely heard on both sides of the legislative fence and unless conditions improve, there is a good possibility that this session will adjourn with little constructive legislation passed. And hovering in the distance is the shadow of an extra session, which the governor has intimated he will call if he finds it necessary.

When the session will adjourn nobody knows and nobody cares to hazard a guess. The past two sessions have adjourned in the middle of April but there appears to be little likelihood of this one doing so.

flu

EVERY DAY NOW, national and local authorities are issuing urgent requests for precautionary measures against the spread of flu, colds and pneumonia.

Their advice is simple and sensible. The exact cause of flu is not definitely known. But a weakened run-down condition may expose us to greater risks of flu—just as it may expose us to greater risks of other diseases. So the wise thing is to build up our vitality and resistance. Keep free from worry. Avoid exposure and over-fatigue. Get plenty of nourishing food, sleep and exercise. And start at once to take a good, fortifying tonic.

Doctors advise Scott's Emulsion. Scott's Emulsion is recommended by doctors because it brings the remarkable health-building and disease-resisting vitamins of cod-liver oil—in the pleasantest way. Scott's Emulsion is emulsified. So it's free from that strong "fishy" taste. Easier to take.

Easier to digest. And more quickly absorbed into the blood stream. As a result, Scott's Emulsion benefits you almost immediately. It promptly strengthens and revitalizes weakened systems. It improves your weight and appetite. It increases your resistance against the dread attacks of pesky colds and other winter ills.

Wonderful for children! Try Scott's Emulsion for pale, thin children, too. Made of purest, tested Norwegian cod-liver oil, Scott's Emulsion is rich in vitamin A, the growth-promoting vitamin that helps guard against disease. It is rich in vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin that prevents rickets. It also contains vital mineral elements that aid in forming sound bones and teeth. And remember—Scott's Emulsion tastes good! Get a bottle at your druggist's to-day!

Annual Banquet Is Held By Y.P.C.U. Of Mercer Presbytery

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Feb. 18.—One hundred and twenty-five young people representing the Y. P. C. U. societies of Mercer Presbytery gathered in the Second U. P. Church of Mercer on Monday evening for their annual banquet with Professor W. D. Gamble of Sharon as the speaker. Much enthusiasm was shown in the group singing led by Tom Sarver, Presbyterial president, and in the songs and yells of the societies present.

Mr. Clayton Swickard acted as toastmaster with a seeming inexhaustible supply of wit and humor. William Miller, president of the host society, extended a hearty welcome to the group. Mr. Gerald Spencer responded to the greeting in a challenging way. Professor Gamble, who is superintendent of the Sharon public schools, chose "At the Threshold" as the theme of his address. The speaker suggested opportunity, decision, service, and responsibility as important thresholds at which the Christian youth of today stand. In closing his timely address, Professor Gamble appealed to the young people for their wholehearted support of the highest ideals in civic and religious affairs.

Following the address, Miss Ethel Blair of Grove City College delighted her audience with two humorous readings. Rev. Henry Ostermeier, secretary of young people's work, brought the program to a close with a few well chosen remarks; and Rev. Paul dismissed the gathering with benediction.

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 18.—Intimation that he would resign as Chancellor of the Exchequer failed today to halt Socialist attacks on Philip Snowden, who has been under fire since his recent pessimistic review of Britain's financial outlook. At a meeting of all labor ministers, members of Parliament and peers, Snowden again expounded the financial straits of the country and demanded wholehearted support of his party. They listened in gloomy silence.

Sell Ancient Clock To Collector For $1500

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Feb. 18.—A famous English clock of the renowned London clockmaker, Daniel Quare, made in the 17th century, was sold at a recent Vienna auction for $1500. There are only four copies of this clockwork, which runs a whole year, existing in the whole world, and they are much sought after by collectors. The one sold in Vienna belonged formerly to the famous Austrian art collector, Baron Mauthner. The price at which it was knocked down is said to be exceedingly low.

RECEPTION AT STATE MANSION

(From News Bureau)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—Legislators forgot their Capitol Hill squabbles for the moment Tuesday evening and with the little wife went down to Front Street where Governor and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot received in the Mansion. As the Squab Center Gazette might put it, "a good time was had by all" barring a few score tramped corns and a few gowns which received a baptism of coffee when some careless elbow bumped the owner of the gown.

Each time an executive reception is held, the need of an adequate mansion is seen the more. The present mansion looks to be a relic of the Revolutionary days and is nothing nearly as elaborate as many homes in New Castle. Decades ago it was probably considered one of the show places of Harrisburg but today it is antiquated both as to size and appointment.

For the reception the weatherman turned out as mean a brand of weather as he could dig out. A cold drizzle kept up its constant down-pour on the guests as they made their way to the mansion and many a pair of light shoes were steeled as the owner of them walked up the street towards the mansion. Governor Pinchot and his wife were in the receiving line as were General Shannon and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. C. Jay Goodnough, President Pro Tem of the Senate. Augustus F. Daix, Jr., was absent. The guests walked by the receiving line, then to the refectory where a light lunch was served and for the balance of the time they were present stood around discussing politics and the chances of an early adjournment of the session.

Conspicuous by their absence were the Philadelphia members of the House and Senate. A few went down to pay their respects to the governor, but the most of them left for home on Tuesday afternoon.

Disillusioned Thief Writes Complaints

(International News Service)
EAST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 18.—A disappointed burglar who tried unsuccessfully to rob the offices of A. J. Holm, Inc., here left behind him several notes taking the owner to task for making the burglar's job so hard and fruitless. "Why don't you put your money where I can find it?" the thief asked in one note. "Then it wouldn't be necessary to muss up things."

Over the wreckage of a desk was a note, "Why the deuce don't you leave this desk unlocked?"

Few Appreciated Tip Given Out By Mellon Warning Of Big Slump

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—According to Eugene Meyer Jr., under examination by the senate committee on banking and currency, as to his suitability for the post of governor of the federal reserve board, to which President Hoover recently appointed him, the board seems to him "to have done its best to warn people against the orgy of speculation" preceding the crash of October, 1929.

"But some people," supplemented the veteran financier, "didn't want to be warned."

He might have added that some hadn't sense enough, either.

If ever anyone had a tip, concerning what was to come, handed to him from high authority, I had one handed to me, forecasting that market slump—and never realized it until long after it was all over.

Not that it made a particle of stock exchange difference to me, stocks being a commodity in which I never dabbled in my life.

But oh! what a choice bit of news I lost! through being "too damn dumb" (as Vice President Curtis expresses it, when he wants to convey his idea of the limit of stupidity) to understand what Secretary of the Treasury Mellon (no less an individual) was trying to explain to me and a few others, early in March of 1929, relative to speculative prospects.

In the light of what followed, I know now what he meant, believe me.

He was worried by what Governor Meyer of the reserve board refers to as the then "orgy of speculation," which was wildly rampant in March 1929, as most folk doubtless will remember.

Obviously, however, it cannot have been very easy for him to say so.

Imagine!—if he had said so, if he had given it as his considered opinion as secretary of the treasury, that stocks were away too high; that a smash was inevitable.

Naturally the smash would have occurred—right then.

Yes, and what would business men have said about Secretary Mellon?—for precipitating" it. Why, he would have been blamed for everything that has happened since then. Of course he would.

Yet he was worried. He wanted to broadcast a warning and he couldn't.

That was just the time when President Hoover was organizing his cabinet.

I my capacity as a chronicler of Washington events, I was making the rounds of the departments, establishing news relationships with the holders of the various portfolios.

In due season, Secretary Mellon's continuation in office having been announced, I thought I ought to look in and refresh my recollections of him.

Accordingly I applied to his chief assistant, John Kieley, for an audience.

"All right," said Kieley, "here are two or three of the newspaper boys waiting to see him now. Go ahead with the rest of them." And in we went, without further formality.

The venerable multi-millionaire was sitting at his desk, smoking a cigarette and looking as subdued and neutral as usual. There appeared to be no information of consequence to give out, and the affair passed off with half a dozen commonplace questions and answers.

It was as we started to file out that the secretary raised a detaining hand, with the air of a man who has been struck by an unimportant afterthought, and we paused inquiringly.

"You m-m-might say," he observed indifferently (he stutters a little) "that I th-th-think this is a -g-g-good t-t-time to b-b-buy b-b-bonds."

That was all there was to it. We newspaper chaps consulted outside for a minute, as to whether the bond suggestion amounted to anything. We decided in the negative. A couple of the others did include it in their "stories," but only perfunctorily. For myself I disregarded it entirely, not having been looking for news, anyway, but merely for a "personality" impression.

Not knowing the least thing about stocks and bonds, either one, the hint meant nothing in my young life.

In fact, hardly anyone paid a bit of attention to it—only, as I subsequently learned, the merest handful of singularly perspicacious individuals.

I chanced to meet one of them at the club not long ago—a friend of mine, who has a little money—not much, as fortunes count nowadays, but a quarter of a million, maybe.

Although quite active in the market during the early boom period his astuteness in getting out of it unscathed has often been remarked on. He was telling me about it.

"Perhaps, you remember," he said (not knowing of course anything of my call on the treasury secretary) "that 18 months or so ago Andy Mellon advised everybody to buy bonds. Somehow I got a notion that he meant to say, not so much that bonds were especially promising but that he didn't think a great deal of stocks any longer. So I closed out right away. A man who isn't wide awake to such inklings has no business playing the market."

And, at these words, did I, indeed recollect that remark that Secretary Mellon stuttered? Migosh, it was as if a brick house had fallen on me.

Trips To Store Are Educating

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 18.—Sending a child to the grocery store has valuable educational possibilities, according to Dr. Edgar Dale of the bureau of educational research, Ohio State University.

Too often, however, parents regard it only as "running errands" and do not take advantage of the opportunity for practical education.

An investigator stationed at a grocery store, Dr. Dale writes in the Educational Research Bulletin, published by the university, noted the articles purchased by the children. He also estimated each child's age.

Of 36 children who received change, 25 counted it and 11 did not. In the order named, meat, vegetables, bread, fruit and milk were the most frequent purchases.

Dr. Dale urges sending a child to the store as a means of "fruitful training," especially in the meaning of money and credit, economic implications of varying prices, acquaintance with numbers, and insight into the need for "cooperative effort in our highly independent society."

Of 106 children observed, 54 were boys and 52 were girls. They ranged in age from four to fifteen years. The four-year old was a girl.

Juniata Debate Team Meets Westminster Tonight At Home

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—Westminster college's varsity debate team opens the season tonight in the Little Theater of the college when it meets a team from Juniata college. The question, Resolved: That the states should pass laws providing for unemployment insurance, will be argued along the Oregon plan of debate.

This system calls for only two speakers on each team. Westminster's representatives will be David Hunter, Bellevue, and Frank Douds, Beaver. The first speaker for each side, under the Oregon plan, makes a constructive speech 15 minutes long. The second speaker has but 10 minutes, this time being for cross-examination of the first speaker of the opposing team.

WELLESLEY STUDENTS PREPARE FOR FIRE

(International News Service)

WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 18.—Wellesley college students are not going to be caught napping if the fire menace should threaten their dormitories.

Monthly fire drills held in the early morning or during the evening when all the girls are indoors are now in order under plans announced by Miss Virginia Macomber, a senior from Providence, who has been named fire chief at the college.

Fire captains in the various dormitories will supervise all drills, checking up on the time required to clear the halls, and overseeing the duty it will be to see that every room is emptied.

These precautions are being taken in spite of the fact that all the college buildings are fireproof. The famous college hall fire of 1914 was the last serious blaze there.

It is said that the first American novel was published in 1789 and written by Sarah W. Morton under the title of "Power of Sympathy."

STOMACH ILLS

A Medical Opinion

"The ideal corrective for 'sour stomach' is calcium carbonate—a potent anti-acid, incapable of disturbing the normal action of the bowels and bladder, impossible of over-dosage and perfectly safe to use."

—You can now tell your doctor this without need of medical authority.

A Powerful Anti-acid—yet Safe
Old-fashioned folks, not abreast with medical science, still take burning soda. Occasional doses may do no harm. But Calcium Carbonate, in proper form, is the modern anti-acid; 2½ times as effective as soda, and is safe in its action and positive in its relief. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the ideal form of Calcium Carbonate combined with other valuable healing ingredients. Medical authorities commend Stuart's formula as the only kind for use with children and best for men and women.

Juveniles Show Talents Tuesday

"Happy Days" Presented To Large Audience By St. Margaret's Children

There is no danger of the supply of young singers, actors and dancers running low, for there is enough talent in the juvenile department of St. Margaret's church to keep the footlights of New Castle's stages burning for a long time. They staged a production at Lyceum hall, corner of Second and Clayton streets, Tuesday evening, and it was a fine sample of the splendid ability of these youngsters.

Joseph Diffley was the announcer of the evening. He presented each number in a clever manner strictly his own. Music throughout the performance was furnished by Tom Flanagan, violinist and Miss Alice Diffley at the piano.

At the conclusion of the exercises Rev. Fr. A. P. Scholz addressed the audience in a few words thanking them for their attendance in spite of the unfavorable weather. He praised the children for their excellent performance, and referred to the generous applause given the various acts.

Following is the program and cast of characters: "Happy Days"—A one act sketch. Teacher, Mrs. Mary Jones. Pupils, Edward Huff, Morris Aquara, Betty O'Donnell, Francis Avery, James Ronan, Della Gallagher, James Reichert, Mary Reichert, Betty Sullivan, Leo Thompson, Edward Basterfield, Anna Mae Aquara, Martin Ronan, Dorothy Cushman.

Two American Bums—John Reimer, Raymond Carlin.

The Cabin in the Hills—Miss Mary Jones, Miss Henrietta Ronan. My Wild Irish Rose—Entire audience, James Martin, leading.

There is something about an old fashioned girl—Betty O'Donnell, Betty Sullivan.

Toe dance—Betty Ann Arendt. I got a pain in my sawdust—Phyllis Basterfield. Recitation—Mrs. Mary Arendt. When your hair has turned to silver—Miss Della Gallagher.

Toe dance—Miss Helen Daly, accompanied by Miss Helen Messner. Here comes the Sun—Miss Rita Reichert, Miss Helen Stritzinger.

Dolly has the flu—Russell and Phyllis Basterfield. Tap dance—Miss Mary Ellen Reimer.

Moonlight on the Colorado—Raymond Carlin, John Reimer. The Stars and Stripes—A tribute to the symbol of our Liberty enacted in aesthetic movements, by the following children: Phyllis Basterfield, Jane Martin, Catherine Clark, Helen Stritzinger, Betty O'Donnell, Betty Sullivan, Mary Jones, Anna Mae Aquara, Henrietta Ronan, Margaret Reichert, Laura Mae Martin, Eleanor Mrozek, Della Gallagher.

The audience joined in the finale "The Star Spangled Banner" and upon leaving, all agreed that the children carried off the performance with professional style. The main reason the program was given, as Father Scholz explained, was to give the youngsters a chance to appear in front of an audience so that they may become more confident of their abilities, etc.

Mrs. Mary Jones directed "Happy Days" and R. C. Gallagher produced it.

L. S. C. CLUB
L. S. C. club members will be entertained on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. R. G. Clark, on Cedar street.

Diggers Near 8,000-Ton Mark As Work At Croton Continues

County Poor Director M. B. Hogue's records today disclosed that over 7,000 tons of coal have been excavated and delivered to needy homes since the New Castle Mining and Clay Products company first offered its Croton coal strip for public use last October. Digging operations, while they have slackened to a slight degree, are continuing daily with nearly 30 or 40 men at the grounds. Harry Trover, foreman-in-charge reports plenty of activity. The 7,000 tons hauled from the site has supplied hundreds of families in the district with warmth and accompanying comfort during the coldest days of the winter. Hundreds of additional tons remain undug.

With the diggers busily engaged, Mr. Hogue reports that county relief activities remain about as usual with the number of applicants for food and clothing still large. The director foresees a let-up in relief work with the coming of spring not far away.

Fords Pay Visit To Carlisle, Pa.

Enroute To Savannah, Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Visit Pennsylvania Town

(International News Service) CARLISLE, Pa., Feb. 18.—Motor Magnate Henry Ford and Mrs. Ford were continuing their trip to Savannah, Ga., today, after paying a surprise visit here yesterday. The Fords motored here to visit Mrs. W. H. Spicer of Detroit, who is spending the winter here near her sister, wife of Col. C. R. Reynolds, commandant of the Carlisle barracks.

The Detroit automobile king was escorted over the army reservation by Col. Reynolds and expressed keen interest in the historic place, which dates back to the Revolution and was the first officers' training school of the American army. He also found time to visit a few shops and purchase some antiques.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford left Carlisle after dinner at the home of Mrs. Spicer. In an informal interview, the motor magnate stressed the greatest need of the country now as an "international or universal mind." "No people can be prosperous unless all people are prosperous," said he. He said conditions now are more normal than they were two years ago and recommended "mixing of industry and agriculture" and "more uses of farm products" as a means of preventing recurrent cycles of depression.

TWO WESTMINSTER SORORITIES TO BECOME NATIONAL CHAPTERS SOON

Formal Installation To Take Place Over Week-End

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—Two local sororities at Westminster college will become chapters of national sororities with formal installation of chapters over the coming week-end. These two sororities are Pi Rho Phi and Phi Delta Chi.

Pi Rho Phi, the oldest women's organization at Westminster, was organized in 1865. It has the largest group of alumnae of any of the seven sororities on the campus. This local group will become Upsilon chapter of the Theta Upsilon sorority.

Phi Delta Chi sorority, organized at Westminster in 1926, will become Alpha Phi chapter in Beta province of Kappa Delta sorority.

Initiation and installation of these two local groups into the respective national organizations will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

For the most part, Thursday will be taken up with formal initiation of active members, Friday with initiation of alumnae and conferring of second degrees, Saturday afternoon with installation and conferring of third degrees, and Saturday evening with banquets.

Pi Rho Phi, which becomes Theta Upsilon, will hold its banquet at the Castleton hotel, New Castle. Phi Delta Chi, which becomes Kappa Delta, will climax its installation and initiation with a banquet at the Field club, New Castle, on Saturday evening.

National officers and province executives of the two national groups will be guests of the sororities and will have charge of installing the chapters.

Officers of the local chapter of Pi Rho Phi are: Ruth Bovard, Sharon, president; Ada Miller, New Castle, vice-president; Dorothy Cameron, Lisbon, O., treasurer; Jeanette Welsh, Homestead, secretary; Virginia Reicher, New Castle, chaplain;

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth,"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Road Building Declared Most Vital To Mexico

International Highway West Coast Is Planned

By RICHARD C. WILSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18.—Road building is more important to Mexico at this time than the agriculture and public education problems is the expressed belief of President Ortiz Rubio.

Closing a series of conferences in which governors of states and other officials participated, the presidents urged united cooperation to bring about completion of the Pacific international highway, down the west coast of Mexico to Mexico City.

This highway, it is planned, will eventually join Alaska with Argentina by way of the west coast of the United States. Present plans of Mexican officials call for completion of the unit across Mexico within two years.

"While agriculture and public education are important issues in Mexico," the president told the conference "roads should be given preference because they will automatically settle agricultural and educational problems."

"Highways will permit more extensive cultivation of lands and will open new markets for agricultural products. Past experience has demonstrated that the Mexican Indians don't wait for schools to be taken to them when means of communication are offered. They send their children to school when the means of travel is provided."

The conference held here was a prolongation of the conference held in Los Angeles several weeks ago. Colonel Filiberto Gomez, governor of the state of Mexico and one of the most enthusiastic officials, presided over the conference.

"Highways will be the salvation of Mexico," Governor Gomez, who has spent considerable time studying highway construction in the United States, told International News Service.

"They will promote the standard of living by aiding the development of agriculture and industry. In addition they will bring thousands of tourists to Mexico, especially from the United States, and we are already making plans to accommodate the tourists."

He said the government has already made provision to regulate all tourists camps built along Mexican highways. The government will require that all tourist camps and other structure erected along national highways be of typical Mexican architecture. This move is aimed to prevent the highways from becoming infested with "eye sores" and billboards he said.

Trade Seeds With Japan For Tests On Forest Land

Harrisburg, Feb. 18.—The Pennsylvania Forest Research Institute, maintained by the State Department of Forests and Waters at Mont Alto, Franklin county, has shipped fifteen pounds of native Pennsylvania white ash, black walnut, and honey locust seeds to the Forest Experiment Station at Kojima, Korea, where the Japanese government maintains a nursery for experimenting with foreign tree species to determine their suitability for timber production under the conditions of soil and climate found there.

In return the Forest Research Institute has received from the Jananese Forest Experiment Station seeds of pine, juniper, beech, alder, maple, and other Asiatic and Siberian tree species. Seedlings from these foreign tree seeds will be raised in the Mont Alto State Forest Tree Nursery.

Experimental plantings have shown that many foreign tree species are adapted to the soil and climatic conditions of Pennsylvania. The Forest Research Institute maintains complete records of the growth and establishment of plantations of such exotic species as Japanese larch, European larch, Norway spruce, Scotch pine, Japanese red pine, Japanese black pine, Austrian pine, Hinoki cedar, Swara cedar and Chinese chestnut in addition to extensive plantations of native species.

Gandhi-Lord Irwin Resume Conference Looking To Peace

Britain Willing To Grant Demand If Campaign Is Brought To Halt

(International News Service) BOMBAY, Feb. 18.—Favored with an atmosphere of extreme cordiality suffused by the first "man to man" conference on mutual Indian problems, Mahatma M. K. Gandhi and Lord Irwin, Viceroy, will continue at New Delhi today in a more or less personal manner to survey the road to peace in India.

The shrewd, nutbrown, "Holy Man" symbolizing the country's swarming millions and who remains the heart and soul of the independence movement, was closeted for more than four hours with Lord Irwin, representative of Britain's might. He left the vice-regal palace at sundown, his toothless smile indicating better than spoken comment that the day's heart-to-heart talk had proved more than satisfactory.

Gandhi Quaintly Attired
Emancipated Gandhi, attired in the traditional loin cloth and homespun cap, shook hands with the Viceroy before hurrying away to his quarters for evening prayers. He was driven off in a small American automobile.

Gandhi journeyed to New Delhi at the Viceroy's invitation, and after requesting the opportunity to meet him for a "man to man" chat. While both men insisted there was no particular significance attached to such a meeting, official circles felt that the get-together, which will last several more days, may eventually lead to abandonment of the Nationalists' civil disobedience campaign and a definite settlement of Indian trouble.

Before going to New Delhi, Gandhi conferred at length with India's representatives to the recent London roundtable conference, where Premier MacDonald proposed a future qualified dominion status for the country. He availed himself of first hand information on all developments and attitudes there.

Await Decision
It was known here that Lord Irwin already has informed Gandhi that Britain is willing to grant most of his demands in return for cessation of the civil disobedience and cooperation in the drafting of a constitution for India in accordance with the roundtable agreement.

The next few days will probably bring a definite decision on Gandhi's part.
At the start of today's conference Gandhi arranged for termination of the meeting before sundown in order not to miss his evening meal. Yesterday he left the Viceroy after darkness had fallen, which compelled him to abide by his vow not to eat after sunset.

Plenty Of Books But No Bible In Co. Law Library

Discovery Is Made By Court Crier E. H. Grace When He Asks For Bible

Although there are hundreds of books in the Lawrence county law library, it was discovered this morning that there is no Bible. The discovery was made by E. H. Grace court crier, who came in to look at a Bible. He wanted to settle an argument he was having with one of the tipstaves. He was astonished to find that there was no Bible in the library. Several attorneys present had heard of such a book, but never remembered having occasion to use it—in the law library.

The nearest Bible to the law library is found in the desk of Prothonotary R. M. Campbell in court room No. 1. At long intervals it is used in administering an oath to a witness, who objects to being sworn in the regular way. The custom is for the witness to place his hands on the Bible.

"Pay-Roll Racketeering" In Washington Revealed

Rep. U. S. Stone, Oklahoma, Will Demand Hearing On His Bill

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Declaring he has ample evidence of congressional "pay-roll racketeering," Rep. U. S. Stone (R) of Oklahoma today requested the expenditures committee for a hearing on his bill to bar relatives of members from the pay roll and abolish the "cut" of members in employees' salaries.

The Oklahoma congressman, who previously had aroused the ire of many members by denouncing drinking by dry-voting members, declared that would "shock the nation" if given a hearing.

His request for action was addressed to Rep. Williamson (R) of South Dakota, chairman of the expenditures committee, which is charged with the duty of effecting economies in the government.

Has Evidence.
Stone's bill is directed chiefly at the practice of members of putting their wives, daughters or others on their pay rolls as clerks, when they do no work.

It also is intended to stop a practice of some members of requiring employees, relatives or others, to return their checks to the members, who cash them.

"I've got letters from all over the country praising this bill," said Stone. "I've got a lot of information in the letters, too, which would shock the country."

Stone said one southwestern senator has his wife and sister-in-law on the pay roll for a total of $6,300. Neither does any work, he says.

Daughter-Son Paid.
"A member of the house who said he was with me pointed to another member, said he was worth a million dollars and yet he had a daughter in school at Vassar drawing a pay check from the government and a son at West Point doing the same thing," said Stone.

The bill to end "pay roll racketeering" hasn't been received very kindly in Washington, Stone said. He declared that there was an apparent effort to block some of his appointments as a result. He exhibited many letters received since he introduced his bill.

One letter from a girl said: "I worked several years in Washington as a stenographer and secretary on the house and also on the senate side, and in both cases some one was drawing part of the salary, doing nothing, while I was doing the work."

Paid While Touring.
Another letter, enclosing a clipping of a congressman's daughter's return from Europe said she received $3,100 from the government while touring Europe and that other employes who did her work got nothing extra.

Still another letter from a girl said she was engaged as secretary to a member of the house at $2,760 a year. After she took the job she was required to give the member $185 a month for five months. He then reduced his "cut" to $80 a month, and later, during the summer vacation, reduced her to $20 a month to receive mail. She quit.

Stone declares that members who receive $10,000 a year, free office rent and liberal mileage, have no moral right to retain part of their clerk hire and other allowances, especially in times of unemployment.

Pennsylvania Manufacturers Are Victimized

Department of Labor And Industry Exposes New "Racket" System

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—If you are a Pennsylvania manufacturer and happen to be visited by a couple of solicitors who represent themselves as State factory inspectors and try to persuade you to contribute to an "Inspectors Association," intimating that your generosity will induce "the boys" to be easier on you—call the police. This is the advice of Dr. A. M. Northrup, Secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry. Through long and persistent effort on the part of Harry D. Immel, director of the bureau of inspection, Department of Labor and Industry, two men have been committed to jail in Reading accused of being operators of this alleged "racket" which has given much concern to State officials and has cost industry many dollars in the last few years.

The accused gave their names as John P. Luxem and P. G. McKee. They were charged with false pretense by Supervising Inspector Buckingham of the bureau of inspection, who with the assistance of the State Police, arrested the men while they were alleged to be operating in Berks county. They were held for court by Alderman Castner. A number of Reading Manufacturers attended the hearing to exhibit receipts for sums from $25 upwards which they contributed this year or last.

Both the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce and the National Business Bureau, Incorporated, have issued warnings to their memberships concerning the practices of men representing themselves as agents of a so-called "Building, Factory and Mining Inspectors Association." In Reading the pressure the accused men exerted on manufacturer brought protests sufficiently vigorous to attract the attention of Gus A. Rogers, the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Representative there, who assisted in their apprehension. The "Building, Factory and Mining Inspectors Association" has no relationship whatsoever with the State government, and no Pennsylvania factory inspectors are connected with any such organization, nor do they solicit funds for anything, the bureau of inspection announces. Preliminary inquiries revealed the information that Luxem had been arrested on different occasions for alleged operation of the same scheme in other states.

Dante DeLillo, a student for the priesthood at the Herman Seminary was present and expressed his appreciation of what he had seen and heard. Plans for a dinner dance to be held after Easter were considered. The auditors reported that the books of the organization had been found in good shape.

Declares Cities Should Operate Own Airports

By JAMES E. HILEMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 18.—Airports of the nation should be publicly owned and operated.

This was the opinion expressed by Colonel Richard B. Barnitz, director of airports for Los Angeles, in a recent report to the Department of Commerce Division of Aeronautics.

Colonel Barnitz believes airport development and operation should be municipally controlled "because the purpose of the airfields is to serve the public."

A report of the Department of Commerce Division of Aeronautics for 1930 revealed that commercially owned airports exceeded by only 40 per cent those conducted municipally, he said.

In his report to the Aeronautics Division, Colonel Barnitz compared airports with other public utilities. "Generally speaking, airport development is a municipal undertaking," he said. "Only through public ownership and operation can the permanence of airport development be assured. Airports are to aircraft what docks and harbors are to ships; rights-of-way and terminals are to trains, what streets and highways are to motor cars. These modes of transportation would be seriously hampered if they were not assured of the permanence of their facilities on which they depend for operation," Barnitz said.

His report stated further that airports of the future will be conducted under rigid rules. Stunt flying now is a thing of the past he said. More and more airport officials are stressing the necessity that extreme precautions be taken by their pilots in order to insure the largest margin of safety for their passengers.

"The modern airport administrator is as averse to stunt flying as a marine harbor executive would be to stunt navigation," Barnitz stated. "Airports can attract large crowds by staging stunt programs. People like to see how near a pilot can come to killing himself. But it is the worst possible advertisement for the furthering of aviation," he said.

The Los Angeles airport of which Colonel Barnitz is chief executive is an example of a well managed and safely conducted airport. It is municipally controlled and considered one of the finest in the nation, being situated in ideal meteorological conditions which insure safety during landings and take-offs.

Suffers 15,000 Volts To Go Through Body

(International News Service) SOUTH BEND, Wash., Feb. 18.—O. B. Edwards, chief lineman of the West Coast Power company here, had the experience of feeling 15,000 volts of electricity surge through his body for two minutes and lived to tell his children about it.

The lineman was working on a pole at a high tension sub-station when a 2,300 volt wire he was changing contacted a strand carrying 15,000 volts. The charge coursed down Edwards' hand out near his knee to his climbing spur and thence into the pole where it grounded in a big lag bolt.

Edwards was partially paralyzed by the shock but finally managed to reach around the pole with his free hand and yank the wires free.

Insulation from the wire had burned into his hand and his knee was badly seared at the point of contact with his climbing spur.

Not So Hot Say Pupils Of Truant Edict

(International News Service) WELBORN, Kas., Feb. 18.—Double-time for truancy has been prescribed by the school board here as the result of a voluntary holiday decreed recently by the student body of Welborn high school.

The day was balmy and spring breezes beckoned, so all the students, including Winifred Wilson, daughter of Herbert F. Wilson, principal, decided to "cut" classes. The amazement of the teachers when they learned there were no students to teach was little short of convulsive. But the worm has turned.

Now, according to school board edict, the truant pupils must make up two hours for every hour missed, and "hereafter shall not give their class yell at school."

After thoroughly digesting the disciplinary edict, the student oracle declared it to be "Not so hot."

The pituitary gland, a little organ no larger than a pea, located just below the skull, controls growth. If it is over-active, giants are produced; if not active enough, growth is stunted.

Singing Sons Of Eli Arouse Controversy

(International News Service) NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 18.—No sooner does one Yale controversy pass out of the way than another rises to encourage graduates of the far past to write letters here. The latest is the Glee club programs and the shows put on by Yale Dramat. The two organizations, it is explained put on things that today's undergraduates like. "That this is not what the 90's had is hardly the fault of contemporary Yale," says Yale Alumni Weekly, and adds slyly "and is greatly to their own betterment."

Graduates of Yale have been hearing concerts and seeing shows put on the road by Yale students and have been left bewildered because everything was different from what it once was. According to some letters, Yale graduates would have the clock turned back when the Yale troupers come along. They are dismayed to find something so different.

More than four hundred students now seek places on the glee club and competition is as keen as it is for football places. The ancient banjo club, Yale is reviving plays long ago stored away, and is getting adequate training for its students who take to acting.

As far as the campus is concerned the warm letters form a matter of great amusement.

Parrot At 88 Still Spry As Ever

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 18.—"What a bird! What a bird!" This is the tenor of the remarks leveled at Bob, a parrot which it is claimed to be the ripe and wise old age of 88, by the many people acquainted with the strange bird.

He is owned by Albert McMichael, who himself is past 70, and maintains that Bob is the oldest bird in the Pittsburgh district and may be a few other districts too.

McMichael received the bird as a legacy in 1923, from Alexander Love, who, as the story goes, purchased the bird in 1882, when it had been, at that time, already 40 years on earth. For the last 48 years, McMichael insists, the bird has been a resident of Corson street, here.

When Love bought the bird, it is said, he didn't expect it to live long, as it was so old then. But now the "Talking Bird" has the reputation for being as chipper and as spry as ever. In addition he retains a certain pride in keeping his gay plumage attractive.

Compared to his present owner, McMichael, whose 70 years find the bird's owner with failing eyesight, the parrot is a real veteran. Yet Bob's beady eyes are just as shiny and alive as they were forty years ago. His many friends say they fail to note any diminution in the bird's "pep," either.

BIBLE CLASSES ATTEND SERVICE

Large Delegation Hears Dr. Peacock On Tuesday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 18.—A fine representation of the Bible classes of the local churches was present last night as Rev. Dr. Luther K. Peacock, evangelist called the roll at the revival service. The auditorium of the U. P. church was comfortably filled.

A special musical number entitled "Beulah Land" by a double male quartet from the Baptist Church was well rendered and graciously received by the congregation.

Dr. Peacock based his message on the subject of Courage and Will Power, which was obtained from the text. The speaker asserted that promises made to God by many people have been forgotten. The people lack the courage to follow Jesus through. These are weighed in the balance and found wanting. He warned, that unless the people of Ellwood City follow Christ by prayer, personal work, self sacrifice, Jesus will pass by and leave them to work out their own salvation. Multitudes of people have courage to face the duties of this world, but no courage to do the will of God.

It takes will power to do the will of God. Now is the time to dedicate your life to God. Excuses will only rob you of eternal life.

The doctor then gave an invitation to all those that wished to re-dedicate their lives to God to step on to the platform and the response was far greater than expected. Nearly 100 souls stepped forward and pledged their lives a-new to God.

Rev. J. A. King was the presiding minister and the scripture was read by Rev. Victor Harsanyi and a prayer led by Rev. W. E. Minter.

Services will be continued every night this week at 7:30 and all indications show that it will be a banner night every day.

(From News Bureau)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—Political appointment and ability often go hand in hand. Not always of course, for political expediency sometimes overrides ability, to the detriment of the office and the people. In the choice of Lewis Staley as Secretary of Forests and Waters, Governor Pinchot has selected a man whose life for the past quarter of a century and more has been bound up with the great outdoors.

When the appointment of Mr. Staley was announced his address was given as South Carolina where he was State Forester. Many who did not know him thought that the governor of Pennsylvania had gone far afield in choosing a cabinet member. Actually he was merely bringing Mr. Staley back home for he is a Pennsylvanian.

For twenty three years prior to 1927 he was in the Department of Forests and Waters, serving as Deputy Secretary. In 1927 the State of South Carolina, sensing the need of a thoroughly organized department of forests, asked Mr. Staley to come down and organize and direct their work. He went, and in a short time had an organization functioning that produced results in record time. His work in South Carolina elicited the praise of many universities and it seemed that Pennsylvania had lost a valuable man.

Shortly before he took office Governor Pinchot announced that he had asked Mr. Staley to come back home and head the department with which he had been associated for so many years. He accepted and in the next four years Pennsylvania will have a man who knows his work, whose very life is wrapped up in conversation of the forests and waters, heading this interesting phase of state government.

Mr. Staley has one hobby, and that is to cover as much barren acreage in Pennsylvania as he can, with trees. "It is a vital question, this one of reforestation," said he. "Too long have we been destroying forests and making no very considerable headway in replacing the trees with new ones. During my administration I hope to be able to see hundreds of thousands of trees planted on the mountain sides and in the waste timber land. It will pay us big dividends in future years. We are planting today for our children, and our children's children. The money we spend today will come back to them many times over."

State parks are another hobby of Mr. Staley's. It is his belief that the state must provide breathing spots for the people of the crowded cities, and were it possible immediately, he would have the state take over beauty spots in various parts of the state for that purpose. Such a work would require too much money to be done immediately, but it is an idea that will grow as time goes on.

His attention was drawn to some of the natural wonders of Lawrence County, the possibilities of some of the sections along the Slippery Rock as a state park and he expressed an interest in seeing for himself what Lawrence County has. Some day, perhaps next summer, Mr. Staley has promised to come out to Lawrence County and see for himself the beauties of Kennedy's Mill, McConnell's Mills, Hell's Hollow and the many other natural beauties which abound in Lawrence County.

His immediate job is to get his own department functioning better than it ever has, to make as he expressed it the state "tree and plant conscious" and to do his utmost to give back to Pennsylvania the trees which have gone to build homes and factories.

Bad Stomach Cause of Bad Skin

You can't expect to have a good clear fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows scaly and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a teaspoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again see how much keener your appetite is—watch how quickly skin begins to grow free of disgusting eruptions. The cost of Tanlac is less than 2c a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Lucky Arrest Saves Victim

Officer Stops Car Containing Gunmen And Their Prey

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Henry Kretzer was on the spot.

Nothing short of a miracle could save him. He was being taken for a ride.

Through the gray, early morning mist the death car drove. Kretzer in the rear, a gunman on either side, ready to shoot if he cried out, waiting only to reach a suitable spot to commit the murder.

The car reached Marcy avenue and South First street in Brooklyn. It slowed up. Kretzer waited, shuddering, resigned to his fate.

There was a heavy footfall beside the parked car. The three men looked up. Pistol in hand, Patrolman Wikenwicz, the policeman on the beat, had come over to investigate the strange car that had stopped at that hour. Seeing a pistol on the floor of the car, he ordered them to the station house.

In court Angelo Savino admitted the ownership of the gun and was held for violating the Sullivan Law. That was all. Kretzer and the other man were freed.

Outside, on the steps, Wikenwicz felt a hand on his shoulder. "Thank you for pinching me," he heard Kretzer say. Openmouthed he stood on the steps while Kretzer told the story of his ride and rescue. Openmouthed he heard him explain that he had no intentions of filing a complaint against the two men, and watched him jump into a passing cab. And he knew that Kretzer would go into hiding. Once was enough—more than enough.

INCOME TAX FACTS

NO. 15
The revenue act provides that in computing net income, upon which the tax is assessed, there may be deducted from gross income several specific items, namely, business expenses, interest, taxes, losses, bad debts, depreciation, depletion, and contributions.

Business expenses constitute, usually, the largest item. Typical expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of employees, rent, insurance, light, fuel, water, telephone, postage, stationery, printing, etc. The expenses of a manufacturing business include labor, raw materials, supplies, light, heat, power, and selling costs.

A professional man, such as a lawyer, doctor, dentist, etc., may deduct the cost of supplies used in his business, office rent, cost of light, heat, water, and telephone used in his offices, the hire of office assistants, and the amount expended in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies, and subscriptions to professional journals. A professional man who uses his residence both as his office and his home may, if he pays rent, deduct the rental value of the rooms occupied by him as an office, also the cost of light and heat furnished these rooms, and a portion of the wages of domestic servants whose time is partly occupied in caring for his office. Amounts currently expended for books, furniture, and professional instruments and equipment, the useful life of which is short, may be deducted.

The act provides for the deduction of "ordinary and necessary expenses incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business." Note should be taken of the words "ordinary and necessary." The Bureau of Internal Revenue has held, and is supported by the Board of Tax Appeals and the courts, that both of these features are necessary. Ordinary and necessary expenses are defined as those which are usual and essential in the case of similar taxpayers.

Bankers Honor Chief Of Police Who Got Bandits

Hugh Harper Gains Nation
Wide Fame Through Capture

PAY OFF MORTGAGE
ON CHIEF'S HOME

By RICHARD RANDOLPH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Feb. 18.—The long trail of the wily bandit chief, William H. (Little Jake) Fleagle, which led to his being shot down and killed in a train at Branson, Mo., last October, had a happy ending for Chief of Police Hugh D. Harper, of Colorado Springs, who earned nation wide fame through his efforts in bringing the desperado to justice.

A group of bankers and business men in Harper's home town and throughout the state of Colorado recently presented him with a paid-up mortgage to his home here, said to be worth $4,000. Brothers in his lodge also presented him with a valuable platinum ring and designated him as one of the most valuable citizens in the state.

Chief Harper for more than two years camped on the trail of Fleagle and finally cornered him in Missouri where the bandit was shot and killed by members of the group of postal inspectors and detectives who were working with Harper.

Fleagle, his brother Ralph, George Abshier and Howard Royston held up and robbed a bank at Lamar, Colorado, in May, 1928, killing four people. Although the crime was not committed in this city, Harper received the financial backing of Colorado bankers and set out to make the state safe for bankers.

The story of the tracking down of the notorious gang, the hanging of Fleagle's three companions, and the eventual killing of Fleagle himself is one of the most thrilling tales of crime detection in the history of the west. The Federal Government, because of Fleagle's participation in postal robberies, joined in the hunt and threw its nationwide resources into the search for the "master criminal."

As it had captured the imagination of the entire nation, Harper's exploit made an especially strong appeal to Colorado bankers, who feel that their business has been made safer as a result.

A movement was started among Colorado bankers to reward Harper for his work. At first carried on secretly, news of the movement to raise funds to reward Chief Harper spread throughout the state, and other bankers asked to be allowed to contribute.

In accepting the ring from the lodge brothers Harper expressed appreciation for the aid given him by United States postal authorities, saying the cooperation of the government operatives and of peace officers in various parts of the country had made possible the 100 per cent extermination of the Fleagle gang. Ralph Fleagle, Royston and Abshier were hanged at the Colorado penitentiary last July for their part in the Lamar robbery and killings.

Farmers Request 22,265 Bulletins

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—Farmers and others interested in agriculture in Pennsylvania requested 22,265 bulletins of the state department of agriculture during 1936, records indicate. This number is in addition to approximately 35,000 copies of publications which were distributed to persons on the regular mailing lists of the department.

The monthly records kept by the departments mailing room show that farmers request more information during the late fall and winter months, than during the spring and summer period when field work is in progress. Approximately 1500 more bulletins are mailed each month from October to March than from March to October.

Among the most popular publications of the department, judging from the 1936 requests are: No. 342, Insect Pests of the Household; No. 448, Pennsylvania Weeds; No. 453, Poultry Diseases; No. 454, Direct Marketing of Farm Products in Pennsylvania; No. 469, European Corn Borer in Pennsylvania; No. 471, Seed Potato Certification in Pennsylvania; No. 473, The Japanese Beetle in Pennsylvania; No. 485, Food Standards and Definitions; No. 489, The Mexican Bean Beetle.

Explorer Praises Arctic Tribesmen

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—A tribe of people who in many respects are far superior to other races which live in more temperate portions of the world, lives peacefully deep in the snow of the Arctic circle, according to Capt. Donald B. MacMillan, noted explorer who recently visited her.

Capt. MacMillan, a college professor and a sailor on the northern seas for 23 years, declares this tribe to be physically keener and with minds above the average man.

"This Smith Sound tribe of Northern Greenland lives entirely on meat," he said. "The people have discovered that the vitamin necessary to prevent scurvy is in raw meat."

"They intermarry within their immediate families without any of the dire results, such as insanity or malformed children prophesied by our scientists."

"Their ears and eyes and other senses are more keen than any domesticated dog's and their minds are grapple with problems that have never been solved by our thinkers."

Spring Hats To Have One Brim Of Importance

New Head Gear Is Said To Be Much One Sided

By ALICE LANGELEIR
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Spring hats are going to be brim full of chic, but this means one side only. One-sided brims are the rule for first early bonnets now appearing, or at any rate, one brim must be longer and more important than the other.

Gaby Monro, one of Paris' smartest modistes, is showing a new model in white yedda with the brim turned off the face and trimmed with grosgrain ribbon in two shades of blue. An ocean-blue picot straw has a speckled pheasant quill laid across the upturned front of the brim which is much longer on the right side.

Fatou makes a one-sided shape in linen blue sateen with novel trimming of pink and blue galalith buttons and the edge overturned in pink thread.

Dressier brimmed hats will have tricky effects, as for instance brims quite long in front or in back but not in both places. Cloches will have three or four inch brims this spring and most of them have their crowns so shallow that the brim, often wired, stands up from the forehead in bonnet effect.

There will also be many draped, knotted and pinched brims, in fact, every kind of brim that Madame wants. Very popular is the brim with the length at back of the neck and lifted to simulate a bandeau in front. It is not wide at the sides.

In Paris the chic Parisienne is wearing:

Little toques of black, gray or brown astrakhan in shaded tones, slightly lifted at the sides and polished on the back of the head showing only a bid of very carefully waved hair.

An original toque of wool encrusted with astrakhan, recalls the to-reador's cap. The clip is posed on the hair and holds the little veil of large mesh.

Silk stockings in sombre tones, brown and smoke-gray, of very fine mesh and without side "clocks." Up to the present season, the Parisienne has always stuck to her "grisottes."

Soft black suede gloves, very supple and wide at the wrist, folded back to show a white lining. Afternoon frocks of crepe de chine in two contrasting tones, blue and white, black and white, rose and black, brown and champagne, the lighter tone forming a kind of yoke-piece and the sleeves.

The diamond clip holds the decollete draped over the lingerie corsage for afternoon gowns and on evening gowns is worn in the center of the back.

A great deal of brown antelope bag and shoes matching the fur of the coat or its trimming.

Held as Slayer

"Let me alone or I'll drill you!" These are the words which witnesses told a Los Angeles court Julia Tapia (above), a native of Spain, uttered, when it is alleged she fired a bullet through the breast of Manuel Quintana as he clung to the running board of her auto. She has been held on a charge of first degree murder.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

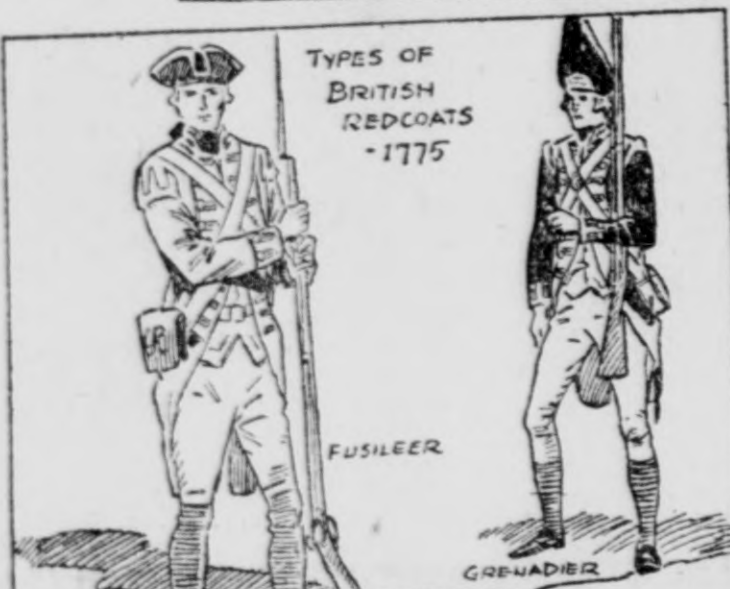

1. Benedict Arnold—Arnold And Montgomery Before Quebec

NOVEMBER 13, 1775, BENEDICT ARNOLD ARRIVED AT THE BANK OF THE ST. LAWRENCE OPPOSITE QUEBEC. MONTGOMERY HAD NOT YET ARRIVED, AND ARNOLD FOUND HIS OWN LITTLE ARMY OF 700 OPPOSED BY NEARLY TWICE AS MANY BRITISH TROOPS IN THE CITY.

THE GARRISON OF QUEBEC WAS GREATLY STRENGTHENED WHEN GOVERNOR CARLETON, WITH A BRITISH FORCE, ELUDED MONTGOMERY AND RETREATED INTO THE CITY.
(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

EVEN WHEN MONTGOMERY FINALLY JOINED ARNOLD BEFORE QUEBEC THE MOTLEY AMERICAN ARMY BARELY EQUALLED THE NUMERICAL STRENGTH OF THE BRITISH FORCES IN THE CITY, WHICH HAD THE ADVANTAGES OF A STRONG NATURAL POSITION, HEAVIER ARTILLERY, ABUNDANT SUPPLIES AND A FLEET.

ILL PREPARED TO LAY SIEGE TO THE ENEMY'S STRONGHOLD, AND WITH THE ENLISTMENTS OF A LARGE PORTION OF THEIR ARMY ABOUT TO EXPIRE, MONTGOMERY AND ARNOLD RESOLVED TO ATTACK QUEBEC AT ONCE AND ATTEMPT TO TAKE THE CITY BY STORM.

New Castle Defeats Ellwood City, 23-11

Locals Look Impressive In Defeating Blue And White Quint Tuesday

Uram Brothers Star For New Castle; Victory Is Sixteenth Straight

Before one of the largest crowds of the season the New Castle high school undefeated quintet registered its 16th straight victory on Tuesday night at senior high gymnasium when the local W. P. I. A. L. contenders handed Ellwood City high a 23-11 setback in a Section Three contest. Having toppled this threatening hurdle, New Castle will now prepare for its hardest battle of the season on Friday night with Butler high.

The large crowd which jammed its way to the local court to watch the contest was given a real basketball treat in the first period when the Tube City cagers opened up with a puzzling attack that had the local boys guessing for a while. Ellwood City played a sweet brand of ball in the opening canto, holding the Coach Bridenbaugh boys to a 5-2 score.

After two minutes of play N. Uram sank a pretty shot from near mid-floor. This same Uram made two fouls to give the locals a five-point lead. Latiano sank a foul for the visiting team. Kennedy made one of two fouls as the quarter ended, 5-2, New Castle leading.

In the second quarter Ellwood City continued to play the same kind of basketball it had demonstrated in the initial session until the latter part of the quarter when the local passers sank in two field goals in 11-2 with the locals still holding the top berth. N. Uram made one out of two fouls in this quarter while Lasky registered a pretty shot from the foul line. Reiber, New Castle's new guard, dribbled the length of the floor for his goal in this period and also sank a foul.

Ellwood City failed to account for any markers in this quarter. In the third quarter the senior high boys came back strong, scoring 10 more points which gave the Tin City a healthy lead, as the third period ended 21-2. The Tube City boys were held scoreless in this chapter also. In this quarter John Uram made two spectacular shots from the side. Andy Lasky accounted for another goal and a foul. J. Shaffer made a double decker under the basket for New Castle's other two points. The score at the end of the third quarter favored New Castle 21-2.

Ellwood City Scores.
The Ellwood City boys tried desperately to score in the New Castle boys and finally came through with their first field goal in the fourth quarter when Rossman made a goal on a follow up shot. Cloak soon followed suit with a goal from the center of the court. Dudick sank in two pretty shots from near the center of the court as the contest ended 23-11 New Castle the winner. N. Uram scored the local team's two points on a shot near the foul line. Coach Bridenbaugh was pleased with the exhibition his boys gave last night. So were the fans who watched the contest. Ellwood City played a good game but was pitted against a better quintet. The victory Tuesday night was an important one for New Castle.

The contest insured the senior high cagers a deadlock in Section Three should Butler turn the locals down next Friday night at Butler. Coach Bridenbaugh with two days left to drill his boys in preparation for the important tilt Friday, will give his team careful consideration. A victory over Butler will mean the Section Three title and the 17th straight victory of the present season.

For New Castle the playing of John and Nick Uram featured. Reiber also played well at guard. For the Ellwood City cagers the playing of Dudick featured. The crowd that watched the game last night was one of the biggest of the season.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 18.—White boxing gloves will be used in the Micky Walker-Johnny Risko battle here next Tuesday. "Pa" Stribling announced today. The innovation, it was claimed, will give the referee as well as the spectators a better chance to follow the blows.

New Castle Maidens Tumble Ellwood City

Senior High Sextets Look Good In 31-18 Victory Over Ellwood City

Taking an early lead and holding it throughout the contest, an impressive New Castle high school girls floor team defeated the fast Ellwood City maidens by a 31-18 score in the preliminary game to the New Castle-Ellwood City contest at senior high floor on Tuesday evening.

In the first period the Coach Sal McGoun team piled up a 11-4 lead and at the half were on top by a 21-10 score. Miss Byers at the forward post for New Castle played a whale of a game caging eight baskets while Miss Confer connected for three goals and another over-head shot which counted for one point.

Miss Keck at the guard position played well for the locals. For Ellwood City the playing of Sibole and Jordan was the best for the defeated Ellwood maidens. The New Castle girls evened up for a defeat at the hands of the Tube City combination earlier in the season.

The summary follows:
New Castle 31 Ellwood City 18

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP NOW A POLITICAL OFFICE

Cangey Eligible For State Bouts

KILBANE CLAIMS HE IS EXCITABLE

Principle means a lot regardless of what business or sport a man may be pursuing, but Paris Kid Cangey demonstrated principle when he fought Mickey Duris Monday night. Paris may have lost the award but the fight fans who know him best are of the opinion that it may not be long until he will again meet Duris and they would not be surprised were he to reverse the verdict.

Cangey has been out of ring service for some time and while his physical condition was tip-top his timing was bad and we believe that had he carried the fight to Duris instead of waiting to counter on the Johnston battler he would have fared much better. In other words, Cangey should have crowded Duris and by so doing would probably have got a chance to use his hooks at close range.

Paris had failed to comply with some of the regulations of the state athletic commission and was suspended. Ed Fritz discussed the ban with Cangey and Jimmy Dime and Paris agreed to do anything Fritz asked and he was told to meet the requirements of the commission, which he did. He promised to do so and the ban was lifted.

While the crowd of 1000 was trekking into the bowl Cangey arrived and noted the bowl was not packed. "I don't care. I'm here to fight and to go through with whatever I promised. I'm going to do my best." There is no doubt he did and with plenty of future boxing he can do much better.

After the fight Cangey paid his fine, which amounted to $50, to the deputy boxing commissioner and as a result of his keeping his word he is now eligible to appear anywhere in the states of Pennsylvania and New York and it looks as though Jimmy Dime will book him in nearby cities. When he gets going right he will tackle Duris again in hopes of reversing the decision.

Talking about reaction, take the case of Johnny Banko, the up and coming Slavish lad, who turned in one-round knockout over Billy Frenkel. Very few fans anticipated a one-round victory. After the fight Johnny walked to his dressing room. A brother patted him on the shoulder.

Westminster Faces Thiel In Home Game Saturday Night

Lutherans Will Force Titans To Limit In Contest

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—Tired, but happy, Coach "Pops" Harrison's Westminster College basketball team returned yesterday from their brilliant conquest of Bethany at Bethany, West Virginia. Drills scheduled for tonight are necessarily light, but tomorrow night will find the Westminster squad going at top speed in preparation for the threatening invasion by Thiel here Saturday night.

The Lutherans openly boast that they plan to complete the job they started on the Titans in the Thiel gym two weeks ago when they all but nosed out the Titans. Coach Benson's team will offer a very serious threat to the Titans in their determined bid for district honors, so Saturday night's game looms very important indeed.

But the Titans players are determined to keep Thiel from duplicating the humiliating thing of holding them scoreless while they chalked up 11 points in the Greenville game. Every man on the Westminster resolved that night at Greenville to play a better brand of ball against the Lutherans when they travel to New Wilmington. With Douglas back in scoring stride, with Rice and Fisher continuing their great defensive work with Blamer a very excellent substitute guard, with Brownlee continuing to set the pace for opposing centers; and with Kocheran, Hamas, Silander, Newton, Considine, and Bobby all improving in scoring, the Titans will give Thiel plenty of competition Saturday.

Pipgras' Illness Tough Blow To Yankee Pennant Hopes

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Artist

Possible loss of George Pipgras, ace Yankee hurler, until mid-season has given Manager Joe McCarthy's pennant plans a terrific blow.

McCarthy was depending on Pip. George was expected to shoulder a great part of the hurling burden this year. And it is good pitching that McCarthy needs most if he is to take his charges past Washington and the Athletics, not to mention Cleveland, in the 1931 flag battle!

Now comes news that Pip will be unavailable possibly until June, surely until late May, due to an attack of appendicitis. And it is in the early spring games that McCarthy hoped to get a jump on his rivals.

Without Pip until the race nears the half-way mark McCarthy must rely on Herb Pennock, who is well on the down grade from his heights of greatness, and Charley Ruffing, Ed Wells, Roy Sherid, Henry Johnson, a quartet of fairly dependable, but not expected to set the league afire.

Of course, Jim Weaver or young McEvoy or any one of the other youngsters such as Vernon Gomez, the Coast league star, may come through in grand style and give Joe the help he expected from Pip. But that's small comfort to a manager who has just lost his ace for two months and possibly three.

Loss of Pipgras has spurred the Yankee ownership to desperate effort to obtain an experienced hurler. But as this is written they have been unsuccessful chiefly because no other American league club cares to see a rival team strengthened, especially in a tight race as the 1931 American league gallop promises to be.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Harry Leibold who has been at the helm of Columbus, A. A. Club for several years will manage the team again this year according to Larry Macphail, new owner of the club. The team will train at Lakeland, Fla.

Erie will make an application for a franchise in the New York-Pennsylvania league.

William F. Carey, Madison Square garden, has not selected the site of the Schmelling-Stribling fight.

Rene La Coste, French tennis ace, underwent an appendix operation in Paris yesterday.

Volley Ball Team Opposes Tarentum In Match Tonight

Local Association's Game With Visiting "Y" Team To Prove Interesting

The New Castle "Y" varsity volleyball team will play a five game match with the Tarentum "Y" varsity tonight at the Y. M. C. A. gym. This is the first time New Castle has played Tarentum "Y" this season and this should be one of the best tilts. New Castle team so far this year has chalked up 28 victories against 10 losses, which in itself is a splendid record.

The New Castle Volley Ball committee is getting ready to forward literature on the Central West district championship tournament for Volley Ball, to be held at the New Castle "Y" sometime in March. The game tonight is free to the public and will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Butler Defeats Mars High, 25-17

Game Friday Between New Castle And Butler Means Title And Deadlock

While the New Castle high team was handing Ellwood City a 23-11 setback, Butler high, New Castle's nearest competitor for Section Three honors was disposing of Mars by a 25-17 score in a game played at Mars. As a result of its impressive victory over Mars, Butler high has a fighting chance of getting a trip to Pitt Stadium.

The victory for the Soap Mines meant that they still trail the Castles by the small margin of one game. All eyes in this section will be focused in Butler Friday night when Coach Bridenbaugh presents his undefeated cagers against Butler high. A victory for New Castle will mean the Section Three title while a defeat will result in a deadlock with Butler for the Section Three honors.

Both Butler and New Castle start practice this afternoon for this important tilt. The Butler boys have been defeated once this season, New Castle turning the trick Butler will be out next Friday night to avenge for the setback and also to get a tie for sectional honors.

New Castle in topping Ellwood City looked good. Ellwood City presented one of the best defense seen this season at Senior high. New Castle earned every one of those 23 markers. Zelenople won his first game of the season on Tuesday night defeating Evans City. The defeat placed Evans City in the cellar berth.

Allegheny Tops Thiel 32 To 24

(International News Service)
MEADVILLE, Pa., Feb. 18.—Allegheny College's badly crippled floor team today held a triumph over the Thiel passers, 32-24, after an uneven game here last night. Titans-Bethany Tied For Lead

Pitt Only Undefeated Team In District But Have Only Played Three Games

Westminster's tall Titans and the pesky Bisons of Bethany are the real leaders of the Tri-State District today. The teams have won seven and lost one game apiece. The Pitt Panthers are rated at the top of the heap with three victories and no defeats, but their abbreviated district program causes them to lose their rating.

The season has a few weeks to go yet and anything can happen, but it is going to take a mighty sweat ball club to dislodge either Westminster or Bethany from the top of the heap. Incidentally the Titans and Bisons are also tied for Tri-State Conference lead.

It was Westminster's startling 31 to 29 victory on Monday night at West Virginia that gave them the rating. Prior to Monday night the Bisons had a nine game winning streak, but it is too bad now.

KEEPING IT HOT

Stove League Gossip

Mr. Rogers Hornsby, arriving on the Pacific coast to complete Cub training plans on Catalina Island, was immediately surrounded by questioning scribes. So the Rajah found a comfortable divan and did some talking.

"You know what would be a great thing?" he asked. "The Yanks and the Cubs clashing in the world series. That would be swell." The scribes agreed, remembering that Joe McCarthy, whom the Rajah succeeded as Cub boss, is now the Yankee pilot.

"The Yanks are a good team. And Joe is a smart, capable manager. Nothing would please me better than to get into the fall classic with Joe the generalissimo of the friendly enemies."

Having paid his compliments to his erstwhile chieftain, Hornsby turned to his favorite topic, his own team, the Cubs.

"Put it down in good sized type," he said, "that the Cubs are an even better ball club right now than they were last year. Our mound staff has been strengthened and I think a weakness there was the reason we didn't make it two straight flags last season."

Hornsby declared emphatically that he expected to play many games next season. "And all this bunk," he said, "about some of the Cubs being dissatisfied is just that—bunk!"

"I'm sure every man will hustle for me as he did for Joe. I think they proved that when in the final days of the season they smacked over the Reds and then knocked the White Sox for a row in the city series. Don't worry about the Cubs—just watch them!"

der and remarked: "Good work, Johnny." Instead of laughing Johnny burst into tears. He placed his head on his brother's shoulder and cried. Ed Fritz sent all but Banko from the room then closed the door and let Johnny cry it out. It was only hysteria.

A young chap, a brother so it is reported, watched Frankie Frey battle Joe Midway. On one occasion when Frankie had been knocked down the lad yelled hysterically then pleaded for Frankie to get up. Of course everyone knew he would. Very few boxers allow brothers to act as seconds in their corners. They become too sensitive of what is going on and in trying times lose their head. That is the reason why boxers as a rule accept someone outside the family to handle them in the ring. Brotherly love sometimes costs them victories.

Jack Dempsey visited Lorrain last Saturday night and the outpouring of fans was not so good. In fact Jack refused to take the money he was to be paid. At Erie the crowd did not come up to expectations. His price for refereeing varies, but he never, it is reported, puts a promoter in a hole.

There is some talk of Johnny Kilbane joining Jack Dempsey's traveling party. Johnny and Jack are great pals. The report might be erroneous but from what has been reported Johnny would referee the semi-finals and Dempsey would handle the main attractions.

After the bout a few nights ago Johnny remarked: "I'm not going in a corner anymore. I'm too extensible. I think I'll stay out." This coming from a young man who won the featherweight championship of the world is somewhat strange.

When he referees, however, the situation is different. We have seen him in some tough spots, both as a fighter and a referee, and he has been at home. It may be that as a referee he feels confident treading around with memories of once he was the greatest 122 pounder the world had.

Duquesne Trime Geneva 28 To 26

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Feb. 18—A gentleman by the name of Wilder, who up until the end of the first half of the contest between Duquesne University's quintet and Geneva College's five, was a substitute and on the bench threw a monkey wrench into the floor plans of the Genevans as he sank a field goal last night just 30 seconds before the game ended to bring victory for the Dukes 28-26.

Although the first half was all Geneva, the Dukes trailing 20-12 at the half-way mark, they combined a powerful offensive with an airtight defense in the second half to provide plenty of thrills for the crowd in evening up the score. Wilder's not so wild basket concluded the hectic evening—climaxing the Duke's comeback.

"I Hope Your Example Will Compel The Adoption Of Sanitary Methods"

Says

DR. THOS. J. McLAUGHLIN

Chairman State Board of Health, State of Rhode Island

THOMAS J. McLAUGHLIN, M. D.
WOONSOCKET, May 21st, 1930.

The American Cigar Company,
411 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen—

Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of "spit" or "Saliva." There are many unsanitary processes still employed in industry which are very difficult to eliminate without the aid of industry itself.

Not only the public officer charged with the responsibility of improving conditions of health generally but every one immediately recognizes that the use of "spit" in the manufacture of cigars is not only unsanitary but has latent dangers to health of great magnitude. I feel it incumbent upon myself, therefore, as a public officer charged with protecting the public health to use this means of telling you that in campaigning against such a method of manufacture you are rendering a public service.

I sincerely hope that your example and your campaign will compel the abandonment of such methods of manufacture of cigars by the industry generally and the adoption by all of the manufacturers of sanitary methods in the manufacture of cigars.

You are at liberty to use this expression of my commendation in the furtherance of your laudable campaign for better sanitation.

Yours very truly,
Thos. J. McLaughlin, M. D.
Chairman State Board of Health
State of Rhode Island.

... one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. McLaughlin's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. McLaughlin writes: "Permit me to commend you for your crusade against the old-fashioned method of cigar making which involved the use of 'spit'."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it... Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.
